Figures for Year Disclosed

[PRIVATE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Effect of the cuts of 1924 Revenue Act during the first year of operation are disclosed in a preliminary statement of internal revenue collections for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, made public today by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

It shows that the actual net decrease in internal revenue collections from the previous fiscal year, including individual and corporation income taxes and excise taxes and miscellaneous taxes, was $112,038,988.82. This means that Congress supposed it was reducing the tax revenues by $330,000,000 to $440,000,000 some have been brought in increased amounts to an extent as to be considerably less. The total internal revenue collections for the fiscal year 1925 amounted to $2,544,184,246.34 as against $2,656,179,267.06 in the fiscal year 1924.

REDUCED RATES

Although Congress cut the maximum rates on individual incomes from 58 per cent to 40 per cent and made substantial cuts all along the line, the net reduction in revenue from income taxes was only $80,000,000. During the first half of the present year the collections from taxes at 25 per cent rates, which the 1924 act put into law on June 2, fell short of those in the corresponding March quarter, applying to 1923 income, during the last half of the year the collections were made at the rates of the present law.

The Treasury chooses a slight increase, notwithstanding that Congress, over the Secretary's protest, increased the estate tax from 25 per cent to 40 per cent. The revenue from this source in the fiscal year was $70,000,000 as against $102,000,000 in the previous year, or a decrease of $32,000,000. The total net collections were $2,544,184,246.34, which was improvement over the year before, but still $71,818,129.32 short of the total which was to have been raised under the rates of the 1924 act. Many persons have contended that this is unworkable and that it will be evaded to a great degree, but that hereafter the

CAILLAUX INDORSED

Cabinet Backs Debt Plan

Unanimous Approval Given on Eve of Departure for America

French Proposal Described as "Gentleman's Offer to Gentlemen"

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Sept. 15.—M. Caillaux, Finance Minister, before a council of the ministers today, presided over by President Doumergue, elaborated the program for the settlement of France's debt to the United States, which he intends to place before the American Debt Commission at Washington the 29th inst.

M. Caillaux's views received the unanimous approval of the Cabinet, and the Finance Minister will leave for New York tomorrow with full authority to deal with the United States.

"A gentleman's offer to gentlemen" is the title under which M. Caillaux's propositions to Washington will be known in French history.

M. Caillaux scored another victory when Louis Malvy, former Minister of the Interior, once banished and later given amnesty by the Senate, was elected president of the Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies today. The first resolution adopted under the new presidency came in response to a motion demanding that France's creditors, naming Rumania, be brought to a settlement of their debts. The resolution read:

"The Finance Committee decides that until the end of the negotiations shortly to be opened at Washington, no move in the inter-allied debts of France shall be made."

M. Caillaux's departure for America has removed the Moroccan war from the front pages of the newspapers. Parliamentary circles which are beginning to gather in the chamber, are outspoken in their opinion that should M. Caillaux come back from Washington with a favorable debt settlement, he will be more popular in France than Marshal Petain returning victorious from Morocco.

SOVIET PLOT SEEN AIMED AT FARMERS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Persistent rumors to the effect that the Russian soviet government is making an attempt to bring about a bad decline in the price of wheat in the United States and Canada in order to create unrest among farmers have been circulated in grain exchange circles here and at Winnipeg for several days.

So persistent have been the rumors that the grain futures administration of the Department of Agriculture started today to try and run down the reports, especially in regard to claims of very large quantities of grain said to be offered by Russia for export abroad, characterized by men closest in touch with conditions in that country as largely propaganda with an ulterior motive in view.

The name of a group of New York speculators, credited with having been heavy sellers of wheat futures recently, has been mentioned in connection with the propaganda talk.

Suspicion that something was wrong with the character of the news coming in from Russia has been gradually growing, not only among grain traders, but also officials of the government for a number of days. The persistency with which sales of wheat made by Russia to Italy and France have been reiterated day after day, has been commented on for some time past.

Official Russian reports of late have reported big crops of wheat and rye, and shipments of 2,000,000 bushels of wheat via the Black Sea ports have been made in the past two weeks. The impression prevails that the wheat exported is to secure gold to carry on the propaganda of unrest.

Coolidge Denies Plea of Rear-Admiral, Who Will Revert to Rank of Captain

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—President Coolidge has declined to approve the application for retirement with his present rank of Rear-Admiral J. K. Robison, Navy chief of engineering, who approved the leasing of Teapot Dome.

On the expiration of his term of duty at the Navy Department, the officer will revert to the rank of captain. Having failed of promotion, he asked to be retired by virtue of his thirty years' service, in which event he would have retained his rank.

COOLIDGE FOR OPEN INQUIRY

President Favors Public Hearings in Aircraft Quiz as Right of People to Know Facts

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A policy of open hearings in the impending aircraft investigation is favored by President Coolidge who sees no reason why the work of his special board should not be conducted in public. The President who has decided to give the board a free hand in determining its procedure and summoning witnesses, feels that the public is entitled to full knowledge of its activities except, perhaps, when it goes into confidential plans for national defense.

In taking this position the executive is directly in line with the views of Acting Secretary Davis of the War Department, who believes such a course will offset the effects of numerous charges made against the Army Air Service, and particularly those by Col. William Mitchell, former assistant army air chief, in diminishing public confidence in the air arm.

Mr. Davis today expressed the opinion that many persons are prone to accept at face value the charges of "incompetency and inefficiency" made by Col. Mitchell, and that for this reason he welcomes the investigation.

Secretary Wilbur also took occasion today to reiterate his indorsement of the coming inquiry and express the willingness of the Navy Department to co-operate to the fullest extent. During the day he received a call from Rear-Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, retired, a member of the board, but neither gave any intimation of what was discussed.

The American Society for Promotion of Aviation, in a letter to the President today, protested against the selection of Howard E. Coffin of Detroit as a board member.

The communication, signed by Thomas Hill, president of the society, congratulated Mr. Coolidge on naming the board, but said the "presence of one member, Mr. Howard E. Coffin, will breed mistrust in the minds of the public, and to a great extent, defeat the purpose for which the board was created."

Way Cleared in Deep Snow for Train of Wales

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VALPARAISO, Sept. 15.—Strenuous efforts by officials of the Trans-Andean Railway, who used all the road's snow-fighting equipment and hundreds of workers, cleared the line sufficiently to permit the special train carrying the Prince of Wales to leave Vapariaso early today. In many places the snow is twelve feet deep. The weather continues threatening.

The Prince will stay a few days in Buenos Aires and then board the warship Repulse for his homeward voyage. His South American visit has brought the highest mark of respect from the different governments visited. British newspapers and English-language newspapers in Buenos Aires and Chile assert that the Prince is the best trade booster the British Empire has.

M'NAMARA JURY CHOSEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 15.—A jury was selected late today in the Marion county Criminal Court to hear the evidence in the trial of John J. McNamara, business agent of the Bridge, Ornamental and Structural Iron Workers' Local Union No. 33, charged with blackmail in connection with union labor trouble here about a year ago. The twelfth man was selected at 4 p.m. and immediately sworn in by Judge Fred C. Gause, who adjourned court until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

McNamara has, for his legal battle, two of the best attorneys who practice in this city—Charles E. Cox, former justice of the Supreme Court of Indiana, and Fred McAllister.

It was said today that Eph Inman, veteran criminal lawyer, who is assisting Mr. Remy in the prosecution, has been retained by the Associated Employers of Indianapolis, an organization of officials of companies employing large groups of workers. Throughout the day prospective jurors came and were dismissed with monotonous regularity. For a time a reproof from special Judge Fred C. Gause, presiding in the case, speeded up the questioning of the jurors. He declared that attorneys for the State and Defense were consuming too much time in their examination.

Only six men who were in the jury box when court adjourned last night remained late this afternoon. Seven peremptory challenges were utilized by the State. This is a proof of the unusual care with which Prosecuting Attorney Remy is selecting the jurymen for the McNamara case. Even in important murder cases he seldom exercises more than two or three of his possible ten peremptory challenges.

Six peremptory challenges were used by the defense.

Judge Gause permitted the jurors to go to their homes and will continue to do so during the trial.

The opening statement for the State will be made tomorrow morning by Mr. Remy.

MANY BID ON AIR MAIL

Competition for Routes Keen

Seventeen Submit Proposals for Contracts Under New Law Regulations

Two Propositions Received on Los Angeles-Seattle and Salt Lake Runs

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Considerable competition for contracts to carry air mail on the eight new routes proposed by the Postoffice Department was shown in bids opened late today by Postmaster-General New.

Ten commercial aircraft organizations submitted a total of seventeen bids on the eight services, with at least one bidder for each of the routes. The rates of compensation asked by the bidders ranged from 80 per cent of the postage, the maximum payment permitted by the new air mail contract law, down to 55 per cent under a blanket proposal conditioned upon the granting of contracts for four routes running out of Chicago.

LOCAL ROUTES BID FOR

Two bids were received for the Los Angeles-Seattle route, as follows: Western Air Express, Inc., Los Angeles, 80 per cent of the postage derived, proposing to use Stout all-metal planes; Wyley F. Crist, San Francisco, 75 per cent of postage derived, providing 800 pounds of mail daily each way for a period of three years, using Wright J-4 planes.

For the Salt Lake-Los Angeles route, two bids were submitted, as follows: Western Air Express, Inc., Los Angeles, 80 per cent of postage derived; the Ontario Aircraft Corporation, Ontario, Cal., 75.1 per cent of postage derived, using Boeing model S planes.

For the Elko-Pasco route, one bid was submitted; Walter T. Varney, San Francisco, 80 per cent of postage derived, proposing to use two planes with two in reserve.

DECISION TO BE DELAYED

Postmaster-General New indicated it would be some time before an announcement of the successful bidders could be made.

"There were a surprisingly large number of bidders," he said. "It is by no means a foregone conclusion that the apparently low bidder will get the business. Many important factors are concerned. Human life is at stake, the question of capital responsibility is involved and, of course, the ability to carry the mails on schedule.

"The Postoffice Department will scrutinize every proposal, having in mind not only the language of the Kelly bill, but also the departmental regulations covering aid-mail bidding and the administration's policy of doing everything wise and consistent in the establishing of commercial aviation. It would be most unfortunate were our first efforts at private air transport of the mails to end in the loss of life or predetermined failure due to insufficient capital or operating resources."

BROADCAST BAN SOUGHT BY HOOVER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Secretary Hoover, with some reluctance, intends to ask the National Radio Conference, which will be assembled within the next six or eight weeks, to lay down a program for regulating and restricting broadcasting.

The trend in the field, he said today, has made some Federal regulation, probably backed up by legislation, seemingly necessary.

"We have now nearly 600 broadcast stations operating and we know that there are about 100 additional building or in prospect," the Secretary said.

"We have to proceed now to divide time allotted to even the finest broadcasting stations, as well as to those of lesser serviceability."

HYLAN BEATEN BY WALKER AS AL SMITH TRIUMPHS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Gov. Smith and Tammany scored a smashing victory over Mayor Hylan and William Randolph Hearst in the New York City Mayoralty primary today. State Senator Jimmy Walker, the Tammany candidate for the Democratic nomination for Mayor, defeated Mayor Hylan, who aspired to a third term, with the backing of Hearst, by a majority in the neighborhood of 100,000. The Republicans nominated Frank D. Waterman, millionaire fountain-pen manufacturer and organization candidate, who received a vote several times the combined vote of his two rivals, John J. Lyons and William M. Bennett.

Mayor Hylan was defeated so disastrously that he hardly can expect to make a successful fight for a third term by bolting his party and becoming an independent candidate in the election with the support of the Hearst press. The Mayor retired early tonight after learning of his defeat, refusing to say whether he intends to run as an independent.

WALKER FAR AHEAD

The primary result represents a clean sweep for Tammany of the nominations on the city ticket. Gen. Charles W. Berry, Tammany candidate for Controller, defeated William H. Edwards, better known as Big Bill Edwards, the erstwhile Princeton football star and former Collector of the Port of New York, who was the Hearst-Hylan candidate. Justice Joseph V. McKee, Tammany candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen, also defeated the Hearst-Hylan entry, William A. Cokely.

The nomination of Walker furnished Gov. Smith with another signal political triumph. In Tammany's first battle since the death of Boss Murphy, Gov. Smith won his spurs as the actual leader of that ancient political organization and unhorsed his inveterate enemy Hearst.

SMITH NOW DICTATOR

The Governor is now the undisputed dictator of the Democratic organization in the State and if the Democrats elect their candidate for Mayor, the popular Al as Governor, Tammany chief and ruler by proxy in the City Hall, will wield more political power than any person in the country, save the President of the republic.

His complete victory today means that Gov. Smith can have the Democratic nomination for Senator from New York next year if he wants it and that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1928 with the solid backing of the New York delegation and the delegations from other Atlantic seaboard States.

By the same token the political ambitions of Hearst go glimmering.

Senator Walker beat Hylan on Manhattan Island, Tammany's stronghold, more than 4 to 1. Walker's indicated plurality in Manhattan is close to 80,000.

CARRIES BROOKLYN

Brooklyn was the great surprise to all save the Tammany leaders, who had been declaring all along that Walker would carry the city of churches despite the fact that it is the home of the Mayor and the bailiwick of Boss McCooey, who undertook to put Hylan over for a third term, notwithstanding the opposition of the Tiger.

On the face of the early returns Walker carried Brooklyn by about 6000 majority. When the defeat in Brooklyn became apparent there were snarls of indignation at Hylan headquarters. McCooey was charged with double-crossing the Mayor and playing in with Tammany to shelve Hylan.

Hylan apparently carried only two of the five boroughs of the greater city—Staten Island and Queens, which adjoins Brooklyn on Long Island. Staten Island

It was calculated that approximately 12 per cent of the voters in the district cast their ballots. Felker failed to carry one town and was defeated in his own city.

IMPERIAL TRIAL ORDERED

Directors Held Not Entitled to Spend Fund on Boulder Propaganda, and Demurrer Quashed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL CENTRO, Sept. 15.—Declaring that a board of irrigation district directors have no more right to spend money for political propaganda than does a city or county or any other political subdivision of the State, Judge Ira F. Thompson of Los Angeles, presiding in the Superior Court at El Centre, today overruled the demurrer to the complaint charging malfeasance in office against Directors Mark Rose, Ira Aten, Earl C. Pound and C. W. Brockman.

The action against the directors was ordered by the Imperial county grand jury in July, the complaint charging that over $53,000 had been spent illegally for lobbying purposes in behalf of the Swing-Johnson bill providing for Boulder Canyon dam and an all-American canal.

As a result of his action in prosecuting the cases against the directors, petitions recently were filed asking for an election to recall Dist.-Atty. Ernest Utley. The election has been temporarily held up by a restraining order pending trial of a petition seeking a permanent injunction on the ground that many names on the petitions were secured by fraud and misrepresentation.

In rendering his decision on demurrer to the malfeasance charges today, Judge Thompson said: "An irrigation district is a political subdivision having authority from the State to assess and collect taxes. Unless there is some limitation on the spending of this public money an unscrupulous board of directors might easily tax the people to death.

"The accusations against these directors indicate that they may have overstepped their legal rights, and on this broad, general ground I have decided that the hearing should proceed."

An audit of the books of the district made by the grand jury, disclosed the fact that over $500,000 had been spent by the directors during the last five years in an effort to secure Colorado River development.

DEFEAT CALLED HEAVY BLOW TO HEARST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Mayor Hylan's overwhelming defeat is hazarded here as of tremendous national significance. Not only is this the most overwhelming political defeat ever suffered by William Randolph Hearst, who had backed Hylan to the limit, but it is another remarkable demonstration of the power of Al Smith.

Political experts of both parties here had assumed that Senator Walker, backed by Al Smith and Tammany Hall, would defeat Hylan, but they had not expected any such lead as the Tiger under Smith's leadership, apparently has rolled up. They had frankly figured Hearst's strength as a great deal more potent than the count of ballots has revealed it to be. They are admitting tonight they had overestimated the element of the strength given to Hylan by Hearst four years ago, and underestimated what Tammany and Al Smith had done at that time.

Strong hope is felt that Frank D. Waterman, winner of today's Republican primary, may be elected Mayor of New York. Lacking information as to whether Hearst's man, Hylan, will run independently, leaders hope that he either will do so, and thus draw enough Democratic votes from Walker to insure Waterman's election, or else that in the event he does not, so many of Hylan's supporters and friends will vote for Waterman just to scratch Walker and strike at Al Smith that Waterman will pull through.

But even if Walker should be elected Mayor, leaders of both parties are saying tonight there will be one great compensation, for his election will be a body blow to William Randolph Hearst, and will be a demonstration to the other cities of the country in which he operates newspapers that he does not really possess the magic political power which his papers so loudly boast.

The effect of today's New York primary will be far-reaching on the reorganization of the national Democratic party, still admittedly in the throes, as demonstrated only a few weeks ago by the collapse of the attempt to get out a national Democratic weekly under "harmony" management involving all the factions. Today's victory for Al Smith and defeat of Hearst cannot fail, it is believed, to have a marked effect on the party so far as the influence of these two figures is concerned.

LEADERS COMMENT ON RESULT OF BALLOT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Governor Smith late tonight made the following statement on today's primary:

"The Hearst-Hylan campaign of slander and abuse has been answered by the enrolled members of the Democratic party."

Mayor Hylan tonight, according to the New York Times told a close friend:

"I am getting out of politics with a clean record. I have done my best."

The friend who would not let his name be used, said as he left a party at the Hylan home in Brooklyn, that the Mayor appeared to be in a jovial mood.

George W. Olvany, Tammany leader, said:

"The victory was deserved and is a forerunner of a greater victory in November.

"We have accomplished this result without resorting either to demagogy or mud-slinging."

Mr. McCooey, who was leader of the Hylan forces, made the following statement:

"We concede Walker's nomination and estimate that he will carry Brooklyn by 5000. Mayor Hylan will no doubt be satisfied with the results in Brooklyn. Unfortunately we are overwhelmed in Manhattan and the Bronx. However, we are going to support the winning candidate."

John J. Lyons, former Secretary of State, candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor, just before midnight, sent a telegram to Frank D. Waterman, saying:

"Heartiest congratulations. I stand by the decision of the primary. My coat is off for you and the entire ticket."

William M. Bennett, also a Mayoralty candidate, sent his congratulations and promise of support to Mr. Waterman.

THREE-YEAR-OLD DIES FROM CLOTHING BURNS

LODI, Sept. 15.—Irene Filler, 3 years of age, died today from burns received yesterday when she ignited her clothing while playing with matches, despite the fact that her brother, aged 5 years, quickly put out the flames by playing a garden hose on her.

LINE TO ENTER DALLAS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 15.—The Trinity and Brazos Valley will enter Dallas soon, according to John A. Hulen, receiver for the road. The tracks of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas will be used between Waxahachie and Dallas and arrangements also have been made for the use of the union station and terminals here. The Trinity and Brazos Valley is jointly owned by the Burlington and the Rock Island.

LOSS FROM TAX SLASHES SMALL

TOBACCO JUMPS

The greatest increase in collections on any of the miscellaneous taxes was in the tobacco taxes. The 1924 act made no changes in these taxes. The revenue for the various taxes on tobacco and cigarettes jumped from $325,638,921.14 in the fiscal year 1924 to $345,247,210.98 in the fiscal year 1925, or an increase of $19,608,279.82. Treasury experts ascribe the increase to a greater use of cigarettes, due to prosperous times. The increase from the cigarette tax alone amounted to more than $21,000,000. There was a decrease of about $1,900,000 in revenue from taxes on cigars.

Most of the changes or repeals of excise taxes became effective on July 2, 1924, so that the fiscal year totals give an almost exact comparison of results under the present and former laws.

The change in the admission tax so as to eliminate the tax on admissions below 50 cents resulted in a loss of $46,804,714.51 to the government. Reductions in automobile taxes caused a loss of $3,702,751.89 in revenue from the tax on automobile trucks and automobile wagons; $13,728,987.28 from the tax on other automobiles and motorcycles, and $10,896,224.93 from the tax on tires and automobile parts and accessories. The reduction in the jewelry tax caused a loss of $12,960,990.67.

OTHER LOSSES

By reason of the repeal of the tax on telegraph and telephone messages, the government lost more than $33,000,000, which was collected in the previous year.

The repeal of the tax on candy caused a loss of nearly $12,000,000 in revenue. The repeal of the tax on soft drinks and mineral waters caused a loss of revenue of more than $10,000,000.

Excise taxes, stamp taxes and other special war-time taxes yielded revenue amounting to $326,607,164.67 in the last fiscal year, or a decrease of $163,669,402.56 from the previous year, when the revenue was $490,267,767.53.

PREMONITION GIVEN OF SON'S DISAPPEARANCE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Michael Kuchar, janitress of a tenement building here, heard cats in her yard yowling fiercely the other night. She covered her ears and tried to drown out the sound, she said the next day but the melancholy meowing re-echoed in her mind and awakened a premonition that something dreadful was going to happen.

Subsequently she went to the Clinton-street Police Station and reported that her son George, 9 years of age, was missing. The father had given George a dime to go to the film show with his sister Lily, 8. Lily returned home but George stayed on. When he failed to appear for supper, his family got worried and, with neighbors and friends, searched the neighborhood but in vain.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 15.—M. P. R. Cabeleira of Oakland today was elected president of the I.D.E.S., a Portuguese fraternal order, at the thirty-third annual convention in session here. M. R. Marcos of Pinole was elected vice-president.

CHINESE CAUGHT IN FEDERAL NET

Government Agents Round Up Gangster Suspects

New York's Chinatown in Panic Over Drive

Tongs' Peace Pact Fails to Halt Campaign

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—All-night activities by Federal authorities in their round-up of suspected undesirables in Chinatown, which netted a total of 500 Chinese, resulted today in 134 being sent to Tombs Prison to await removal to Ellis Island for deportation.

Dozens of the suspects were found with white women who said they were the men's wives.

Chinatown was wildly excited throughout the night, as Federal authorities rounded up suspects singly and in groups, taking them to the Federal Building for questioning.

ACTION UNPRECEDENTED

The round-up, unprecedented in its extent, came within a few hours after leaders of On Leong and Hip Sing tongs had signed a peace treaty calling for a truce in the tong warfare which has caused the deaths of a dozen tongmen within the last few weeks. Federal officials have announced their determination of weeding out every Chinese who remains in this city in violation of the Exclusion Act.

Most of the men held for deportation proceedings today are seamen who had overstayed their leaves.

The Hip Sing clubroom in Pell street was one of the places raided.

Symbolic of a lasting peace, a chicken was killed with a hatchet in Chinatown. The truce was signed at midnight by national leaders of the tongs meeting in the offices of Zing Ling Chang, Chinese Concul-General, with police and officials of the Chinese Benevolent Association, a merchants' organization.

The peace conference was deadlocked for several hours. Acting Captain John Archipoli of the gangster squad, the arbiter, said that the tong leaders' differences were too trivial to warrant indiscriminate slaughter.

It developed that the chief bone of contention was the interchange of members between the tongs. The pact provides that a member of either tong may withdraw and become a member of the other providing that the secretaries of the tongs are notified and that the application for membership is published in a Chinese paper.

The telegram sent out over the signatures of tong leaders said:

"Peace has been signed. All relations are friendly. Notify all members. Letters of confirmation will follow."

RAIDS CONTINUE

Mr. Buckner revealed that leaders of both tongs had offered to sign a peace if he would stop the raids. He said he spurned the offer. The raids continuing after announcement of the armistice threw Chinese leaders into panic.

Twenty-five agents of the Department of Justice picked up every Chinese on the street, raiding boarding houses and roused the occupants from bed, grabbing waiters in chop suey restaurants without giving them time to remove their aprons and tore others from the objecting arms of their white wives.

Many protesting white women had papers presuming to show that they are married legally but their husbands were taken to the Federal Building just the same. One young white blonde was successful in having her husband released when she produced a marriage license.

MURDERER KILLED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

TIRANA (Albania) Sept. 15.—Ali Quenami, convicted as one of the murderers of the Americans, Robert Louis Coleman, Jr., and George B. De Long, has been killed by gendarmes while trying to escape.

Quenami, convicted of complicity in five other murders, was under sentence to be hanged. Four of those charged with assassinating Coleman and De Long still are at large.

Robert Louis Coleman, Jr., of San Francisco and George B. De Long of New York, were killed in Albania in April, 1924, while on a business trip. The murders were at first attributed to bandits, but the Albanian government later hinted that the crime was of a political nature with the object of embarrassing Albania. Extraordinary measures were taken to capture the criminals, and a dispatch last December said sentences of death had been returned against five men.

BOMBAY (British India) Sept. 15.—Twenty thousands operatives employed in twelve mills went on strike today in protest against wage reductions. Crowds of strikers stoned the mills.

SAYS EX-MATE JILTED HER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—What is believed to be the first breach-of-promise suit ever brought by a divorced woman against her former husband was filed in Circuit Court today by Mrs. Marguerite L. Sofield of Oak Park, against Armand Sofield, president of the American Sash and Door Company. The suit asks $25,000 damages.

The Sofields were married in 1914 and five years later the wife secured a divorce, charging extreme cruelty. A year later Sofield attempted a reconciliation and proposed matrimony, according to the bill filed today. His proposal was accepted, but in less than a month his ardor cooled, says Mrs. Sofield.

CHARGE LAD ATTEMPTED EXTORTION

Husband Asks Warrant for Mate's ex-Husband; Says He Was Threatened

Search wa sbeing made last night by police for Eddie Douglas, 19 years of age, who is charged by W. R. Wright, 356 Glass street, with having attempted to extort money from him after allowing his wife, Mrs. Ruth Douglas, to become Wright's bride.

Wright, accompanied by the woman's father, Joseph Gold, appeared at the police station last night, and told of how Douglas had allowed his bride to marry again. And then of how Douglas had attempted to get money from Wright by threatening him with arrest.

According to Wright, he, accompanied by Mrs. Douglas, met Eddie at Fourth and Main streets last night. Douglas showed Wright a revolver and threatened him if he did not hand over $500, according to Wight's story. Wight pleaded that he had no money and Douglas left him. Then Wright went to the home of his "father-in-law" and the two reported the case to the police. Search is also being made for the woman.

RUM CACHE ON CATALINA IS REPORTED

Officers Make Quick Run on Tip Wet Cargo Is En Route to Island

A tip that rum runners were to land a big cache of liquor late last night resulted in George Contreras, liquor enforcement officer working out of the District Attorney's office, and six of his men making a hurried trip to Catalina Island.

Contreras reported on his arrival at Avalon that he understood the rum runners were to land the liquor on the island to store until "things opened up on the mainland."

Engaging a patrol boat, Contreras made a speedy inspection trip around the island last night but his search was in vain. He said he and his men will keep on watch all night to capture the rum runners.

Contreras's trip was to the effect that the runners would land on the island a 250-case liquor cargo.

Wolves Attack Russia Towns in Broad Daylight

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Wolves and other wild beasts, emboldened by seven years' respite from guns and hounds, are attacking Russian villages in broad daylight, says the Morning Post. In cattle breeding areas the damage inflicted by the wolves is estimated by soviet authorities as 25 per cent of the young cattle and 15 per cent of the cattle generally.

In two months wolves have destroyed more than 1,000,000 head of cattle. All along the banks of the Volga and as far west as Moscow Province, the damage from these casualties is increasing. Villages are barricaded at sunset like camps in the wilderness, children have been attacked on their way to school and even workers in the fields have had to flee for their lives.

streets of Paris if the United States continues its "Shylock policy."

"People do not pay tribute to another people for sixty-two years," M. Bainville writes. "We had better get that in our head. It did not work with Germany in the Versailles Treaty, and reparations and the A.B.C. bonds, payable by three generations, according to a system invented by the Anglo-Saxons, were a complete fiasco.

"The Anglo-Saxons have recommended the same error with us. You must not know man if you think that in 1987 they will still inscribe credits in a budget to pay creditors. Before then there may be some disagreeable occurrences happen to American tourists in the streets of Paris, exactly like what happened to Frenchmen in the streets of Berlin when we were still trying to force Germany to pay reparations.

"Are the American experts who are determining our capacity of payment sure that France will exist in 1987? We escaped luckily in 1914. We are not sure that we shall always be able to offer a battle of the Marne to our creditors. Who knows what wars, revolutions, migrations and industrial transformations may happen? Who knows what the dollar will be worth sixty-two years hence. After the Civil War the dollar was not very dear.

"We had better be careful of the optimistic news cabled from Washington."

MEMENTOS OF WAR SACRIFICE SENT BORAH

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, Sept. 15.—A tin hat belonging to one of Verdun's veterans, seven wooden legs and one American decoration were left at the American Embassy today by a delegation of French soldiers to be forwarded to United States Senator Borah.

Lieut. Pierre Hericourt, chief of the delegation, told First Secretary Hallet Johnson that on the eve of the departure of the French Debt Commission to the United States they wished to remind Senator Borah that he must take into consideration the 1,500,000 of France's war dead and maimed.

The American decoration was the distinguished service cross granted to a French soldier for saving the life of an American officer in the Argonne.

"I don't want it any more," the soldier informed Secretary Johnson.

ITALIANS SURE OF REACHING AGREEMENT

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

ROME, Sept. 15.—The American Ambassador, Henry P. Fletcher, was received today by Premier Mussolini, dined with Finance Minister Count Volpi and had long conversations with both.

The conversations dealt with the Italian war debt to the United States and Mr. Fletcher expressed conviction that the question will be settled satisfactorily to both countries.

Count Volpi expects to arrive in the United States about October 22, by which time he believes the American negotiations with the French will have been concluded.

The Italian Finance Minister is convinced that he will be able to reach an agreement with the Americans. He wants to assure them that he will not attempt any Machiavellian methods but as a business man will go straight to the core of the problem.

RUMANIA APPROVES AMERICAN DEBT POLICY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, Sept. 15.—M. Titulescoo, Rumanian Minister to Great Britain, who probably will head the Rumanian Debt Mission to the United States, said today that his country approved the American policy regarding war debts.

"We mean to pay our debts to America honestly," he said, "and are asking that our capacity for payment shall be taken into consideration."

FALSE OIL-BILLING CASES TO BE ENDED

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE AGREES TO TERMINATE ELKINS-ACT SUITS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The Department of Justice has agreed to terminate immediately the litigation involving charges of false billing against the General Petroleum Corporation and the Utah Oil Company.

The cases resulted from indictments returned in Southern California in 1924, charging the companies with violation of the Elkins Act in selling a certain commodity as petroleum gas oil instead of gasoline. Since the indictments were returned, the Director-General of Railroads has brought suits against them to recover alleged underpayments on account of the asserted false billing and the fact that these suits are pending influenced the Department of Justice to acquiesce in suggestions that its litigation be ended.

The director-general and the Interstate Commerce Commission have concurred in the action of the department, it was understood, although there was no official statement on the case, that the companies would be allowed to plead nole contendere to the indictments, pay fines of $7500 each, and pay all of the undercharges to the director-general.

H. OELRICHS WEDS MISS HAYDEL ABROAD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Hermann Oelrichs, lawyer and member of a wealthy New York family, was married to Miss Dorothy Haydel of St. Louis, in Biarritz, France, last Tuesday, it was learned today. Their engagement was announced by the young woman's family last May. Mr. Oelrichs is a son of the late Hermann Oelrichs, who was for many years American agent of the North German Lloyd line, and he is a nephew of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. His mother was the daughter of the late James G. Fair of California. Miss Haydel has spent much of her time at Santa Barbara, Cal.

VERA CRUZ ASSEMBLY DEPUTY SHOT TO DEATH

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15.—Dispatches today from Jalapa, capital of the State of Vera Cruz, report that Deputy Francisco Moreno, a member of the State Legislature, has been killed by soldiers in the National Palace at Jalapa. According to these messages, Moreno apparently became suddenly insane, and began firing a gun at the persons in the crowded corridors. When guards intervened the Deputy turned his gun upon them. The soldiers shot and killed him.

BLACK RACE LAYS CLAIM TO JUDAISM

Two Colored Rabbis Have Converted 400 of Our People at Chicago Temple

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Orthodox Jews, chancing to drop in at the Temple of the Gospel of the Kingdom at 1850 West Lake street were amazed to hear two negro rabbis telling a congregation of several hundred negroes that they alone, are the real Jews.

A week ago this congregation broke into the limelight with the trial of Elizabeth Miller, accused of soliciting funds under false pretenses. At that time Rabbi David Lazarus and Rabbi Cains Elkins appeared in court in defense of the girl and their cause. So convincing were their arguments that the girl was released and she and her friends continued the work of soliciting funds for relief work among Chicago negros.

The temple functions at night only. During the day the rabbis are out soliciting funds for the maintenance of the temple and entertaining new members. Rabbi Dunn, a gigantic negro or great size, says Rabbi Lazarus and Stifom came to Chicago directly from Jerusalem, where they learned the doctrins they are teaching. In New York the negro people has a congregation of several thousand. The work in Chicago began four months ago and approximately 400 negros have been converted.

At night the temple is filled with men on one side and women on the other. After the singing of several hymns, the two rabbis, who are eloquent speakers, lay down the "truth" to their hearers, stressing the assertion that negros are the original Jews.

FINGER PRINTS FAIL TO IDENTIFY DEAD MAN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DUBUQUE (Iowa) Sept. 15.—Finger-prints of John Doe, found dead on the river front here Wednesday, do not tally with those of "Dutch" Anderson, notorious gunman, it was announced at noon today after positive identification by finger-print inspectors at police headquarters in Chicago. The finger-prints were sent here by Postal Inspector Rush D. Simmons after it was found that the dead man answered Anderson's description.

HARDING EVENT SET FOR TODAY

Good Will Memorial to be Unveiled at Vancouver

More Than 1000 Delegates Expected to Attend

Monument Cost Defrayed by 95,000 Kiwanians

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 15. As a tribute to the international good will and understanding between Canada and the United States the Harding Good Will Memorial will be unveiled at Stanley Park in this city tomorrow. More than 1000 delegates from all over the continent are expected to be in the city for the occasion.

Senator Willis of Ohio, who took Harding's place in the Senate, will represent the United States at the unveiling, while Canada will be represented by Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Federal Minister of Public Works and M. P. from British Columbia.

The monument was paid for with the voluntary subscription of 95,000 members of Kiwanis International.

When the proposal to erect a Harding memorial was brought to the thousands of Kiwanis delegates at the Denver convention in 1924 it met unanimous approval. Members of the Harding Memorial Committee appointed in July, 1924, were: John H. Moss, Milwaukee, Wis., now president of Kiwanis International; Victor M. Johnson, Rockford, Ill., immediate past president of the organization; Edmond F. Arras, Columbus, O., past president, and Douglas J. Scott, Winnipeg, Canada, international trustee.

Three cities were first suggested as a site, namely Washington, D. C., Marion O., the late President's home, and Vancouver.

The fact that it was in Stanley Park, Vancouver, that President Harding, a few days before his death, had made his historic good will speech—the first ever delivered by a President of the United States during his term of office on foreign soil—settled the question in favor of this Canadian city.

The design of the memorial is semicircular, set with an elevated center containing a bronze tablet with Harding's profile in bas-relief and an excerpt from his last address. In the center are the bronze figures of Miss Columbia and Britannia symbolizing Canada and the United States on guard, not only over the man, represented in the bas-relief, but also over the words of international amity. The figures of Canada and the United States hold between them in one hand the olive branch of peace, and in the other the shields of the two nations. Directly in front is a pool of running water, which in reflection and motion is intended to suggest life and continuity.

At each end of the structure is an eagle symbolic of the republic. The extreme length of the monument is thirty-seven feet, the depth thirteen feet, nine inches, and the height nine feet, ten inches.

Granite Island stone from a quarry sixty-five miles from Vancouver is the material used. It is well adapted to the purpose, as it will not discolor in the salt-laden breezes.

The memorial is the creation of Charles Marega, Italian sculptor of this city. He has labored over it for many months and it is the crowning achievement of his career.

Insane Woman Flees Hospital at Worcester

WORCESTER, Sept. 15.—Twenty-five hospital attendants and a dozen police have been searching the woods near the Shrewsbury line for Sarah Kemp, a powerful and dangerous fugitive from the Worcester State Hospital for the Insane.

Pursued through the rain, she succeeded in eluding pursuers.

Some time during the night she broke into the home of William O'Brien. There was nobody at home. The woman left her wet underclothes and bathrobe, selected a serviceable flannel dress, stout shoes, several changes of underwear and some jewelry, and was gone at daybreak, when the O'Brien's returned.

Later she was seen heading toward the Shrewsbury line, according to citizens.

RICHES HIDDEN IN WRONG CAR

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WILBUR (Neb.) Sept. 15.—A safe deposit box containing $14,000 in Liberty Bonds probably is under the seat of someone's automobile in this neighborhood, unknown to the driver. R. Prince, wealthy farmer, placed such a box under the rear seat of an automobile which he mistook for his own when he obtained his deposit box from a bank here today, he told the police. He left to shop and returned to find the car gone, his own standing near by. "People are honest around here," Prince asserted. "As soon as some one finds out that the box is in his car he will return it."

CHINA FACES RED YOKE IN CIVIL STRIFE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, Sept. 15.—Many alarming reports are reaching the Japanese Foreign Office from consuls in China, indicating a probable early resumption of the civil war in which the Cantonese Reds will assist Wu Pei Fu, erstwhile powerful Chihli war lord, and Gen Feng Yu Hsiang, Christian general, against Chang Tso Lin, the Manchu Tiger, with the object of eliminating the latter. The consequence will be Red control of China.

"It will be most unfortunate for China should war be resumed," a Foreign Office spokesman stated. "The rival generals there do not seem to understand that the eyes of the world are directed on Peking, where the powers will soon deliberate and make a move to meet the Chinese desires."

The details of China's wireless compromise proposal are being studied by Foreign Minister Shidehara. Before the reply will be sent to Peking Japan will exchange views with Washington. The official opinion is that China desires a large loan rather than a solution of the radio tangle. It was not expected that Washington will view such a suggestion with approval.

Boy Dragged for Half Mile When Tied to Trolley

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SOMERVILLE (Mass.) Sept. 15. Charles Hadley, 11 years of age, of 54 Beacon street, was dragged more than half a mile behind a street car here the other day with both hands tied with a rope which was attached to the car. He suffered only minor injuries to his stomach and knees and after being treated at the Somerville Hospital, was able to be taken to his home by his father.

The lad could give no connected account of how he came into the predicament, except to say that it was near Park street that he became entangled in the car. Patrolman Keene discovered the lad while he was driving his automobile down Beacon street. He pushed his car ahead and managed to attract the attention of the motorman who stopped the car and, with the assistance of Patrolman Keene, released the boy from his perilous position. Keene then took the lad to the Somerville Hospital.

BANQUET DELAYED AS FIRE STARTS IN HALL

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BENSON (Ariz.) Sept. 15.—In the near-by Mormon settlement of St. David, the older people of the community annually are banqueted and honored by the membership of the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Association. This year's supper was about ready in the association hall when some one on the outside saw that the building's roof was afire. Nothing could be done to check the flames, but the food and some of the furnishings were saved and the old folks were fed bountifully in the yard while the house burned.

Governor Not to Interfere in Stanfield Case

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SALEM (Or.) Sept. 15.—Gov. Pierce said today that he will take no part in the prospective prosecution of Senator Robert N. Stanfield, who was arrested at Baker Sunday on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, and indicated that the local officers will be allowed to handle the case. The Governor laughed gleefully over Senator Stanfield's reported declaration that Pierce was back of the arrest.

BAKER (Or.) Sept. 15.—The case against Senator Stanfield, who was arrested here Sunday evening, will be set for trial Friday morning at 10 o'clock, City Attorney Frank C. McCulloch announced today. A complaint alleging disorderly conduct will be filed prior to that time, he said.

ORIENTAL TELLS OF SEEING WHITE BEARS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

QUESNEL (B. C.) Sept. 15.—While walking along the Lowhee ditch, near the Groundhog Lake Reservoir, Cow Sing, a Barkerville Chinaman who won local fame last spring by shooting a bear with a .32 caliber rifle, came face to face with a white bear and two white cubs. He was within fifteen feet of the trio before he noticed them. The mother rising on her hind legs and emitting a noise that may have sounded like "woof; woof;" but to Cow Sing it meant "beat it," and this the oriental did without the necessity of a second warning. The people of Barkerville having faith in the veracity of Cow Sing are now wondering whether the bears are albinos or members of a species which inhabit the Queen Charlotte Islands.

HERE are beautiful teeth for the asking. Those dazzling clear teeth that add so immeasurably to one's personality and charm.

Millions have found them in this new way. Dental authorities urge it. In a few days you can work a transformation in your mouth. Dull teeth thus are made to glisten. Gums are firmed and given a healthy, coral color.

Now a test is being offered. Find out what can be done with your teeth, quickly, amazingly. Just mail the coupon.

Film—that's the trouble

Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it—a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color" and dingy.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack and your teeth open to decay. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea.

Ordinary dentifrices and cleansing won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing in its

YOUTHFUL STARS

The 1925 title tourney has introduced a flock of youthful stars and for the first time since George Von Elm walked away with the title, some players yet in his teens may cop the State classic. Gerald Hardy of San Francisco, another youthful ace from the coming golfing center of the world, was home on the 150, one stroke under Dr. C. H. Walter, one of the oldest and most dangerous contenders in the amateur event. Frank Tatum of the Los Angeles club,

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE ELEVENS IN FIRST WORKOUTS

ONE OF JONES'S KICKERS

TROJANS TAKE TWO WORKOUTS

Howard Jones Sends Athletes Through Stiff Drill

Morton Kaer Skippers Team at Quarterback

BY BRAVEN DYER

The pungent odor of arnica, Sloan's liniment and various other sprain and bruise-healing concoctions, emanating from respective training quarters last night, bore mute testimony to the opening of the 1925 football season among Southern California collegiate institutions yesterday. Several hundred young men, some of whom feel years older this morning, took to the turf with a whoop and left with a groan. U.S.C., Southern Branch, Occidental, Whittier, Redlands and Caltech were going full blast at some time during the day, with Pomona athletes in their first work today.

PREXY ON HAND

But Dr. Von KleinSmid also pulled an unprecedented stunt—that of personally appearing on the field for the opening day. The Trojan president, accompanied by Warren Bovard and Hal J. Stonier, his two right-hand men—if a man can have two right-hand men—came sauntering through the gate, walked over the greensward, gave the athletes the "double-O" and left with a smile of satisfaction on his countenance.

The turnout was a success from every standpoint—with the possible exception of the groundskeeper, who saw the beginning of the end of his finely manicured lawn. Grass

TIGERS BOAST HUGE TURNOUT

Bill Spaulding Likes Material for Grizzly Team

Thirty Athletes in Workout at California Tech

Some seventy-five perspiring young gentlemen reported to Coaches Sid Nichols, Dewey Lyle, Bill Anderson and Oak Smith at Occidental College yesterday for football practice. The fact that college does not open until today held down the attendance somewhat, and several familiar faces were missing, but the showing was sufficient to indicate that the Tigers will have by far the best varsity material in recent history, while the freshman aggregation also will be above the average.

About forty candidates for the varsity were on the job, some nineteen or twenty of whom are experienced varsity material from last year. Starting with Capt. Swede Renius, center, the veterans are Chandler, Betts, Davidson and Kleinpell, guards; Stevens, Conde and Hitch, tackles; Hazeltine, Teachout and Godett, ends; Mishkin and Gregory, quarterbacks; Wheeler and Buxton, fullbacks, and Purser, Buckman, Foshey Smith and Ralph Dever, halfbacks.

In addition to this hefty batch of experienced varsity men Coaches Nichols, Lyle and Anderson of the varsity will have the following material from the freshmen: George Fusco and Milt Nash, fullbacks; Rats Brobst and MacDonald, quarterbacks; Norman Smith, half; Paul Newell and Irvin Tanner, centers; Guy Hawkins and Jim Groenwagon, guards; Don Tyler, tackle, and Al Klein, Howard Black and Chuck Black, ends.

On the whole, the Tigers look exceptionally strong. The number of varsity men is absolutely unprecedented in the history of the college, and the men have all returned in much better condition than was the case last year. The team was running signals the first night out and apparently will average about 175 pounds, although nobody will weigh over the 185-pound mark.

M'LEAN WINS ON FOUL

Lamar Floors Opponent in Fourth Round at Vernon; Referee Almost Counts Out Fallen Man

Stewart McLean won from Johnny Lamar on a foul, in the fourth round of their scheduled ten-round main event at Vernon last night.

The bout ended in an uproar when Referee Leo O'Shea, new to the California's Boxing Commission's ruling, apparently counted out McLean, who was stretched out on the canvas. After some deliberation, and consultation with a physician, who examined McLean, and declared he had been fouled, the bout was awarded to the little northern feather.

LAMAR WARNED

Lamar landed one low blow and was warned, to start the fourth chapter. He continued a vicious attack to his opponent's body, and again slipped over a low blow. This, the referee failed to see, and as McLean was not hurt, the bout continued. McLean was in a bad way near the end of the round.

Harry Scott won a decision from Paul De Haute in a whirlwind sixth-round finish. Scott was the aggressor throughout and had his opponent on the ropes most of the time, with De Haute fighting back gamely.

The first round was even, with

ORIOLES SPURN TRIP WEST

The Baltimore club of the International League will not come to the Pacific Coast to play the winner of the Coast League in the little world series, should they win the pennant in the International League and eliminate Louisville, the winner of the American Association pennant for 1925, in the play-off. This is the substance of a telegram received by Harry A. Williams, president of the Pacific Coast League, yesterday from Jack Gunn, owner of the Baltimore club.

The Toronto team, which is in second place in the International League and but two and one-half games to the rear of the leaders, will come should they be the season victors and defeat Louisville in the play-off. Louisville has also stated its willingness to make the trip to this coast for the series.

BRUINS AND CARDS TAKE TO GRIDIRON

Veterans Greet Smith; Warner Handicapped by Lack of Linesmen

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Sept. 15.—Coach Glenn Warner and his assistants inoculated the campus today with its annual fall fever—football.

More than forty men responded to the first call for varsity and freshman practice. Although Stanford University does not open for the fall term for two weeks, most of the football candidates arrived the first of this week.

Capt. Ernie Nevers, emerging from a summer spent in the wide open spaces, looked in flawless condition. Much is expected of the big blond fullback this season. In 1923 he won a place on one of the alternate All-American teams picked by the late Walter Camp. Last season Nevers, injured in a scrimmage at the beginning of the season, watched most of the games from the side-lines. In the post-season game in which Stanford lost to Notre Dame at Pasadena, he made a prodigious amount of yardage.

Warner faces the problem of building a new team, especially the line. He lost most of the veterans through graduation. However, several of last year's 'varsity appeared today, among them Bogue, Hyland, Garthwaite and Solomon, backfield men.

BERKELEY (Cal.) Sept. 15.—Varsity and freshman football practice at the University of California began today on the new practice field laid out on the campus this summer.

As soon as Coach Andy Smith blew the whistle that ushered in football on the campus, he chose thirty men as a tentative varsity squad, dividing them into two groups and starting them on the basic plays that will form the Bruin offense this season. For preliminary work the coach selected these veterans for the first eleven: Ends, Mell and Huber; tackles, Sargent and Cock; guards, Rau and Carey; center, Base; quarterback, Carlson; halfbacks, Capt. Imlay and Dixon; fullback, Young. Alternating in play were Thatcher, end; Nicewander and Couper, guards, and Griffin, fullback. All these men were regulars last year except Base, who, for the time being, replaces Horrell, captain and All-American star, graduated.

A second team including most of last year's freshmen stars was sent on the field.

PIRATES LOSE CHANCE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.— Rain cost the Pirates a good chance to edge nearer the "mathematical certainty" in the National League pennant race when it ended hostilities with Brooklyn in the third inning of today's game with the league leaders holding a 6-0 advantage.

The Robins were at bat in the third when the downpour broke up the game.

The Pirates had combed Tiny Osborne for two runs in the first inning and a cluster of four in the second, aided by misplays by Wheat and Stock plus a double by Cuyler with the bases full.

Two games will be played tomorrow.

PHILLIES WIN

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.— After winning four straight from the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, the St. Louis Cardinals went down to defeat to the Phillies today, 4 to 2, in the first game of the series. James Bottomley, Cardinal first baseman, ran his string of season home runs to twenty-one by hitting into the right-field bleachers in the second. No one was on base. Score:

CHANDLER EGAN GOLF MEDALIST

Francis Brown of Hawaiian fame and John J. McHugh of the Olympic club in San Francisco, landed well up in the championship flight with 152s.

David Martin, son of Ernest Martin, former Montecito professional, drifting along under the Hollywood club banner, tangled with Archie Sanchez, a local ace, and Roy Phillips, when he finished strong to medal 153 for the thirty-six-hole qualifying play. George Ritchie, medalist in five leading bay city tourneys during the past sixty days, and Ray Palmer, La Cumbre's hard-hitting southpaw, crowded into the 154 wicket.

MOSER TRIUMPHS

Allen Moser, California's greatest golfing youngster, out in a creditable 79 with Egan yesterday, rallied today and, in the face of the medalist's contest-winning round, was home with a 76 to land in the title match play, starting tomorrow. Moser fumbled no less than six short putts and the frequent birdies and occasional eagles that have made the boy one of the most dangerous challengers in the present event were missing, but his 76 today assures him of a favorable position in the title flight pairings.

Earl Neitzel, still another youthful Los Angeles star from President Richards's Hollywood club, duplicated his 78 of yesterday and finished with Max Behr of Wilshire, both meraling 156.

Capt. A. Bullock-Webster, present playing-through champion, with the best wishes of the hundreds of golf devotees here for the State classic, in his bag, recovered in spectacular style to garner a 75 today for a thirty-six-hole aggregate of 157 to land in the title flight.

W. W. Campbell, Los Angeles veteran, Joe Hegeman, Flintridge champ, and O. H. Davidson of Memphis, Tenn., also made the championship grade and will start shooting through to the title tomorrow. Jack Neville, former State champion, and C. D. Hunter of Tacoma, came home with 159 and also landed in the title play.

WOMEN START

More than 300 players will start first-round matches tomorrow, while California women will play an eighteen-hole medal qualifying round that will usher in the annual Del Monte women's championship tourney.

Miss Kathleen Wright of Pasadena has been breaking 80 regular, and should carry the resort title down-State.

Bert Whaling, pilot for Denver in the Western League, is anxious to bring a crew of stars of that circuit to Los Angeles to play winter league ball. Whaling writes Joe Pirrone that practically every ball player in the league is planning to winter in Southern California, and that the best players will be available.

DOYLE DENIED PERMIT

Property owners in the vicinity of Wrigley Park, at Forty-first street and South Park avenue, having protested to the Board of Police Commissioners against any permission being given for boxing bouts at the new baseball park, the commission yesterday declined to grant an application for a boxing show scheduled to be held at the park on the night of the 29th inst.

The application was filed by H. A. Wadhams, matchmaker of the Vernon Athletic Club, of which Jack Doyle is the principal factor. Wadhams had planned to stage three ten-round open-air bouts at Wrigley Park on the night of the 29th inst., at which some of the contenders were to be George Godfrey and Martin Burke and "Mushy" Callahan and Al Moran.

It was announced last night at Vernon that Doyle had decided to stage the card at the old Vernon Ball Park. He can seat some 15,000 people in the park which was used for the Huffman-Colima bout recently.

WAR VET WINS FOURTH PLACE

Arthur B. Carroll, a "disabled" veteran of the British army of 1914 to 1918 and the American Army of 1917 and 1918, was the feature of the Sunday shoot of the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club. Carroll didn't win first place in either match, cutting or rapid fire, but without having fired a rifle in six years and without practice or acquaintance with the rifle he used, the veteran proceeded to clean up on several of the old stand-bys of the rifle club and took down fourth place.

Firestone will ALWAYS give
MOST MILES PER DOLLAR

No matter where crude rubber prices may go—Firestone advantages in securing raw material, in manufacturing and distribution are always active to make good the pledge of Most Miles Per Dollar.

Racing drivers—hill climbing and endurance record holders—taxicab, motor truck and bus operators—and hundreds of thousands of car owners—are daily emphasizing the unheard-of mileage and service delivered by Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords.

Gum-Dipping is one of the biggest factors in tire performance and long mileage, making Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords the most economical tires ever offered. The cord from the fabric mills is first delivered to a separate plant where it is treated in a solution of gum, which insulates every fiber of every cord. This extra process minimizes internal friction and heat, and gives the sidewalls greater flexibility and strength.

Prove Firestone's many superiorities for yourself. If you have never experienced the added safety, comfort and economy of these serviceable, long-mileage tires — go to the nearest Firestone Dealer—only Firestone builds Gum-Dipped Cords.

Callahan and Hudkins Ready for Gruelling Scrap

LIGHTWEIGHTS CLASH TONIGHT

Ten-Round Olympic Ring Bout Topic of Fistiana

Former Newsie and Wildcat Are Bitter Enemies

Splendid Supporting Card on Jack Root's Program

Mushy Callahan and Ace Hudkins meet in "the fight of the year" at the million-dollar Olympic Auditorium tonight. The ten-round contest has attracted more attention than any since the game was legalized.

Because both boys were developed here, one raised in Los Angeles, the match is what the ringworm calls at "natural" from the start. Callahan's convincing victories over Dodo Bercet, "Spug" Myers and Johnny O'Donnell, the knocking out of Russie Le Roy, and his triumph over "Red" Herring stamp him as one of the most promising youngsters in the ring today.

STAGES COMEBACK

Following his first defeat here, the loss on a foul to Tommy O'Brien, Hudkins has staged a pretty "comeback." Indeed, he was never very far away. Journeying to East Chicago, he chased Sid Terris all over the ring. Then followed his draw with the clever Lou Paluso and his smashing win over Dick Hoppe.

There is little love lost between Callahan, the newsboys' idol, and Hudkins, "the Nebraska Wildcat."

They don't speak. There is more in tonight's debate for each entrant than the gate receipts.

Mushy and Ace are of opposite types. Callahan is the best puncher and better boxer. Hudkins directs his attack to the body. He undoubtedly hopes to batter Callahan down in that way.

The complete card:

Frankie Garcia vs. Dandy Dillon, 128 pounds, six rounds.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER
BILL HENRY

FROM a mere reading of Howard Jones's announcement regarding his Trojan varsity we'd say that Moward was going to provide us with a lot of dynamite. The way he has that team lined up bespeaks power and speed in every line, and indicates straight-away, hammer and tongs football that will make yards. He hasn't a man on the proposed squad under 170 pounds, and the big majority are well over that, and they are all fast in the extreme. His line will be tremendous at the ends and tackles, and fairly big and fast in the center. His backfield is a combination of unusual size and speed, with Kaer, at 170 pounds, the lightest man of the bunch. If he follows out his announced plan of making his team from the announced material, the Trojan fans need have no fear of a halting, hesitating offense, with occasional flashes of terrific power and then those awful slumps which characterized the team last year. And, unless we're very much mistaken, the big difference will be caused by having a driving quarterback, something much lacking last season.

For the first time in history the Southern California Conference will get under way without freshmen playing on some of the varsity teams. The conference rule prohibits the use of freshmen where there are more than 100 male upperclassmen. Occidental, Pomona and Caltech haven't used freshmen for many years, but Southern Branch did up to two years ago. Last year Redlands University had something like half a dozen over the line, and barred the peagreen players, and this year Whittier has drawn the line. That cleans the slate except for La Verne College, which is a semiconference member, and which probably will use freshmen, but all of the old-established conference members will have separate peagreen teams.

Our Southern California junior tennis players may not have grabbed all the honors in the California State championships, but they made the best showing our juniors ever have in the north. Norval Craig in the junior singles beat Almquist, Pacific Coast champion, and lost in a five-set final to Bobby Sellers; Craig and Robinson lost in a five-set final match to the Coast champions, and two Southern California girls, Louise MacFarland and Josephine Crookshank, were finalists for girls under 16, with Miss Crookshank winning. Everything considered, this was a very strong showing, and it is the first time that youngsters from this part of the State have made any impression in many years.

TROJANS TAKE TWO WORKOUTS

has a habit of slowing up in its growth when more than 100 young men in cleated shoes spend four hours a day plowing through it.

Jones held two workouts. In the morning he sent the varsity squad through a practice which lasted from 10 to 11 o'clock. Then in the afternoon the players assembled at 4 o'clock and left the field at 5:30. Cliff Herd, freshman coach, had his first-year charges on the job from 3 to 5.

LINE-UP THE SAME

There was little or no variation from the line-up which Jones gave to an unsuspecting public Monday night. Morton Kaer, the Red Bluff terror, was at quarter and looked O.K. He called the plays distinctly, kept the boys moving swiftly and seemed to get along fine. Vic Orsatti, from last year's frosh, and Howard Elliot of the same body also snorted signals, while Field Thompson was engineering another eleven.

Hobbs Adams and Al Behrendt appeared at the end berths, with Capt. Fay Thomas and Bill Friend, a junior, as tackles. Friend has to fight for his position—as do all men under Jones—for a lot of tough athletes are scrapping for the job. Hershberger and Cox, subs last year, had the guard posts in the morning workout, while Ted Gorrell, last year's regular, and Hershberger got the call in the afternoon. Jeff Cravath is a cinch at center.

Morley Drury, the powerful line plunger from the frosh of a year ago, had one halfback post, while Honey Earl, a veteran grabbed the other, Bob Lee, the blond demon, took care of the fullback duties in excellent style. He and Drury will alternate at th ekicking, with Kaer also doing his share of the booting. Henry LeFebvre, who is to be used at full, also, won't be out for a few days, as he is walking around in bad shape as the result of ptomaine poisoning contracted by eating some goldfish at Lake Arrowhead.

JONES IS BOSS

That Jones is going to rule with an iron hand at U.S.C. became evident during the afternoon's turnout. One of the players—a veteran from last year—was late getting out. He didn't know all the plays, and when Jones bawled him out the athlete uttered about three words which started in the way of an alibi. That's as far as he got, for the new mentor stopped him with a command, told him there were to be no excuses, and with a few choice words let him know that men who were going to play on his eleven would have to be on time for practice or they needn't report at all.

Aubrey Devine, the all-American quarter while at Iowa, took care of the backfield candidates, while Paul Minnick, another of Jones's old stars, assisted Bill Hunter and the head coach with the line. Devine is a pleasing chap and looks every inch an all-American star, even though he's lost some ten pounds since his playing days. The Trojans open the season a week from Saturday with two games at the Coliseum, meeting Whittier in one and Caltech in the other.

M'LEAN WINS BOUT ON FOUL

Scott taking the third and fifth, and De Haute the second and fourth. Scott took the fight in the sixth by stepping right in and smashing over a right hand punch to the chin, which tamed De Haute and gave Harry the upper hand for the remainder of the round and the bout.

YOUNG GEORGE WINS

Young George took the referee's decision over Knockout Brown after six rounds of furious milling in the special event. This bout was easily one of the features of the card, and both scrappers drew big cheers for their efforts.

Brown took the first two rounds in handy fashion, evading George's efforts at his head and landing telling punches at will. With the start of the third canto, George switched his attack to the body, and thereafter won as he pleased. The third, fourth, fifth and sixth rounds were his by good margins.

Bud Oswald and Harry LaBarre, featherg, fought to a draw in the four-round second event. LaBarre was floored twice in the first round for no count, while Oswald creased the canvas in the second without a count.

CONFERENCE GRIDDERS OUT

football circles six years ago. Old Sol looked down on 100 sweating, toiling blue and gold clad warriors and smiled broadly. Coach Bill Spaulding has plenty of reason to be pleased with the turnout. The boys at the Branch are seeing visions of a winning season after years of defeat and they eagerly responded to every demand of the coaches.

Spaulding turned his varsity line over to Hugh MacDonald and his backs over to A. J. Sturzenegger, who put them through their paces. Moore Field resounded all afternoon with the clash of bodies and the plunk of the ball as it was lifted off some educated toe.

Bill Spaulding declared that if he couldn't get big men he wanted tough ones. His material is light—the backfield of the varsity will only average about 160 pounds with a line around 170 pounds—but they look tough.

Fred Oster of the babes has his hands full. After looking over the Frosh that turned out yesterday, it looks like Fred's greatest trouble will come in picking out the eleven best men from among the fifty or sixty who appear in uniform.

THIRTY MEN GREET STANTON AT CALTECH

"Green but willing. Looks like a squad of fighters, at that, and I'd rather have a bunch of men long on fight and short on ability than the reverse."

These were the comments of Fox Stanton, Caltech mentor, after looking over the thirty men who turned out yesterday at Tournament Park for the Initial Engineer grid practice. With the opening of college yet two weeks away, Stanton expressed himself as pleased with the number out.

Six of the turnout were lettermen, five hailing from last year's eleven and the sixth, Bob Stein, a tackle of ample proportions, who has returned after an absence from college of a year.

Jack Baker, the blond halfback, who for two seasons has starred on Caltech teams, will captain the Engineer eleven this year. Stanton intends to shift him to fullback to fill the shoes of "Horsey" Alderman, last year's captain and fullback, lost to the team by graduation.

Layton Stanton, the Fox's son, and "Stew" Johnson were the other experienced backs who drew suits and equipment yesterday. Frank Nickell, last year's pivot man, and Ed Kinsey, a fullback of two seasons ago and a guard last season, were the veteran linemen to return. Glen Graham, pole vaulter of Olympic fame, turned out in a suit and lined up with the candidates for wing positions. Folsom and Moore looked to be likely bets for first-string berths in the line, while Copeland, who called signals yesterday, may land a regular assignment in the backfield. Bob Heilbron, a tackle, who won his letter last year, will not be on the job until Monday.

SEALS COLLECT EASY GAME FROM BEAVERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—The Seals made it easy for "Lefty" Williams today and the league-leaders walked away with a one-sided game from Portland, 10 to 5. Home runs featured the contest with Brower and Agnew hitting them for the locals, while Hish accounted for the Beavers' first three runs with a homer in the fifth. Score:

Experience has taught us this: If a man will only try the Valet AutoStrop Razor, he will adopt it.

The difficulty lies in so many men getting into a habit. They continue to use a non-stropping razor. They fail to learn a better way.

Hence our sensational offer. It costs you only 59c to give this self-stropping razor a trial.

Use the Valet AutoStrop Razor for a month. You'll have a super-keen blade for every shave. Compare this way with your former way. See if you care to return to a non-stropping razor.

Millions of men have adopted a better way, afforded solely by the Valet AutoStrop Razor, the only razor that strops its own blades automatically.

No need to remove the blade to strop or clean. Handy. Simple. Speedy.

Don't continue your present shaving method, without giving this better way a trial. It costs but 59c. Learn for yourself. This trial will open up years of shaving satisfaction.

This special offer lasts for only a few days, as long as the special allotment lasts.

COLLEGE HEAD ISSUES DARE

Says Football Methods Need Thorough Cleansing

Doesn't Expect Facts to be Made Known

Declares College Officials Will Not Back It

BY DR. HENRY H. APPLE,
President, Franklin and Marshall College

[Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

CHAPTER VI

Let's Clean House

Let us reflect for a little on the boy athlete himself. An athlete about to finish his high school course finds scouts from a dozen or more colleges bidding for his services. The promises made to him are in proportion to his previous disclosures of ability and the apparent possibilities of his development.

The result is that almost every boy, of even mediocre ability, is asking what the college is going to do for him financially.

He is obsessed with the idea that the big thing is athletics, and that he ought to be paid for it.

He stands out for the highest bidder.

In some instances, he is sent without cost through an academy which is calculated to fit him for his college job, and then, later, he is carried through college without personal expense.

A scholarship—fake or genuine—does not really indicate the money actually given to these boys. If it costs $25,000 to train, equip and put a single player into a single big college game, there must be added to this his personal expenses, which in one way or another are given to him. Even granting that his service makes it worth while from the standpoint of the manager, what about the effect on his mind and soul?

My answer is that all this is intensely harmful to the boy and demoralizing to the college.

GYPSY ATHLETES

Before there were any regulations covering migratory athletes, a boy appeared on the campus and football fields of two or three colleges during the same season, as the influence was financially exerted by each in turn. As there is now, in most colleges, a first year rule, requiring a year in college before a boy can be a candidate for the team, and the requirement for a year's residence, after a transfer, before eligibility to the team, the old-time "tramp" athlete is disappearing. But even now, transfers are frequent, boys are lured by promises which can not be fulfilled, and much of the old evil remains in another guise.

The jobs given boys in off seasons, so alluringly urged as a pleasant means of riding through the school year, are, as a rule sinecures. The boy is expected to filter the water for the football team, raise and lower the flag, see that the bases are properly strapped on the baseball diamond, herd the medicine balls around the gymnasium, etc.

SHALL WE SAVE FOOTBALL?

I believe in modern college athletics, but the methods by which they are conducted need cleansing. College officials alone are helpless to do it, because the system is supported by managers, alumni and the outside public.

I challenge the managers to tell the whole truth and lead the way to ridding the system of its pernicious adjuncts.

I repeat my statement that they will not dare tell the whole truth, if they expect the system to continue.

College officials will not sanction it, the public will not support it, and the students will not stand for it.

But if the managers will frankly lay the facts on the table, without any reservation, and confer with college officials who have always been ready to meet them half way, it will be possible to retain all that is good in the system and free it from demoralizing and degrading influences which otherwise will lead it into hopeless disrepute.

(The End)

WARD AND GOODRICH TANGLE AT HARBOR

Battling Ward and Georgie Goodrich will stage their return fight tonight at the Wilmington Athletic Club in the ten-round main event Matchmaker Doc Moffett has arranged for his clientele. This pair fought a couple of weeks ago, and after a succession of knockdowns scored by each side, the decision was given to Goodrich. A draw would have pleased the house better. Allie Nelson and Red Murphy will square off in the eight rounder preceding the main event and a good bout is expected from this pair of fast lightweights. Nelson has yet to be defeated at the harbor, and Murphy is figured to be the fighter to do it. Young Terry and Gil Davis will appear in another eight-round go, while June Luguar and Kid Lucero open the show with a four.

DYAS COMPANY PUTS UP FIRST DEER CUP

With the declaration by hunting scouts that there are plenty of deer in Southern California for the season, which opens today, the competition for the B. H. Dyas Company's trophy, up for the first deer bagged and brought to Los Angeles should be full of fast auto driving and maybe a foot race.

In putting up the trophy, a Savage 250-3000 rifle, the Dyas Company revived an old-time custom in this city. The firearm of the high-powered, sporting model type, will be presented to the hunter who brings the first deer killed in either district 4 or 4 3-4, which open today. A deer bagged in Ventura last Monday, on which day the season closed in the northern county or brought down from districts 1 and 4 1-2, the High Sierra districts, will not be eligible.

REPORT HITS AT CRIME INCREASE

Prohibition's Efforts Given in Church Survey

Declares Blame on Dry Law is "Gratuitous"

Article Says Auto Shares in Youths' Wildness

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—An exhaustive discussion of the effect of prohibition on crime conditions in settlement neighborhoods, drug addiction, the morals of the young and respect for law in general was made public tonight by the research and education department of the Federal Council of Churches as a third section of its special report on the social consequences of prohibition laws.

While pointing out that a lack of complete data makes definite conclusions impossible, the report made these assertions:

YOUTHS' MORALS HIT

The tendency of young people of the present day to depart from conventional rules of behavior cannot be laid entirely at the door of prohibition, but "the fact that prohibition has made no more decisive effect in heightening their moral tone gives food for earnest thought."

Crime statistics indicate a rapid increase in violations of law, chiefly of the misdemeanor class, but it is gratuitous to blame prohibition, and "all that can be asserted is that prohibition thus far has not prevented an increase in such offenses."

Available information indicates that in settlement neighborhoods there is less drinking, and family life has improved under prohibition, but that the law nevertheless is widely violated and "the bootlegger is getting rich."

Assertions that prohibition has tended to increase the use of drugs lack definite proof, and would appear to be untrue.

RESPECT DECLINES

"The general impression that respect for law is declining leads many ardent supporters of prohibition to believe that its foes are undermining all citizenship, while the latter assert very positively that prohibition has destroyed respect for all law. Fortunately, neither contention is fully supported by facts. The best authorities in psychology and education agree that a person's attitude toward law and government is not determined with reference to a single statute, and that hostility toward one law does not carry over into the whole field of the citizen's responsibility.

"The attitude of people toward their government, although it often gives cause for concern, rests upon a broader basis than the popularity of a single law. Every one takes some laws more seriously than others, and necessarily so. All laws have not the same importance and some have greater social sanction than others. For this reason it would seem to be a mistake to rest the appeal for observance of prohibition laws merely upon the general duty to 'obey the law.' Rather, an attitude of intelligent sympathy toward the law itself must be built up if it is to be generally observed."

In discussing the effects of prohibition on crime, the report declared that crime statistics are "notoriously inaccurate" and suggested that trends in crime conditions apparently have their basis in "forces which have long been operative and are fairly independent of the liquor laws."

AUTO SHARES BLAME

The automobile, said the report, should bear a greater responsibility than the hip flask for present moral conditions among the young.

"Reports of school administration officials and of teachers who have made extensive studies of moral problems in the schools give little support to the theory that prohibition is in itself a cause of moral breakdown," it continued. "It may perhaps just as truly be said that it does not appear to be a great asset. Certainly, the nonobservance of the law by parents has a rather tragic effect on boys and girls.

"In the colleges, undoubtedly, some alarming conditions have developed. Even in a conservative denominational college a student has been known to earn his way through school by bootlegging. The evidence, however, seems to indicate a favorable trend at the present time; at least this is the opinion of nearly all the college deans consulted, and it receives some measure of support from other sources."

WOUNDED WORKER IS RENDERED SPEECHLESS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SANTA BARABARA, Sept. 15.—Riddled with bullets and unable to tell his identity or give the facts of the shooting, a Mexican beet-worker is slowly dying at Santa Maria. The man was shot five times through the head and throat and cannot talk. He wandered to a ranch house and was taken to a hospital. By signs he made it known that he had been shot while riding with several companions in an automobile and then thrown out.

FLIGHT HEROES GIVEN OVATION

Business Men of Honolulu Entertain Airmen

Responsibility for Trip Taken by Rodgers

Commander Praises Crew and Navy Officials

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, Sept. 15.—Commander John Rodgers of the naval seaplane PN-9 No. 1 and his crew of four men were the honor guests today at a luncheon given under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. Amidst scenes of wildest enthusiasm, Rodgers told the story of the cruise, from its inception in San Diego; the take-off from San Francisco harbor; flying over the Pacific toward Honolulu for more than twenty-five hours; drifting for upward of 113 hours after a forced descent and eventually being rescued by the submarine R-4 near the island of Kauai.

In a slow drawling speech, Rodgers declared that no two commanding officers of vessels ever went through the Golden Gate "better satisfied with the support they had received at home," or with more certainty of success than the commanders of the PN-9 No. 1 or No. 3.

TAKES RESPONSIBILITY

"In view of some criticisms that have been made," Commander Rodgers said, "I wish to take this opportunity to state that control of this entire project was in my hands. Every arrangement and suggestion was made subject to my approval and everything done met with my approval.

"With this control went responsibility and therefore, and inevitably, the responsibility, if anything went wrong, must rest upon me.

"We thought everything was propitious for the flight on the day of the start and no two commanding officers of any vessels ever went through the Golden Gate better satisfied with the support they had received at home; better equipped; with more faith in their crews; and with more certainty of success than the commanders of the PN-9 No. 1 and PN-9 No. 3, but just as we started a heavy headwind dropped, right on her beam, which was very detrimental."

Rodgers had high praise for his crew, Rear-Admiral John D. McDonald, commandant of the Fourteenth Naval District, in charge of the search, and Lieut. Donald Osborn of the submarine R-4, rescuer of the plane.

LARGEST LUNCHEON

During the luncheon each aviator was presented with a wrist-watch. Each in turn offered his thanks for the gift. It was the most unusual and largest luncheon gathering ever held in Honolulu.

On the wall opposite Rodgers's chair hung a huge map of Honolulu with the proposed airport blocked out, marked "The John Rodgers Airport." In front of him stood a big cake fashioned as a seaplane marked "U. S. Navy, PN-9 No. 1" on the sides and fuselage.

On the bow was an inscription, "Well done, John."

The flyers' entrance into the dining-room was the signal for an outburst of enthusiasm and cheering that lasted several minutes.

LONG BEACH PLANS ROUSING WELCOME

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 15.—When Commander John Rodgers, U.S.N., and his navy seaplane crew come to Southern California, there's a rousing welcome awaiting them in Long Beach. Plans for the entertainment of the commander and the crew of the PN-9 No. 1 in Long Beach are being worked out by city officials and officials of local civic organizations, following action by the City Council today, which adopted a motion extending an invitation to the navy flyers to visit Long Beach during their stay in Southern California.

Action of the Council followed receipt of information from Washington that Commander Rodgers and his crew would be in the Southland about two weeks hence.

"Will you accept an invitation to attend a formal reception and entertainment in your honor, to be held at Long Beach upon your arrival in Southern California?" was the text of the telegram sent to Commander Rodgers at Pearl Harbor. It was signed by Mayor Ray Clark. Another telegram, sent to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur asked that department chief's official sanction of the reception.

FLYERS CONGRATULATE DESIGNER OF PLANE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The officers of the PN-9 No. 1 today wired their appreciation of the craft's staunchness to H. S. Cocklin, project engineer at the naval aircraft factory here, who designed and supervised the building of the PN-9 planes.

The message said: "Congratulations on the seaworthiness of the PN-9 No. 1. We sailed her to port, a distance of 400 miles in fairly rough weather at times, in ten days, with practically no damage. You should have been along to observe her."

NEW LINE WILL RUN THROUGH TULE LAKE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific Company announced today that the through line from Klamath Falls to the East will run through Tule Lake, on the border line of Siskiyou and Modoc counties in California, to a connection with the Nevada-California-Oregon Railroad, which will be standard-gauged. The new line will connect with the Central Pacific main line in Nevada.

"This route has been chosen because it affords the shortest main-line service from Southern Oregon and Northen California to the East via Ogden, with a low-grade line," Mr. Sproule said. "It will cut the present distance from Klamath Falls via Ogden, to all eastern points substantially in excess of 200 miles. It will be substantially 200 miles shorter to St. Louis, Chicago, Omaha or Kansas City than the proposed northern line route, via Bend, Or.

Crown Prince of Italy Youngest Senate Member

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ROME, Sept. 15.—The Crown Prince of Italy, who celebrated his twenty-first birthday anniversary today, is a member from today, according to the Italian constitution, of the Italian Senate, whereof he will be the youngest member, as all others must be at least 40 years of age to be eligible.

He will take the oath in a solemn ceremony at the next session. The Prince spent his birthday quietly with his family in the royal castle at Racconigi, where arrangements for the wedding of his sister, Princess Mafalda, are nearing completion. He will soon celebrate attaining his years of independence by taking up residence in the royal palace in Turin with his own personal brilliant household.

Calles Near as Mystery Blast Kills Mexican

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15.—An unknown man was killed by a mysterious explosion today in the stadium when President Calles was present, giving rise to rumors that it was part of a plan to assassinate the President.

Witnesses say the man jumped from the grandstand. When he struck the ground the explosion occurred, practically blowing his body to pieces.

The death occurred near an exit of the stadium and few spectators were aware of the happening. It is reported that the man was carrying a small package which exploded when he struck the ground. In spite of reports, officials decline to comment.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

May McAvoy, popular film star, will be the guest of honor and will award the prizes in the dancing contest at Eddie Brandstatter's Montmartre Cafe this evening. According to the announcement of the cafe management, it is planned to make this evening's entertainment one of the most notable in the history of the Hollywood cafe.

In addition to the regular dancing contest there will be one for Charleston dancers. Several skillful young women Charleston dancers will give individual exhibitions. Prizes will include a trophy offered by the management to the masculine dance winner and a merchandise order from the Society Stationery Shoppe at Vogue's to the feminine winner.

Prof. O. L. Moore, saxophone artist, will act as master of ceremonies and will present vaudeville entertainment features.

In honor of Miss McAvoy, there have been a large number of reservations made for Wednesday evening by prominent film folk, including Winifred Landis, Lina Basquette, Mrs. Clarence Brown, Ernest Lubitsch, Lillian Rich, May Allison, Shannon Day, Vola Vale, Arline Pretty, Mrs. John Ford, Ruth Roland, Priscilla Dean and many others. Miss McAvoy is now playing one of the featured roles in Ernest Lubitsch's production, "Lady Windermere's Fan" for Warner Brothers.

The regular mid-week matinee fashion dansant will be held today at noon.

Harry M. Miller, proprietor of the Cafe Lafayette, is planning a trip to Europe late this fall in order that he might observe the newest cuisine creations and entertainment diversions in the continental cafes. Miller recently returned from a tour of the East taken for a similar purpose. He was formerly maitre d'hotel of several of the best known restaurants in London and Paris and plans to renew many old acquaintances while "over there." During his absence the Cafe Lafayette will be run by his department managers who are A. J. Taff, auditor; Charles Ehrenfest, steward; Jean Noetzli, supervising chef, and Fred Blau, maitre d'hotel.

"Country Fair" week will be staged in the near future at the Ship Cafe in Venice, as announced by Ward McFadden, manager of the popular beach cafe. The idea was suggested to Mr. McFadden by the fact that Los Angeles, Riverside and Orange counties will conduct their annual fairs this month. Barnyard souvenirs will be given to the patrons.

McFadden has been urged to send his famous orchestra for a one-day concert at each of the three expositions and is trying to arrange dates at the Ship Cafe to make this possible.

The Greenwich Village Cafe in the Christie Hotel Building in Hollywood will hold their usual Wednesday evening dancing contest tonight, in which a surprise prize will be given to the winners.

The recent opening of the Emsco Cafe, a new and modern roadside eating-place at 6895 South Alameda street, occurred recently.

The cafe will be operated day and night. Southern chicken dinners and plate dinners will be specialities. A number of private dining rooms are included in the cafe.

Bert Rovere, manager of the Paris Inn Cafe on Market street, near the Postoffice, announces the addition to his entertainment program of Hazel Salmon, eccentric singer formerly of the Mandarin Gardens at Culver City, and of Mary de Morla and Sam Rubin, classic dancers.

The latest songs and dances are being offered in an irresistible way to patrons of the Oaks Tavern Cafe at Fourth and Hill streets, by "Syncopators Supreme," directed by Rod Loring. Betty Abbett, "the Girl Baritone," is on the Tavern program regularly.

Her ride home seemed like a year

THAT one ride home with him was enough. They were wedged quite closely together in a very crowded train. And the more he tried to make conversation, the more irritated and uncomfortable she became.

She was never so glad to be at her home station. Her ride had seemed to her like a year's trip.

And how happy she was that she had never accepted his invitations to go dancing!

You, yourself, rarely know when you have halitosis (unpleasant breath). That's the insidious thing about it. And even your closest friends won't tell you.

Sometimes, of course, halitosis comes from some deep-seated organic disorder that requires professional advice. But usually—and fortunately—halitosis is only a local condition that yields to the regular use of Listerine as a mouth wash and gargle. It is an interesting thing that this well-known antiseptic that has been in use for years for surgical dressings, possesses these unusual properties as a breath deodorant.

Listerine halts food fermentation in the mouth and leaves the breath sweet, fresh and clean. Not by substituting some other odor but by really removing the old one. The Listerine odor itself quickly disappears.

This safe and long-trusted antiseptic has dozens of different uses: note the little circular that comes with every bottle. Your druggist sells Listerine in the original brown package only—never in bulk. There are four sizes: 14 ounce, 7 ounce, 3 ounce and 1½ ounce. Buy the large size for economy.—Lambert Pharmacal Company, Saint Louis, U. S. A.

LISTERINE Throat Tablets are now available. Please do not make the mistake of expecting them to correct bad breath. Rely on the Liquid, Listerine. Containing all of the antiseptic essentialoils of Listerine, however, they are very valuable as a relief for throat irritations—25 cents.

CAPITAL SHIPS STILL SUPREME

Submarines Held of Limited Usefulness

British Battleships Real World War Victors

Post-Jutland Craft Nucleus of American Navy

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The World War demonstrated nothing so strikingly to naval men everywhere as the supremacy of the heavy fighting ship. On land it was shown that cavalry, long an honored and useful service, was obsolete, and that war was no longer a series of battles and sporadic engagements, but a long drawn out deadlock, with the contestants virtually besieging each other. On the sea, navy men say, it showed that, despite the advent of the submarine, the heavy fighting ship was still supreme and ruled the waves.

The submarine, naturally, attracted great attention. The German U-boats, darting about the sea, spread terror and desolation and reduced the commercial fleets of England and France almost to extinction, but in battle the capital ship, long the nucleus of every armada, still reigned. Not a capital ship of the British grand fleet was sunk by a submarine.

Although a valuable auxiliary, the submarine has two weak points, one in its blindness and the other in its vulnerability to an explosive depth charge. If it is entirely submerged it is worthless; it cannot see the enemy, nor can it intercept him nor fire a shot at him. It must rise and use its periscope, thereby revealing itself, an almost suicidal action.

Battleships are accompanied by fleets of destroyers and scouts equipped with listening devices of the microphone variety, more sensitive than the stethoscope. Listeners stationed at these instruments can tell instantly when a submarine comes within a radius of several miles.

According to some authorities the greatest factor in the winning of the war was the British battleship fleet. Without it they state the Germans would certainly have landed their armies in Britain and the war would have ended before January, 1915, but the capital ships of King George swept the German commerce from the seas, prevented an invasion of the British Isles, and maintained so effective a blockade of German ports that it rendered defeat for the Kaiser a certainty.

Of the eighteen battleship which constitute the nucleus of American naval strength, three are of the post-Jutland type. These are the Colorado, the Maryland, and the West Virginia. They are called post-Jutland because they were constructed after the epoch-making battle of that name. The lessons learned there had a vital effect on navies and naval policy throughout the world. A post-Jutland ship is considered a match for two of the pre-Jutland type.

The post-Jutland ships are titans displacing about 32,000 normal tons. They carry immense sixteen-inch guns in their four two-gun turrets. Their armor is more than a foot in thickness and they are almost invulnerable to gunfire. They are subdivided into watertight compartments so arranged that the utmost damage that could be caused by a direct hit from the largest torpedo or 2000 pound aerial bomb would be the flooding of about one sixty-fourth of the entire displacement of the ship. This would not seriously impair its fighting or sailing powers. It is only after a tremendous continuous hammering of mines, torpedoes, concentrated gunfire, and air attack, that such a ship can be sunk.

Arizonan Shot Through Heart, Lives Two Days

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WINSLOW (Ariz.) Sept. 15.—Bernard Woodmansee was shot through the heart in its greatest diameter. Yet he lived for about forty-eight hours, finally passing away in a Gallup hospital, to which he had been taken by train. Physicians declare this the record in such cases.

Woodmansee was shot by A. B. Edwards, a fellow-Santa Fe brakeman, while said to have been lurking at night around the latter's home, his identity said to have been unknown to the shooter. He left a widow and a 2-year-old child, a father who lives in Wickenburg and two brothers in Bakersfield. Edwards has been held under $5000 bond.

WEATHER MAN DENIES INCREASE IN HUMIDITY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, Sept. 15.—R. Q. Grant, head of the Arizona Weather Bureau Service, declares in error the common assumption that humidity has increased in Phoenix and the Salt River Valley because of the spread of the irrigated area. Humidity has not increased with the years in this locality, he asserts official records showing that Phoenix has a lower percentage of moisture than Tucson and even less than Ajo, which is in the middle of a desert region. Humidity appears to be affected mainly by the quantity of rainfall or by air currents from humid areas.

TUCSON'S MEXICANS SELECT FETE QUEEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 15.—Senorita Genoviva Saavedra will reign as queen of Tucson's Mexican population during the days of this year's celebration of Mexican independence. One of the features of the entertainment program will be a Wild West rodeo, with many Mexican contestants. A large percentage of the population of Tucson is expected to honor the celebration by appearance in Mexican costume.

Why cars cost less on the GMAC Plan

The GMAC Plan was established by General Motors six years ago to make possible the purchase of its cars on time at the lowest possible cost. The volume of GMAC financing operations has made GMAC rates the lowest—and now they are still lower.

The GMAC Plan is simple, convenient and entirely confidential. Ask dealers handling the cars named above to explain the advantages of the Plan and compare the standard GMAC rate with any other rates.

An extra bathroom adds more value than it costs

Double home comfort by using wasted space

Time after time, the character of a house is summed up in a sentence: "It has two fine bathrooms." Hall, living room and bedrooms are passed over without mention.

Because every house is judged today by its bathing facilities, an extra bathroom will add more value to your property than any other improvement of equal cost.

Besides the unhurried comfort it will bring to all your family, therefore, installing an added bathroom is a good investment. An odd corner, an empty hall end or an unused closet provides needed room. Crane plumbing fixtures will put faultless service and convenience into surprisingly small space.

Your plumbing contractor will gladly advise and figure with you. Consult him. Come to any Crane Exhibit Room and see the latest fixtures. "The New Art of Fine Bathrooms" booklet will help in your plans too. It is free. Write Crane Co., Chicago.

Coolidge Blames Congress in Reclamation Trouble

Government Thinks Relief Needed, However

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Conduct not the Interior Department is to blame, in the opinion President Coolidge, because re- have not been afforded settlers some reclamative projects in the West.

Secretary Work, whose administration has been attacked in some quarters, is held by the president to be merely carrying out the law as he sees it.

Thus far, it was said today at the White House, no protest aimed at the Interior Secretary has been received by the President. The latter holds that if Congress at its last session, had passed a bill favored by the administration for relief of settlers, there would be no ground for complaint.

CLEARLY DEFINED

The government's reclamation project is clearly defined by law in President Coolidge's view, and while there is no desire on the part of the administration to change this policy, as a general proposition, it has been the government's contention that relief should be afforded to some localities.

The administration's plan is for work in the West to go on as needed, but an effort will be made to determine before new work is initiated on a large scale whether it will be a paying proposition and whether settlers can be secured.

During the last few years, as President Coolidge sees it, there has been a noticeable decrease in the demand for irrigated land, due in large measure to low prices for farm products, but he expects that as conditions improve there will be a sufficient number of settlers in prospect for the government to speed up its reclamation work.

TO URGE REMOVAL

Published reports from Boise, Idaho, recently have said that a number of western Senators, dissatisfied with reclamation policies, will urge the President to remove Secretary Work. Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, has an engagement with the President, at which the general policy of the Interior Department is expected to provide a subject for discussion, but the Senator has declined to discuss the reports.

CRACKSMEN USE OVERCHARGE

One of Four Burglars Blown Through Window By Blast

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Amateur cracksmen used so much explosive in attempting to open the safe of the Wall, Ltd. at East Ham that the blast blew one of the four burglars through a window, imbedded pieces of the steel safe two inches in the woodwork of the walls and awoke so many people that the band were fortunate to escape the police.

The only trace is the set of drills, skeleton keys, crowbars and jimmies.

TEXAS MEN ORGANIZE KARAKUL SHEEP BODY

INDUSTRY STARTED SEVERAL YEARS AGO REACHES IMPORTANCE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 15.—From a small flock of karakul sheep which were brought to Texas from the remote interior of Asia by Dr. C. C. Young less than twenty years ago, there has been an increase of the animals until the industry of raising them for their pelts and mutton has become of much importance in many parts of the Southwest. As evidence of this fact there has just been incorporated at El Paso the American National Karakul Breeders' Association. The incorporators are Dr. C. C. Young, C. M. Newman and Charles B. Loomis.

It was a few years before the outbreak of the World War that Dr. Young set out to buy a few karakul sheep, and bring them to Texas. He went to Russia and far into the mountains. He speaks Russian fluently and by winning the friendship of the public officials in Asia he finally obtained permission to bring over a few head of the sheep which have been noted from time immemorial for their fur and fat tails. This little flock reached Texas after spending several months on the road, including a season of quarantine at New York. They proved to be admirably adapted to the climate and other conditions of Texas and multiplied rapidly. The new association plans to compile a list of all breeders of karakul sheep and to maintain the purity of the breed. Cross-breeding will be done but these animals will not be classed as karakuls, it is stated.

GIRL WITNESS AVERS BETROTHED ROUGH

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DETROIT Sept. 15.—Because she hasn't a ring, because it hasn't been announced in the newspapers and because her mother hadn't been informed of it, Mabel Clark, 17 years of age, a local high-school girl, does not consider her engagement to Jack Ward an engagement at all. And, therefore, she considered it perfectly seemly to testify against him in the Recorder's Court when he was brought before Magistrate Christopher E. Stein, on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Jack, who considers himself engaged to Mabel, is a salesman for a vacuum cleaner company and a former prize fighter. He had danced with her in the Ramona Park pavilion the other night, she said, and his ordinarily superbative dancing fell somewhat short of perfection. In addition, she asserted, he knocked three dance hall bouncers in (an I for) a row.

Mabel testified she didn't like the way he danced at all and that when she told him so, he became sulky. When she danced with some one else he became angry. And when they went outside to talk it over he became rough. The three musketeers of the dance hall, when they interfered, found him rough, too.

Judge Stein did not take Jack's asserted roughness very seriously, however, and saying something about "faint heart ne'er won fair lady," released the youth on suspended sentence.

BANKERS OFFER GERMAN BONDS

Central Bank of Agriculture Liens on Market Today

Issue Will Provide Funds for Making Farm Loans

Securities Said Not to be Subject to Taxation

An issue of $25,000,000 Central Bank for Agriculture, Germany, (Dutsche Rentenbank Kreniten-stalt Landwirtschaftliche Zentral-bank) first lien 7 per cent gold farm loan sinking fund bonds, due September 1, 1950, will be opered today by the National City Company, Harris Trust and Savings Bank and Lee, Higginson & Co., at a price of 93 and interest to yield 7.53 per cent.

Provision is made for a sinking fund sufficient to pay or redeem the entire issue by maturity. The purpose of the issue is to provide funds for the making of farm loans calculated to increase the productivity of German agriculture.

The Central Bank for Agriculture, Germany, has an authorized capital and surplus of 500,000,000 is to use its own resources and paid-up capital of 170,000,000 reichsmarks ($40,476,190.) It is situated in Berlin and was originated under the auspices of the German government in accordance with a law passed last July.

This Central Bank is the central institution for German agricultural credit organizations. Its purpose is to use its own reasources and the proceeds obtained at home or abroad in granting through existing agricultural credit organizations, some of which have been in existence for more than 100 years, loans or credits for the promotion of agricultural production in all its branches. According to its charter and by-laws the Central Bank for Agriculture is under the supervision of the German government and of the Reichsrat, the upper house of the German parliament.

One interesting point in connection with the loan is that it is not subject to taxation.

LOCAL AREA BUILDING AT HIGH LEVEL

Federal Bureau Survey Also Says Activity is Steadily Increasing

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Los Angeles, including Long Beach, Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice, Pasadena and Riverside, according to a review of conditions just made public by the Labor Department, shows building activities at a high point, and steadily increasing. The Y.M.C.A. is breaking ground on a $750,000 army and navy building at the harbor and also on a $175,000 branch building in the negro section of the city. An oil company is spending about $4,000,000 on new work, including plant extension, warehouses, tanks, wharves and new boats. The county flood control has several big projects, including the San Gabriel dam, at an estimated cost of $35,000,000.

The building trades and common laborers are now better employed than for some time past, and the surplus of help in all lines is being greatly reduced. Crops are good and labor following this class of work is plentiful.

Employment in the metal trades in this district is very fair, especially in foundaries, with the demand for foundry workers about 10 per cent greater than a month ago. Many of the oil tool shops are working part time and one oil company laid off twenty-one men on August 10, last. Some cotton mills are closed, and many plants are operating below normal. A surplus of labor is apparent in every line in Long Beach as harbor work is bringing in more people than can be absorbed and vacationists are seeking employment to help pay vacation expenses.

Some of the fish canneries are working overtime, according to catch. The cotton season will open very shortly in the Salt River Valley of Arizona, and it is anticipated that a large number of workers will be shipped from this locality.

The general condition of California shows that building on an unusually large scale is under way in the leading cities. The supply of craftsmen is adequate in all lines, except bricklaying and plastering.

PRICE-CUT RELIEF SOUGHT

BY EARLE E. CROWE

If hope counted for anything in the oil business, it is likely that the populous colony of independent refiners and marketers in Southern California would have a reduction in the price of crude oil by this time. Ever since the Pan American Western decided that gasoline was selling too high, the independents have been casting about for a leader who feels the same way about crude oil, but thus far, the nomination has been declined. And in the meantime, the small companies are in rather an awkward situation.

As far as the Standard Oil Company is concerned, its attitude on price revisions was indicated in its hesitancy in meeting the Pan-American gasoline reduction, and its refusal to extend the reduction beyond the limits of Southern California. Undoubtedly, the Standard Oil interests or any other company would win the everlasting gratitude of the small refiners if they should initiate a reduction in the price of crude oil, but it happens that price changes usually are predicated on an economic basis. As to whether an economic basis exists for a lower price, there is a decided difference of opinion.

MOTIVE PUZZLES

On the assumption that Pan American Western was motivated solely by economic reasons in leading in the gasoline reduction, the hope is expressed in some quarters that this company would be the first to publish lower crude oil prices if such a course becomes necessary. These opinions are founded on the belief that the Doheny company virtually challenged the leadership of the Standard Oil Company on the Pacific Coast, when it led in the gasoline reduction. Since the early days of the oil industry on this Coast, the Standard Oil Company, by right of its magnitude, has been accorded the privilege of initiating price changes, but it now seems that this prerogative has been questioned by the aggressive Doheny company. At least, this is the way it appears to the observers who are looking for relief from the grindstones of high raw material cost and low selling price.

On second thought, however, the move of the Pan American company assumes less significance. Ordinarily, the competitors of the Standard Oil companies throughout the country have been willing to wait for the Standard companies to lead in the announcements of higher gasoline and crude oil prices. By adopting this course, the other companies escape the criticism that the Standard companies inevitably meet when higher prices are published. And since the increases are dictated by economic laws, the rank and file of the producers and refiners are quite willing to fall in line as soon as the Standard Oil companies break the ice.

POPULARITY SOUGHT

On the other hand, many of the other companies competing with the Standard Oil units are sometimes anxious to capitalize on the popularity that comes to the company that first announces lower selling prices. Oftentimes a considerable volume of business is obtained before the other organizations can meet the lower prices throughout their selling territory. Some years ago, it was the practice of the Standard companies to make surprise price announcements but this policy has been discarded in favor of the twelve-hour advance notice in order to prevent unnecessary confusion among competitors.

In this State, the Standard Oil Company has not always been the first to announce lower prices. In one or two instances, its leading competitors have seen fit to usurp the lead, and the Standard is content to follow. But, with one exception, the Standard Oil Company has always published the first announcements of increases in prices. The exception occurred in 1920, when the Union Oil Company of California obtained permission from municipal authorities to increase the price of gasoline because of the acute shortage in this territory.

QUESTION OF SURVIVAL

As the situation in Southern California stands now, the revenue of all refining marketing companies is curtailed by the reduction in gasoline prices. The larger companies presumably are able to withstand this decrease in income, but the smaller ones are differently situated. Thus far, the Pan American company has shown no inclination to post a lower crude oil price, and since the Standard Oil was not the first to lower gasoline, there is no obligation on that company to lower crude oil. If the Standard Oil had been the first to cut gasoline, a similar action with respect to crude oil would be expected, or a cry of protest would arise from the smaller companies of cut-throat competition from the "big interests."

Possibly, if the Standard Oil Company had been left the decision of cutting gasoline, the announcement would have been forthcoming somewhat later in the year, when, perhaps, the trend of crude oil production would be more clearly perceived. Nevertheless, the statistics on gasoline storage for some time have been pointing to lower prices, and it was only a matter of time until the reduction would come.

As the situation has worked out, the small companies in Southern California are left little encouragement for relief, except an earnest hope for the breaks of the game. It now is the question of the survival of the fittest.

Foreign Trade for August Up Near 1925 High

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Exports from the United States for August were $383,000,000 and imports $375,000,000 leaving a favorable trade balance of $8,000,000.

The figures, made public by the Commerce Department, compared with exports of $330,659,000 and imports of $254,542,000 in August, 1924, when the month's balance of trade favorable to the United States was approximately $76,000,000.

Imports for August, 1925, were larger than those of any month of the calendar year with the exception of March when they were $385,000,000. They were also larger than those of any single month in 1924.

Exports for August have been several times exceeded by monthly records during the last year and a half.

The movement of precious metals was small during August but at the same time the United States increased its stock of gold with imports of $4,861,736 against exports of $2,135,699.

For the year 1925 to date, however, the gold imports have been $55,783,352, with exports of $197,488,601, making the loss of gold for the year $141,756,249.

Silver imports for August were $7,273,298 against exports of $8,284,991.

John McHugh of Mechanics and Metals Bank Has Answer to Question Why Money Rates, in Face of Greatly Increased Activity, Have not Moved Higher.

BY PAUD WILLARD GARRETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Why don't money rates go up? That's a question the people have been asking for weeks and which John McHugh, president of the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, attempts to answer in the current issue of the American Bankers' Association Journal.

As is pointed out in the article the present situation presents an interesting puzzle to financiers interesting puzzle to financiers rapidly. Production is increasing, and new plans promise still greater activity. The month just ended was the largest on record for the building industry, although it was a season of year when a slump normally is expected. The autumn movement of crops is starting earlier than usual. And yet, while most of the conditions are present that formerly sent money rates higher, funds have been in abundant supply at the financial centers.

RESOURCES POOLED

Mr. McHugh, who believes that the days of high money rates are over unless Federal reserve rates are materially increased, says in part:

"The coming and operation of the Federal reserve system have made possible the pooling of our resources and have given us the mechanism for increasing the supply of credit at any time the demand increases without causing rates to go a-soaring. Before the war each bank had to rely to a large extent on its own resources. It had to keep large reserves and, at the first signs of tight money, it began to prepare for a possible stringency. The action on the part of one bank was quickly followed by similar action of another. Uneasy in the knowledge that the money supply could not be expanded beyond a certain limit, the rate was advanced to hold the demand for credit within bounds and to get the higher yield on the credit available. It became a matter of habit for every one to expect a sharp rise in money rates with quickening business activity. Now, even though we have a new order of banking, it seems that many bankers look for a recurrence of this historic advance."

INSPIRES CONFIDENCE

The real reason that money rates do not go up, in the opinion of this authority, "are the comparatively low Federal reserve rate, the coordination furnished through the Federal reserve system and the confidence on the part of member-banks that they can go to their Federal reserve bank at any time with paper eligible under the law and convert it into cash or credit on short notice. It is not so much that the member banks use the facilities of the reserve banks in the extension of credit. The knowledge that they can always look to the reserve banks to rediscount their paper and obtain the funds needed to maintain liquidity is the assurance that enables banks to use their resources to a far greater extent. It was not uncommon before the war—indeed, it was the requirement—for banks in central reserve cities to maintain reserves of 25 per cent in the form of cash in their vaults. Now, they do not keep more than 12 or 13 per cent in reserve, including their balances on deposits with the reserve banks."

The question of ease in the money market is one that cannot be discussed without some reference, of course, to the numerous factors that have helped to make business move more and more on a hand-to-mouth basis. It means that the turnover in business is becoming swifter. Less is required to swing a business since not so much money is tied up in inventories.

ASSOCIATE TELLS DEMPSEY PLANS

Firm to Engage in Business of Underwriting; First Report Incorrect

Champion Jack Dempsey's bow to the financial world will not come in the form of a brokerage connection, but as a member of a firm specializing in the underwriting and financing of deserving industrial and oil companies, it was stated yesterday by Murray Shewitt of New York, Dempsey's associate in the new undertaking. Mr. Shewitt, who is at the Ambassador, is an associate member of the New York curb, and is investigating several Southern California propositions submitted to the new firm.

Announcements published in the East conveyed the impression that Dempsey and Shewitt will open a Wall street brokerage office to handle the regular run of commission business, but Mr. Shewitt announced that the firm will confine its activities solely to the financing of corporations, a business already carried on by him at his New York office. It is probable that a branch office will be opened in Los Angeles to handle the firm's operations on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Shewitt stated that the firm probably will be known as Dempsey & Shewitt.

Cumulative Sinking Fund Beginning March 15, 1926, Sufficient to Pay or Redeem Entire Issue by Maturity.

THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE
REICHSBANK, BERLIN, GERMAN SUPERVISORY TRUSTEE

The "Central Bank for Agriculture" (Deutsche Rentenbank-Kreditanstalt) has been organized to act as a central bank for the existing agricultural credit organizations, some of which have been in operation more than one hundred years, and through these organizations it will utilize its own resources, and loans obtained at home or abroad, in granting credits for the promotion of agricultural production in all its branches. The creation of an institution to remedy the existing deficiency in working capital of German agriculture was suggested by the organization committee appointed under the Dawes plan to recommend detailed provisions with respect to Germany's new Bank of Issue and currency.

The paid-up capital of the Central Bank for Agriculture amounts to $40,476,190 (at the rate of 4.2 marks to the dollar). Bonds may be issued up to six times the paid-up capital or up to eight times with the consent of the Reichsrat, the upper house of the German Parliament.

The bonds of this issue will be the direct credit obligations of the Central Bank for Agriculture, specifically secured by an equivalent amount of mortgages (or cash in lieu thereof), constituting first liens on German agricultural, forestal and horticultural lands, at not exceeding 40% of the official valuation thereof, subject only to certain existing charges. Each of the agricultural credit organizations from which these mortgages are acquired will be individually respectively liable to the Central Bank for Agriculture for the full amount of the unamortized principal of such mortgages. No other bonds may be issued, or indebtedness contracted, which will share in the specific security provided for this issue.

The business operations and policies of the Central Bank for Agriculture are under the supervision of the German Government.

The foregoing is set forth more fully in a letter from the managing directors, copies of which may be had upon application to the undersigned.

Application will be made to list these bonds on The New York Stock Exchange

We offer these Bonds if, as and when issued and received by us, subject to the approval of our counsel, Messrs. Shearman & Sterling, New York City, and Dr. Ernst Wolff, Berlin. Delivery in temporary form is expected on or about September 28, 1925.

"Why Not Be Sure?"

It it not always the individual, having made the most money, who is now the best off.

Probably you know of many such cases—people who today are comfortably situated, because they have always obtained a reasonably profitable return from their investments, together with assured safety.

Can you afford to speculate in any way? The return on your money is important, but entirely secondary to complete assurance of safety. You can get 8% on Real Estate First Mortgages. This is a splendid yield, especially when you consider there has been no loss to any investor in First Mortgages, secured by improved city properties, purchased through the Mortgage Discount Company.

We suggest that you call at our office at your earliest convenience in order to inspect and select mortgages most fitting to your investment plan.

BOND QUOTATIONS

RAIL ISSUES HEAVY

[BY A. P. MIDDY WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. — Bond prices churned around considerably in today's active trading without following a definite trend. Railroad issues yielded to heavy profit taking, but losses in this group were outweighed by the strength of the public utilities, which followed the leadership of local traction liens. Total transactions exceeded $16,000,000, indicating that increased interest in the stock market had extended to bond trading as well.

Price movements in the railroad list were confusing, with most issues losing ground. Denver and Rio Grande Western 5s encountered the heaviest volume of realizing sales, falling back about 2 points. The heaviness of Seaboard, Pere Marquette and Chicago and Terre Haute liens contrasted with improvement in Northern Pacific and Missouri Pacific bonds, but changes either way were insignificant.

Approval by the Secretary of Agriculture of the Armour-Morris packing merger, which has been under investigation by Federal authorities for several years, promoted a good demand for Morris & Co., 4 1-2 per cent bonds, lifting the price 2 1-4 points. Oil company liens were lower.

Last-minute developments in the New York City primary campaign, which drew to a close today, stimulated buying of the local traction issues. Bonds of virtually all the rapid transit and street railway companies moved up 1 to 3 points.

Public offering of the $25,000,000 loan for the German rentenbank, reorganized as a central bank for agriculture, will be made tomorrow through a syndicate headed by the National City Company. Priced at 93, the twenty-five-year 7 per cent gold bonds will yield the investor 7.53 per cent. A substantial portion of the loan will be sold in Sweden, Holland, Switzerland, and other European countries. Proceeds from the sale will be used to make advances for the promotion of German agricultural production. The $10,000,000 issue of Seaboard Air Line Railway 6 per cent bonds, offered today, was promptly subscribed.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices, on Sept. 15, on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond. These quotations are received over Associated Press leased wire and are omitted when they are same as the high.

MEDIUM WOOLS GAIN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Trade in medium grades of wool is showing a little improvement. Business in general, however, is rather quiet, actual sales depending much on individual needs. Fine wools, such as delaines of the better class are selling in limited quantities. Some of this stock has sold up to 54 cents in the grease. Three-eighths and quarter blood continue in demand.

QUOTATIONS FOR COTTON SHADE DOWN

Slump Following Brisk Rise Seen as Natural Turn in Market

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The cotton market was somewhat reactionary today. After the advance of the last week of 200 to 250 points this was only natural with the bulk of the heavy and scattered short interest, outstanding before the issuance of the last government report, having been covered lately and replaced with a large speculative long interest.

Prices are near the top reached about two months ago, when the contract list ranged from 25 1-2 to 25 3-4 cents, with the present advance up from 21 3-4 to 23 1-4 cents of only three weeks ago. Many in the trade believe that, with the market around the 25-cent level again, much of the reported crop damage of the last three weeks has been discounted. Consequently there is a feeling of caution developing against the following rise with any considerable new purchases.

There were more rains of an undesired character in parts of Oklahoma and Northern and Western Texas, but, on the other hand, there was not enough rainfall reported or in sight from today's forecasts for the Central States to relieve apprehensions of serious crop damage from the unprecedented hot wave.

The market had an irregular opening, starting with declines of 20 to 23 points from yesterday's closing bulge. This was due to the Liverpool market being checked in its recent rise by a large amount of fresh hedge selling and profit-taking there, with Manchester spinners refusing to follow the rise. On this decline October contracts sold at 24 1-4 cents, December about 24 5-8 cents; January, 24 cents; March, 24 3-4 cents, and May, 24.60.

This was followed by the complete recovery of that decline and an advance of 5 to 8 points for some months over yesterday's closing, October selling at 24.58; December, 24.95; January, 24.27; March, 24.59, and May, 24.88. Extensive profit-taking and considerable fresh hedge selling sent the market off to the early low levels in the fourth hour, but in the later trading there was enough new buying support to rally prices to about yesterday's closing.

At Liverpool cotton futures closed with a net advance of 3 to 8 points against the early rise of 13 to 16 of their points, and what should have been a sustained advance of 10 to 13 to have equalled our closing of yesterday.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE: The bulk of yesterday's run was late in arriving. However, demand was fairly active and a good clearance was made. Prices generally on all classes held fully steady with most of the offerings only common and medium grades. Four loads of medium steers averaging 915 to 1100 pounds sleared from 7.35@7.50, while one load averaging 944 pounds topped at 7.55. Several lots of common kinds sold downward to 6.00, with a few going out for feeding purposes at 6.25.

Two loads of good 797 and 820-pound Utah heifers topped for the day at 6.35, while the bulk of fat she stock cleared from 5.00@5.75, with common kinds downward to 4.50. A load of Arizona heifers averaging 671 pounds made 5.75, while two cars of 855 and 868-pound Arizona cows turned for 5.40, with a load of common 854-pound weights at 4.60. Canners and cutters turned largely from 2.50@3.75. Bulls held fully steady, most bolognas clearing from 4.00@5.00, with a few beef types around 5.25.

CALVES: Active demand at strong prices developed for yesterday's small supply and an early clearance was made. A few native vealers cleared from 10.00@11.00, while a sizable lot of 213 to 223-pound Arizona calves cleared from 8.50@9.00, while 23 head of 379-pound Utah calves moved 9.00. Other calves, mostly common and medium Arizonas and Utahs, turned from 7.00@8.25, with very thin kinds down to 5.00 and below.

HOGS: Demand was not overly active for yesterday's supply, estimated around 700, and two lots still remained unsold at a late hour. Prices generally were 10@25c higher than Monday. Four loads of 183 to 213-pound butchers realized 13.10, while a load of choice 199-pound weights topped for the day at 13.25. Packing sows went over largely from 12.00@12.50.

SHEEP: None. Good and choice lambs are quotable from 12.50@14.50, with common to choice ewes from 3.50@7.50.

Empire Gas & Fuel Reserve Properties

Empire Gas & Fuel, which is today the fourth largest operator in the petroleum world—with the single exception of Standard Oil—has, besides its active properties in the mid-continent field, control of approximately 1,000,000 acres for future operations.

Empire earnings may therefore be relied on to continue at their present highly satisfactory level.

We offer Empire Gas and Fuel Preferred, a listed stock, to yield about 8%.

REACTION HITS STOCK MARKET

Early Advance is Halted by Selling Raid

Losses at Close Range from 1 to 8 Points

High-Priced Specialty List Suffers Most

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Speculative selling, based largely on the belief that the recent sustained advance had impaired the technical position of the market, turned the course of prices reactionary today after an early period of strength. Net declines of 1 to 2 1-2 points were recorded by many industrial shares, with a number of high priced specialities breaking 3 to 8 points below yesterday's final quotations. Total sales again fell just short of the 2,000,000-share mark.

While there was nothing in the day's news to influence the market movement, considerable bearish propaganda relating to proposed deflationary legislation was in circulation. The money situation continued easy, call loans renewing at 4 3-4 per cent and then dropping to 4, despite the increased demands placed upon the market by United States Treasury operations and income tax payments.

WILLYS ACTIVE

Another enormous turnover took place in Willys-Overland common, which touched a new top at 23 3-8 and then reacted to 21 7-8, off 1-2 on the day. Total sales of this issue ran close to 200,000 shares. Mack Trucks broke 1 1-2 points to 206 3-4 and Chrysler fell 5 to 143 1-2 and then rallied to 150. Net losses of a point or more were recorded by Studebaker, Packard, Pierce Arrow, White Motors and Stewart-Warner. Nash Motors jumped to 18 points to a record top at 466 on one sale.

A thin market developed in some of the high priced specialities, General Electric and United States Iron Pipe each falling 8 points to 317 and 164 1-2, respectively. Sears-Roebuck dropped 6 5-8 to 215 3-8 and American Can fell 6 1-4 to 240 3-4 and then rallied feebly.

STEEL LOWER

Standard industrials also lost ground. United States Steel common closed 1 1-8 lower at 123 1-2 after touching a new high on the current movement. Baldwin showed a net loss of two points at 119 5-8 and United States Rubber was off 2 1-2 at 57 3-4.

Heavy buying of some of the Eastern coalers featured the trading in the railroad shares. Baltimore and Ohio closed more than a point higher at 91 3-4 after having touched 93, and reading showed a net gain of nearly a point at 86 3-8 after having crossed 88.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. Further irregularity developed in the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling held firm around 4.84 3-8 French francs were slightly higher around 4.72 cents and Italian and Belgian currencies were heavy, the latter falling below 4.35 cents to a new low record for the year. Bills on Oslo were again in brisk demand with the result that Norwegian kroner ruled about 35 points higher around 21.65 cents. Polish zloty recovered 10 points of yesterday's 40-point drop by rallying to 17.60 cents.

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—What is an acceptance?

The question is one that most of us have asked since the acceptance came into use here not so many years ago, but the answers have not all been satisfying. A recent and an especially illuminating answer is made in the August 31 issue of Acceptance Bulletin by a woman, Miss Laura M. Joran, assistant to the vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles not only understands her subject, but has a gift of narration that makes her article a real contribution.

In Europe this form of credit is old and the acceptance is used in preference to the open account more commonly known here, but our own larger manufacturing concerns and exporting firms now are encouraging the use of acceptances. Says Miss Joran:

"In selling a bill of goods the manufacturer will draw a draft against the purchaser, who, on presentation, accept the draft by indorsement. That is, he writes or stamps across the face of the bill, 'Accepted September 14, 1925,' for example, 'Payable December 14, 1925, at the First National Bank of San Francisco.' The draft is returned to the manufacturer to be held until maturity.

"This is the story of a trade acceptance, simply told.

"A manufacturer, having in his files a number of acceptances received in payment of goods sold to his customers, needs funds, perhaps to replenish his stock of raw materials. He will indorse these trade acceptances and take them to a bank where his own credit is established, and, upon satisfying his bankers regarding the credit standing of the acceptor, they will purchase the acceptances at a discount; that is, the manufacturer receives the amount of the bill less a discount charged by the bank for the accommodation.

"In general business practice the manufacturer frequently discounts each acceptance at his bank as soon as received, rather than wait until he has several bills of this kind, in order to have immediate use of the money. When the manufacturer indorses these bills they are called two-name paper, because two persons are responsible for the payment of the sum involved, the maker of the draft and the indorser.

"At maturity the acceptances are sent out for collection to the bank designated on the face of the bill, where the purchaser already has provided funds for this purpose."

Miss Joran continues as follows:

"If we stop to dream about the sphere of utility of acceptances our fancy has no boundary. No limits. An unknown imaginative bookkeeper in a bank or broker's office, figuring discount on acceptances, can feel that he has an active, definite part in advancing world trade, in the adjustment of exchange rates and even in the rehabilitation of the war-devastated countries across the Atlantic, especially when a bill is noticed covering a shipment of locomotives to Antwerp.

Wheat Futures Fraction Up on Short Covering

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—A continuation of the heavy short covering, credited to eastern account, gave the wheat market a stronger tone, after a break of 1¼c at the start. While the best figures were not maintained, the close was at a net gain of ⅝@1c, with September and December at 1.50⅝@1.50¾ and May at 1.53⅝@1.53¾. Corn showed independent weakness and lost ⅛@⅜c for the day, with September 94¼c, December 83¾c and May 87¼c. Oats were ⅛@¼c lower and rye ¼c lower to ⅜c higher.

Buying of wheat futures by houses with eastern connections was persistent and steadily absorbed the offerings from local traders, and from spreaders who sold here against purchases in Winnipeg. The latter market was ⅝@1⅛c higher at the last, while Minneapolis gained ⅜@1⅛c. At the top December was 1.51⅛, or 4c above the low on Monday, and at the last a majority of the local elements were regarded as having taken in their short lines.

Sentiment has changed somewhat among wheat traders and there was more general buying of futures by commission houses than of late. While foreign news remains bearish, with Liverpool reporting further pressure of Russian wheat, and closing unchanged to 1¼d lower, there were reports from the Northwest that country offerings were decreasing and that rains had interfered with the movement to some extent. In parts of the Northwest the tendency to hold back cash wheat for higher prices is so pronounced that some of the cash houses have ceased to ship the

WHY BOND BUYERS LIKE "CERTIFIED" FIRST MORTGAGES

Many investors in Bonds, recognizing that there is no greater security to be had than in a First Mortgage investment, are never-the-less prevented from investing in that class of security, because of the fact that there is much inconvenience attached to the ordinary individual mortgage investment.

There are the many details that must be given expert attention, legal forms, titles, taxes, etc., as well as oftimes annoyance in collecting the interest.

"Certified" First Mortgages have solved the problem for the investors. All the details are attended to and guaranteed by Ralph G. Wolff Co. and the Mortgage Note has convenient interest coupons attached which are payable at our office every three months.

BROKERAGE FIRM IN BIG GROWTH

Hornblower & Weeks Move Into Commodious Offices in New York Life Building in Chicago; Has Largest Board Room in That City

Hornblower & Weeks, one of the oldest and largest brokerage firms in the United States, has opened large and commodious offices in the New York Life Building in Chicago, said to be unsurpassed by any other brokerage or investment house in the country for meeting the requirements of customers and employees. This action was taken by the firm to meet the necessity for more space to care for the rapidly growing business.

Among the striking features is the size of the board room, one of the largest in this country and the largest in Chicago, covering a floor area of 2700 square feet. The stock board measures forty-four feet in length and is about eleven feet high. On this board are listed 812 stocks of the New York Stock Exchange, all the active stocks of the Chicago Stock Exchange and, in addition, the leading stocks of the New York Curb Exchange and the Boston Stock Exchange.

Every modern convenience for investors and traders is provided for the transaction of business. The customers' room is commodious in every way. A transflux projector seven feet long, the first to be installed in Chicago, for throwing instantly on a screen the symbols of New York stocks traded in, is a unique feature for making known each and every trade. Lamson tubes have been installed for the quick transmission of orders and messages.

In 1888 Henry Hornblower and Secretary John W. Weeks, then young men, formed a partnership to do a general banking and brokerage business under the name of Hornblower & Weeks, and on August 6, 1888, began business in modest quarters in the old Merchants' Exchange Building, 51 State street, Boston. The new firm began business with one employee, James J. Phelan, who eleven years later was admitted to partnership and is now one of the senior members of the firm. At the outset the firm became members of the Boston Stock Exchange and later took a membership in the New York Stock Exchange in order to handle the growing business.

The growth of the Hornblower & Weeks organization has been continuous, necessitating opening offices in seven cities—Boston, New York, Chicago, Providence, Detroit, Portland, Me., and Cleveland. Since the beginning there have been seventeen partners admitted to the firm, all of whom, except the founders, rose from the ranks within. Of these, three have retired—O. E. Weller, now United States Senator from Maryland, 1903; Hon. John W. Weeks, now Secretary of War, in 1913, and James H. Wainwright, in 1916. One member, Andrew S. Woods, died in 1914.

The remaining thirteen members are Henry Hornblower (the founder,) 1888, now in Boston; James J. Phelan, 1900, in Boston; Edward L. Geary, 1902, in Boston; John W. Prentiss, 1906, in New York; Henry N. Sweet, 1909, in Boston; Charles T. Lovering, 1910, in New York; Ralph Hornblower, the son of the founder, 1913, in Boston; James A. Fayne, 1917, in New York; James S. Dunstan, 1917, in New York; Herbert Sierck, 1917, in New York; Paul B. Skinner, 1917, in Chicago; Percy W. Brown, 1923, in Cleveland, and Alfred R. Meyer, 1924, in New York.

Supplementing the seven offices maintained, Hornblower & Weeks have private wire connections, making it possible to reach practically every large city in the United States and Canada, thus keeping in close touch with all security markets.

The banking quarters have been fitted with new fixtures and a new vault has been installed.

BAD CHECKS

The following bulletin on bad-check writing was issued yesterday by the forgery detail of the Los Angeles Police Department, detective bureau:

A bad check operator using the name of C. S. Smith, his issued a number of worthless checks in this city, and merchants are warned to be on the lookout for him. He is in the habit of using a customers' draft on the Continental National Bank, making the check payable to himself, filling in the name of some oil company, and representing to the merchant who cashes them that they are salary checks.

Following is a description of the man: American, height 5 feet 10 inches, weight 150 pounds, about 31 years of age, light hair, slim build, blue eyes, light complexion, occupation chauffeur or truck driver. When last seen were wearing clothes.

OUTPUT OF LIGHT FIRM INCREASES

Edison Company Produces 35 Per Cent of Total of California Supply

Southern California Edison Company, during July, last, produced 214,597,000 kilowat hours of electrical energy, which is an increase of 94 per cent over the corresponding month of last year, according to a report of the Geological Survey, division of power resources. The total amount of power produced in the United States during that month was 5,337,699,000 kilowat hours, and in the State of California, 607,569,000 kilowat hours. The increase in the United States over July of last year was 16 per cent, and the increase in California was 22 per cent.

California produced 11.38 per cent of the total electrical energy output of the United States during the month of July, and Southern California Edison Company produced 4.02 per cent of the total output of the country. The Edison company produced 35.35 per cent of the total output of electrical energy of the State of California.

The Edison company produced 95 per cent of its total output from the use of water power, and the State of California produced from water power 85 per cent of its total output, which shows the importance of this State from a hydroelectric standpoint. The percentage of electrical energy produced from water power in the United States during July was only 35 per cent.

The State of New York is the only State in the Union that produced more electrical energy during the month of July than California. New York's total amounting to 819,398,000 kilowat hours.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

BY WIRELESS—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

(Copyright, 1925, New York Evening Post, Inc.)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Financial markets were lifeless today, a holiday tone prevailing. The undertone was generally good, however, except in home rails.

Cheap money and the growing hopes that there will be no rise in the bank rates this year, provided the background for the favorable trend. The foreign market closed strong, especially in the Chinese group, where stocks were in scant supply. Oil shares were dull, while rubber stocks turned quiet.

The easy disposition of money at the moment may be gathered from the fact that the Manchester Corporation sold one-year bills today just under 4 per cent.

German securities were in better demand on the arrangement of American credits, which were believed to be greatly needed.

Investments held steady, while foreign issues were in rather good demand. There was increasing activity in rubber shares, which were well maintained. Oils were inclined to droop. Kaffirs remained dull.

The strength of foreign securities was helped by a further recovery of rates on Paris, due most likely to nothing more than sentiment over the departure of the French delegates for America to take up the question of debt settlements.

It is felt here that on whatever terms the French funding arrangements are concluded, the effect will ultimately be good on French finances and credit. Somewhat similar feelings are having a beneficial influence on the lira.

Rates on Genoa have been strengthened by suggestions of plans for stabilizing the Italian currency, but it is not believed that either France or Italy can effectively stabilize their currencies until arrangements have been completed for debt funding.

Anxiety is chiefly felt over the Italian situation because of the undoubted inability of that country to make important external payments for some time to come.

JAY-DRIVERS

Maybe it is time to stop growling at the jay-walkers and turn a little of the public scorn to the jay-drivers.

The Clearinghouse

News of Spring Street

Stocks generally moved lower on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, with Los Angeles Investment and United Oil leading the downward tendency. Los Angeles Investment opened at 6 and sold off to 5.98, a net loss of 4 points from Monday's close. United Oil was off on profit taking, closing at 55 1-2, 2 1-2 points lower.

Union Oil was a heavy trader, losing fractionally in early trading but closed steady at 34 1-2. Union Associates closed at 38 1-2, the same as Monday's close. Marine Oil closed 1 1-2 points lower at 1.57 1-2.

Southern California Edison common sold firm at 122, and the 7 per cent and 6 per cent preferred were steady at 109 1-4 and 96 respectively.

San Francisco Gold was the active feature of the mining group, adding 2 points to 23, a new record high. The August mill clean-up of the San Francisco Gold properties showed 434 ounces of gold, which are expected to bring more than $7000. This was the best month for the property and was made entirely from the prosecution of development work in the mine.

Addresses Bankers

Rudolph Dunbar, resident manager of the Canada Life assurance Company yesterday addressed a meeting of bankers and insurance men at the Biltmore on the subject of "Leaks and Losses of Capital and Revenue."

Mr. Dunbar, who recently came to Los Angeles from Detroit, Mich., where he held a similar position with the company, discussed some recent analyses of estate and wills, showing that leaks and losses in estates and wills are generally unconscious, serious, unnecessary and preventable.

Joins Investment House

Andrew W. Stewart, president of the Investment Bond and Share Company, located in the Van Nuys Building, announced yesterday the appointment of Harry L. Jones as manager of sales for the company.

Mr. Jones, a resident of California since 1904, with the exception of six years spent in Chicago and Philadelphia, has been for several years connected with R. H. Moulton & Co., and is well known in Los Angeles financial circles.

Plans Direct Service

The Western Union is preparing to give direct service in quotations of both stocks and commodities as far west as the Pacific Coast, it was learned locally yesterday. Direct ticker service on quotations is now given only as far as Cleveland.

Arrangements are being made, it was stated, which will permit printing of quotations on tickers here almost simultaneously with their publication in New York.

It is understood, after this extension is perfected, the company will extend the ticker service to New Orleans and other southern points not reached at present. The tickers will all be operated from the Walker-street offices at New York.

Comstock Returns

Walter H. Comstock, vice-president of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank, has just returned from a vacation trip to the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Comstock stated he was surprised at the large volume of tourist traffic, and that this has become a most important factor in the economic life of the islands. Mr. Comstock said:

"The Los Angeles Steamship Company was said to be carrying approximately 40 per cent of the passenger traffic to the islands, the other 60 per cent being distributed among six other lines. There is little doubt that Los Angeles is the logical point of departure for Hawaii, and we may expect a large increase in travel along this route."

School Bonds Offered

A new issue of $250,000 Long Beach city school district 5 per cent bonds is being offered by the Security Company at prices to yield from 4 to 4.55 per cent. The bonds mature serially from March 1, 1926 to 1954.

The assessed valuation of Long Beach in 1924 was $205,821,980, and the bonded debt including this issue amounts to $4,568,566. The city of Long Beach is the second largest city in Los Angeles county, with a population of 104,700.

To Address Statisticians

"National, International and Local Business Conditions," will be the subject of addresses by several competent authorities before the regular meeting of the Western Statistical Association this evening.

Pennsylvania Public Utility Bonds Offered

A new issue of $1,360,000 Pennsylvania Gas and Electric Company first lien and refunding mortgage gold bonds, series "A" 5½ per cent sinking fund, will be offered today by A. C. Allyn and Company at 97 and accrued interest to yield over 5.70 per cent.

The consolidated earnings statement of the properties to be owned by the Pennsylvania Gas and Electric Company directly or through a subsidiary about to be acquired for the twelve months ended May 31, last, shows a balance of net earnings practically two and one-half times annual interest requirements on the entire funded debt outstanding with the public.

The company covenants to provide an annual sinking fund for the series "A" bonds beginning September 1, 1927, equivalent to 1 per cent of the principal amount of series "A" bonds outstanding, to be used exclusively for the purchase or redemption of bonds of this series.

CAR LOADINGS FOR WEEK SHOW DROP

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Freight-car loadings in the week ended the 5th inst., the American Railway Association announced tonight, were 21,490 cars less than the mark of 1,124,436 cars established in the preceding week. The decrease was attributed to a falling off in the loading of coal, grain and grain products, forest products and ore, although miscellaneous freight, merchandise and less-than-carload-lot freight, coke and live stock registered increases.

Bay City Figures Disclose Huge Decline

Drop Since 1900 Placed at 1,996,162 Tons

Los Angeles Oil Takes Lead as Bunker Port

Proof that the merchant fleets of the world have definitely turned from coal to oil for fuel is given in figures made public yesterday by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, showing that the total bunker-coal imports to date in 1925, have been only 3823 tons at San Francisco, as compared to more than 15,000,000 tons of crude and fuel oil shipped from Los Angeles Harbor.

San Francisco was once one of the world's greatest bunkering ports. Today, with the shift to oil fuel, more than 96 per cent of all vessels traveling the Great Circle Route to the Orient, replenish their fuel supply at this port. The adoption of the Diesel engine as a prime mover has also been responsible for the increase in oil consumption.

In 1900 San Francisco imported approximately 2,000,000 tons of coal from foreign countries, exclusive of its supply from Utah fields; as against its 3838 tons in 1925.

Shipments of fuel and crude oil from Los Angeles Harbor during the present year will exceed 125,000,000 barrels, it was indicated yesterday, following a survey of stocks on hand and unfilled contracts. The bulk of cargoes during the remainder of the year will go to the Atlantic Coast and the Orient.

TROPHIES OF WAR TO ARRIVE AT PORT

Five hundred tons of war material, captured by American forces on the western front, during the World War, will arrive here tomorrow from the East Coast aboard the Munson-McCormick liner Manhattan, for distribution among California National Guard units and American Legion posts.

The former German ordnance includes machine guns, field pieces, howitzers, minenwerfers and various other death-dealing machines. It was assembled at an army artillery park and is California's share of the hundreds of thousands of captured German pieces which will be apportioned to the National Guard of the various States. The Manhattan is in command of Capt. C. J. Christoffersen.

The British light cruiser Capetown, a frequent visitor to Los Angeles Harbor, is due in the port tomorrow morning for a two-day stay before proceeding to the West Indies via the Panama Canal. She is now in Hawaiian and British Columbia and was present at the Diamond Jubilee celebration at San Francisco in company with the Canadian Air Force Patrician, which yesterday returned to her base at Victoria. The Capetown, one of Great Britain's post-war squadron leaders, is a unit of the Royal West Indian Squadron.

Addition of a second passenger steamer to the White Flyer Line's service between this port and San Francisco was announced yesterday by J. H. Fay, general agent for Hawaiian interests. The new steamer, the name of which was not disclosed, will enter service immediately after October 1 and will run opposite the liner Humboldt.

Mr. Fay also announced that following the increase of the passenger service, the steamer Santa Antonia would be returned to the run to handle an expected increase in freight offerings.

Five hundred passengers from New York, Havana and the Canal will arrive here Saturday aboard the Panama-Pacific liner Manchuria. In the Manchuria's holds are twenty automobiles, the property of passengers who will make tours of varying lengths following their arrival in Southern California.

In this list are Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan, Miss Helen Vaughan, and Miss Virginia Vaughan of St. Joseph, Mo., who motored to New York, boarded the Manchuria in Panama and motored here and later plan to motor home. Also arriving are Mr. and Mrs. Nelson A. Howard, California tourists who are bringing a 1925 car purchased in New York. Others to disembark here include three representatives of the New York Life Insurance Company, Mrs. Frederick Lacy and Miss R. Landau, who are en route to Coronado to attend convention; Dr. and Mrs. Rafael D. Garcia of New York; Mrs. Harriet Bullitt, editorial engineer; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roach of Canton, O.; H. J. Mack, Miss Aimee Mack and Miss Mary Alice O'Donnell, all of Cleveland; Roy J. Golding and Frank J. Williams of Rochester; Miss M. Chirillo and Miss C. Franklin of Mount Vernon; and M. and Mrs. Thornwood, Mrs. R. A. Thoroughgood and P. C. Doyle of Brooklyn.

Mariposa First Mortgage Liens Offered Today

The Strauss Corporation will offer today an issue of $100,000 first mortgage 7 per cent bonds, secured by the completed unit of the Mariposa Garden Apartments in this city, valued at $202,000. The bonds on the second unit of this property, were offered several weeks ago and have been oversubscribed. In commenting on this offering, George J. Hartman, vice-president of the Strauss Corporation, said:

"Los Angeles is less adequately supplied with buildings of the type of the Mariposa Garden Apartments, than any other city in the entire country. This building will give Los Angeles residents, at moderate rentals, unusually spacious apartments with home environments, and will contain such facilities as are found in the finest apartment buildings on Riverside Drive, New York, and the North Shore district, Chicago."

OPENING CRANBERRY PRICE ANNOUNCED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ASTORIA (Or.) Sept. 15.—Opening cranberry price was announced here by the Pacific Cranberry Exchange as $3.50 a box. Harvesting of the crop in Oregon and Washington is well under way. On basis of acreage already picked early estimates of 50,000 bushels for the district will be easily reached. WASHINGTON, Septiembre 15. El ministerio de Correos ha convocado contratistas para el transporte de artículos postales por ocho nuevas rutas aéreas.

Al congreso y no al ministro Work le ha echado la culpa el Presidente Coolidge del descontento que puede haberse dejado sentir entre los agricultores de tierras reivindicadas para el cultivo.

El ministerio de Comercio informa de que, para fin de Agosto, la balanza comercial arrojaba un saldo de $8,000,000 en favor de los Estados Unidos.

Dícese que el Presidente Coolidge está dispuesto a oír los argumentos en que se apoya una petición de indulto para el señor McCray, que fué gobernador de Indiana.

Caillaux Tiene Esperanzas de un Arreglo Favorable

PARIS, Septiembre 15. — "Bien sé que he afrontado una ardua y difícil tarea", manifestó Joseph Caillaux, al dirigirse a los miembros de la Asociación de la Prensa Angloamericana, en un almuerzo dado hoy en honor soy. "Pero", agregó el Ministro de Hacienda, que mañana sale para los Estados Unidos a la cabeza de la delegación francesa de la deuda, "creo que la supervivencia de nuestra civilización exige la cooperación de todas las naciones del mundo occidental, y tengo la impresión de que podré llegar a arreglos satisfactorios con nuestros amigos de Norteamérica".

El señor Caillaux ha recibido en estos últimos diez días favorables noticias de Washington, y mucho lo han animado significados financieros y hombres de negocios norteamericanos.

NOTAS LOCALES

Se Suspende la Ejecución de dos Asesinos

En la sesión celebrada ayer en ésta por la Suprema Corte, se dictó suspensión de ejecución en favor de dos reos convictos de asesinato. Uno de ellos es Earl J. Clark, presunto "bootlegger" de la ciudad portefia, sentenciado a la horca por haber dado muerte a Charles Silva, marinero filipino, con quien riñó por una muchacha que lleva el mote de "la Muchacha de la Rosa".

El otro es Jacob Suhr, que debió haber sido colgado este último viernes por el asesinato de la señora Elsie Currie, propietaria de hotel de Oakland. Suhr tendrá un respiro de dos meses por lo menos, pues van a presentarse el 15 de Noviembre próximo los escritos finales relativos a su causa.

Abogado Aprehendido

Los tenientes detectives Canto y Hermans detuvieron ayer tarde, a última hora, a A. D. Melgarejo Randolph, quien dice ser abogado y consejero mejicano. Su arresto tiene relación con la campaña que está haciendo la policía contra los explotadores de lo que ha dado en llamarse "fábricas de divorcios".

La primera detención que se llevó a cabo en esta campaña fué la de la señora Reba Wylie, practicada por los citados detectives en el edificio Byrne, del 253 de South Broadway, donde tiene su oficina la señora Wylie. Randolph fué arrestado en su despacho, sito en el edificio California, esquina de la Segunda y Broadway.

Según manifiestan los detectives, la investigación de los trabajos de las llamadas "fábricas de divorcios" ha revelado que muchas personas de elevada posición social en Los Angeles tenían proyectado aprovecharse de las "fábricas", y obtener por ese método su libertad en un plazo de cinco a veinte días.

Se Sentenciará a un Individuo que Vendía Licor a Colegiales

DEPORTES

Boxeo

Mushy Callahan y Ace Hudkins van a hacerse frente esta noche en "la pelea del año", en el Auditorio Olímpico. Desde que se legalizó este deporte, es ésta la contienda que más interés ha despertado. Débese a que ambos muchachos se desarrollaron en esta ciudad. Las convincentes victorias de Callahan sobre Dode Bercot, "Spug" Myers y Johnny O'Donnell, el haber puesto k.o. a Russie Leroy, y su triunfo sobre "Red" Herring, lo clasifican como uno de los jóvenes púgiles que más prometen hoy día.

LEG SORES

The Long-Looked-For Secret Has Been Found

For a great many years millions of people have tried to heal these troubles with medicines and failed. A combination of everything necessary to use in cases of leg ulcers has been found. It is not a medicine, but a method. We teach you how to use it at home. More astonishing is that you do not have to lie in bed off the foot. The more you work and walk the quicker it heals. To stop the pain you now suffer is only a matter of a few hours. Now is your chance. Send at once for a free book, or call VISCOSE CO., 803 South Lake St., Los Angeles, Calif. (VCuinir 6069. (One block south of Westlake Park.)

HINTS FOR WOMEN

More important to women than the question of food, the latest fancy work to beautify the home or points in etiquette or dress, is the subject of health. There are thousands of women everywhere affected with stubborn ailments which make life a burden. These ailments may be easily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a woman's medicine for woman's ills prepared from roots and herbs. After three generations of success it is recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.—[Advertisement.

BULLET-PROOF VEST RIDDLED

Owner Calls for Water on Seeing Result of Real Test

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LYNN (Mass.) Sept. 15.—Patrolman Dyczus of the Lynn (Mass.) police department paid $75 for a bullet-proof vest. Donning the garment, he invited brother officers to shoot at him. They refused. He even offered his own revolver. Still they refused.

Very much peeved, but still desirous of showing his friends what a protection the vest was, Dyczus placed the garment on the ground and fired six shots at it.

Every bullet went through the vest.

SHADES OF DIOGENES! TWO SLICES!
Seafarer Gets Medal for Returning Extra Bit of Ham in Sandwich

Herman Wiemers, second officer of the Catalina liner Avalon, yesterday was presented by his fellow officers with a gold medal for scrupulous honesty, and what Capt. Mussetter termed in his formal presentation as "one of the most heroic deeds that have come to my attention in forty years of seafaring."

It seems that a lunch stand on the Catalina Terminal building, under contract with the Wilmington Transportation Company, caters to the luncheon needs of the officers of steamships. Wiemers fell to Mr. Wiemers's lot to serve a ham sandwich on one of unusual circumstances. Upon biting into the sandwich he found that it contained a slice of Underwood ham, instead of the usual ham. Wiemers, being honest, removed the extra slice and inscribed a letter to the restaurateur, a gesture which subsequently was brought to the attention of his fellow officers.

In addition to the gold medal Mr. Wiemers was given a basket containing a huge sandwich composed of an entire loaf of bread, a layer each of ham and cheese, and ship bolts, tastily garnished with Wrigley lemon drops.

BEAR FELLED BY LOGGER'S LUMBER AX
Woodsman Drops Enemy Grizzly Mother Charging to Protect Two Cubs

With a story of an encounter with a grizzly bear in which a British Columbia logger, armed only with his double-bitted ax, saved his life when he killed the bear that, with her two cubs, had contested the trail, Dr. F. Lenvitt of Los Angeles and a hunting party has left Vancouver for his home here.

The encounter with the bear occurred near Butedale. The party was packing supplies over the trail with the logger bringing up the Indian file. The two bears were passed without being molested and the mother grizzly immediately saw her cubs and reared on her hind legs and charged straight for the party.

Other members who were armed could not shoot as the bear came straight along the narrow trail. The logger swung the ax and split the bear's neck.

ELECTRIC COMPANY ASKS DEPOSIT RISE

Transient electric customers of the Southern California Edison Company will be required to pay $3.50 service installation charge with the company's regular service if an application to the Railroad Commission in San Francisco yesterday is approved. The company has been receiving a $2 deposit for installations. R. H. Ingalls, general manager of the company, said that permission to increase the charge is asked because it has been found that the present deposit is not sufficient to protect the company in the event that the consumer fails to pay his bills. He guaranty only is required of consumers in rented dwellings, he said, and is refunded when service is discontinued and the bill paid.

Rough Roads to Higher Education

FROSH GET FIRST LESSONS

Sophomores Show Southern Branch Fledglings Initial Steps to Higher Education

Some of the finer points of higher education were imbibed orally and physically by 800 or more bare-kneed and surprised freshmen at the Southern Branch of the University of California yesterday. Their self-appointed tutors in the preliminary steps toward acquiring a college degree were several score of overall-clad sophomores, prepared for emergencies and ready and willing to act.

The lessons for the freshman were not given in the classrooms, however. Neither were they given with any regard to educational procedure or gentleness. The idea of the sophomores was to teach the freshmen hurriedly and effectively. They succeeded entirely. A score or more of the freshmen were living proof of the fact in the afternoon.

Maude, a cantankerous and soured burro, was imported to the campus by the sophomores to give the newcomers their first lesson. Freshman John A. Settle was hauled, shoved and pushed atop the burro facing due south and in a few seconds he described a perfect parabola over the animal's ears. Another freshman did equally well, but the remaining just slid from grace in disregard of all riding etiquette.

Then came noon. The bewildered freshmen found all doors of the Administration Building locked against them but one. Through this they marched. A reception committee of sophomores awaited them in front. They were led to the slaughter, which began almost at once. Some found themselves doing penance in the makeshift stocks. Others wearing bright ties lost them. Quite a number who protested too vigorously found fists shoved against their noses and faces with unseemly violence. A free-for-all developed for a few brief minutes, then was quelled.

The freshmen were then instructed in the branch school songs and yells. Frederick Houser, president of the student body, concluded festivities by praising the frosh class and informing them that their day is coming soon, probably a week from next Friday, when the freshman-sophomore brawl will be run off.

As freshmen the newcomers must wear the blue frosh hat until such time as their sophomore mentors relent. Knickers, Oxford bags, garish ties and sweaters are also taboo for freshmen.

A clothesline has been introduced on Sopomore Green, in the center of the campus, where the prized sartorial possessions of the freshmen are hung after these are taken from them. Mustaches, sideburns and sheik haircuts on freshmen also received the attention of the sophomores at their barber shop, which consists of a dull razor, an angora cat and a pitcher of cream. The razor is used on the head. The cream is applied to budding mustaches and the cat is applied to the cream.

Four thousand nine hundred and sixty-four students have enrolled to date at the University of California, Southern Branch, where registration began Saturday, the 12th inst. This number is 975 more than had registered at the corresponding time last year, when the total was 3989.

AUTOISTS TO BE WATCHED

Police Board Orders Stricter Enforcement of Law to Require Stops at Pedestrian Crossings

Directing the police department to enforce strictly the regulations protecting pedestrians at street crossings and requiring motorists to bring their machines to a stop when persons are walking in these crossings, the Board of Police Commissioners adopted resolutions yesterday declaring that motorists are failing to obey the laws.

That provision of the traffic law (Section 8) which the Police Commission declared is being violated by motorists, reads as follows:

"In any crosswalk where traffic is not being directed by a police officer or by traffic signal, pedestrians shall have the right of way over vehicles; provided that any pedestrian shall have given warning of his intention to cross by raising the hand, palm out, toward approaching traffic. It shall be unlawful for the operator of any vehicle to drive into such crosswalk until such pedestrian shall have passed in front of said vehicle."

The adoption of the resolution, which said that this provision of the traffic law is not being generally observed by motorists traveling upon our streets, was followed up by the commission's sending letters to Chief Heath and the head of the police traffic bureau, directing them to notify all police officers to be on the alert to see that strict compliance with the traffic ordinance as applying to pedestrian crossings is accorded by the public.

Policemen are to be instructed, the commission said, "to warn motorists who violate the law protecting pedestrians in crossing and to make arrests whenever necessary."

LEGION REPORT SHOWS SERVICE

Many Activities Revealed at Avalon Meeting

Plans for Hospital Work Extension Cheered

Achievements of Welfare Board Outlined

BY KYLE PALMER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

AVALON (Catalina Island) Sept. 15.—The program and purposes of the American Legion of the Department of California as developed at the opening sessions of the Legion's seventh annual convention here today must be interpreted in terms of service.

The chronicle of the Legion's efforts and attainment was unfolded unostentatiously and simply through the official reports and resolutions presented by committees and by individuals. It was a story of intelligence, help for the needy, encouragement for the discouraged, medical attention for the sick and the disabled, rehabilitation for those struggling against the handicaps imposed by war and a concerted effort in behalf of good citizenship.

Throughout the day, beginning with the annual address of Department Commander Coombs and developing with the report of Walter Garrison, chairman of the Welfare Committee; George M. Stout, secretary of the State Veterans' Welfare Board, Doctor John F. Sinnich, chairman of Childs' Welfare Committee and National Executive Committeeman George Juan Hatfield, a record was written in which the "ex" remained as a prefix to California service men in a military sense only.

Department Commander Coombs submitted a detailed report of Legion affairs for the year 1924-25. He spoke optimistically both of the work accomplished and the tasks ahead.

POST ACTIVITIES

Activities of the department posts, he said, have covered Americanization, membership, which has increased 600, veterans' welfare, child's welfare, Boy Scouts, legislative proposals, community service and emergency work.

He submitted a number of recommendations, including a suggestion that the office of department commander be made a salaried position in order that the commander may devote full time to his duties, various increases in appropriation for committee work and the appropriation of funds for traveling expenses of officials.

The convention enthusiastically applauded the announcement by Mr. Garrison of the welfare committee that the heads of the National Veterans' Bureau have tentatively approved plans for trebling the facilities of the hospital at San Fernando, for a 100 per cent increase in the accommodations of the hospital at Livermore and for immediate appropriation of funds for the construction of a 500-bed hospital at Sawtelle.

Work of the State veterans' welfare board was outlined by Secretary Stout, who said in part:

"It is my pleasure to inform this convention that under the Educational Act passed by the State, which has been administered with a direct appropriation by the Legislature, the veterans' welfare board has placed in educational institutions in the State approximately 1500 service men of California, most of whom have completed war interrupted training. Many of these veterans are now practicing lawyers, dentists, engineers, ministers and skilled artisans. Records show scholastic standings in their respective institutions to be much higher than the average of the student body of the same institution.

LARGE INVESTMENTS

"In 1921 the Veterans' Welfare Bond Act in the amount of $10,000,000 was passed by the Legislature. In 1922 at the general election that act was voted by the people and subsequent thereto the Veterans' Welfare Board began the issuance of bonds to purchase farms and homes. To date there has been created and sold, $5,000,000 in bonds and the last block of $2,000,000 will be offered for sale on October 15, next.

"During the month of August just passed, the board extended $513,000, an average of more than $20,000 daily. Up to August 31, last, more than $6,000,000 was invested, 10 per cent of which was invested in 140 farms and the remaining 90 per cent in 1600 homes.

"Recent estimates of the board denote that the board has actually saved 1500 veteran home purchasers more than $134,000 of the purchase price of properties.

"The Veterans' Welfare Board is particularly proud of the record of its farmer veterans. To date there have not been any farm failures of any consequence.

"The board expressly wishes to acknowledge the co-operation of the Legion and particularly wishes to express its appreciation of the assistance given by James M. Ulcare, secretary of the district rehabilitation committee. The board wishes also to express its gratitude to the State inheritance tax appraisers and the many bankers who have assisted us in our work.

NEW CAMPAIGN

"The next big problem which the Legion confronts is the passage by the voters in the fall of next year of the $20,000,000 bond act to continue the work."

Many of the official reports and set speeches scheduled for tomorrow's session were presented today, leaving tomorrow's session almost free of regular buiness and providing additional time for the convention frolic and circus. Campaigning is proceeding at a furious rate for departmental commander, with little apparent change in the relative position of the four principal contenders. Dark horse predictions are to be heard here and there.

FATHER TIME ASSISTS CUPID

Heiress, Whose Nuptial Plans Were Held in Check, Weds Sweetheart as She Reaches Majority

Four days ago Cupid was perplexed. Came good old Father Time and Fate to his assistance and today two newlyweds are on Catalina Island where, they are certain, in all the world there is no bliss like theirs.

Four days ago, Miss Olive Proctor Van Heusen, daughter of Charles Van Heusen, collar magnate, and reputed heiress to a part of the vast wealth accumulated by the manufacture of Singer sewing machines, loved Harold John Schian, a broker's employee, and he loved her. But she was not yet of age in the eyes of the law and mamma, well, whether or not mamma objected is not of official record, but anyway the sweethearts found barriers between them. Of course, like all young lovers they would have moved worlds, if they could, to have achieved their desire.

Cupid could not endure their plight any longer and got good and busy, enlisting Daddy Time, and Fate. The old boy turned the world around once and presto! Miss Van Heusen attained her majority, the age of 18 years, and her mind was her own. Conveniently, Fate had just dispatched her mother, now Mrs. E. K. Lincoln, Mr. Lincoln and her brother to New York. It was Cupid's master stroke and barriers were turned away.

Yesterday, at noon, Miss Van Heusen and Mr. Schian were married at Riverside and mamma does not know it yet, friends of the dainty bride said last night. Schian's parents know it. They were at the wedding along with twelve friends of the happy pair.

The wedding took place at noon in All Saints' Episcopal Church and was performed by Rector Henry Clark Smith. The overjoyed couple sped away from their friends at the church door bound for the ship to Catalina, where they will spend the first of their honeymoon.

Miss Van Heusen was the Sally Bell who sang occasionally for Warner Brothers and other radio broadcasting stations. Her mother is now the wife of E. K. Lincoln, actor and motion-picture producer. Mrs. Lincoln is reputed to possess considerable wealth. Schian is the 22-year-old son of W. J. Schian, building contractor.

ARTISTS OF NATION HELP QUAKE FUND

Many Choice Seats Still Obtainable for Benefit Performance

The benefit performance for the Santa Barbara Mission will bring together at the Olympic Auditorium Thursday night what is perhaps the greatest group of artists ever featured on any one program in Los Angeles. John Barrymore will enact in costume a scene from Hamlet, his greatest role. Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink will give two groups of her most popular songs.

Although demands for tickets at the Birkel Music Company and the Olympic Auditorium have been record-breaking, there are many excellent seats still to be had because of the great size of the auditorium.

Among the entertainers who will appear in addition to Mme. Schumann-Heink and Mr. Barrymore are Miss Frances White, Orpheum headliner, who will give several songs; Miss Marjorie Dodge, soprano; Gilman Williams, baritone, with Madeline Heineman, accompanist; Miss Lina Basquette, former Follies star, who will dance; the California Grand Opera Chorus of ninety, under direction of Alexander Bevani; Rin-Tin-Tin, with his trainer, Lee Duncan; the Cocoanut Grove Orchestra, under direction of Ray West; Senora Alma Real, Mexican prima donna, with Mexican orchestra, under direction of Jose Arias; Valerie and Berinoff, acrobatic dancers; Roderic White, violinist; Miss Natalie Kingston, in dances; Miss Eleanor Scheib, accompanist for Mme. Schumann-Heink. Many famous film stars will also appear.

FORTY VOTE $2,500,000 IN STREET JOB

Pasadena to Float Bond Issue to Pay Costs of Widening Colorado

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 15.—In an election in which only forty votes were cast, this city decided today to widen Colorado street, the principal business thoroughfare, and spend $2,500,000 in the work. The vote stood 33 to 7.

"It's not many but plenty," said the City Attorney tonight. "The street will be widened."

The small vote was explained by the fact that only residents of the six blocks between Orange avenue and Broadway, the portion which will be widened, were eligible and as this is a business section the residents are few. The street will be made ninety-five feet wide, five feet narrower than the portion east of Broadway.

The improvement will be carried out under the Improvement Act of 1915 and the city will float a bond issue to pay the cost. The widening of Colorado street has been under consideration by various city administrations for a number of years.

The Lancer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—This town is money mad.

It makes you think, somehow, of a child, screaming with excitement and flinging golden confetti into the air.

COST NO OBJECT

I met a furniture dealer here the other night. He told me that never in the flush days of the war had money been flung around with so reckless a hand. He says it is impossible to get furniture too high in price.

BIG TIPS

It has come back to the days when you see men pay a 25 cent check to a barber and add a dollar tip.

The whole thing is a kind of golden jag.

LABOR TROUBLES

Labor troubles always accompany times like this.

The city is in a state of furious building activity. Especially new office buildings. They are blazing all over town.

The barbers are on a strike, and the baggage handlers have gummed up the handling of trunks, so you have to carry them in taxis.

A contractor never finishes a job without some kind of local strike. He makes allowances for it in the bid, and the tenant eventually has to pay for it.

CHEAP TAXIS

Two things in New York are reasonable in price. So many hotels have gone up that the prices have surged a little. And taxis are cheap—a lot cheaper than in Los Angeles. The rate is 15 cents for the first half-mile and 5 cents a half-mile thereafter.

EASY HOURS

I don't know where all this money comes from. Everybody seems airily to brush by anything so annoying as work.

The average New Yorker does not dream of coming to his office before 11. He goes to lunch at 1 o'clock and stays until 2 or 2:30.

At 4:30 at the latest he makes a dash for the train. Friday afternoons he dashes earlier. Little business is done in New York on Saturday.

In all probability the New Yorker will refuse to make any appointments with you on Wednesday. That is the day he plays golf.

In spite of all this complacent attitude toward work he is making and spending more money than the people of any city ever made and spent before.

LIP-READING TAUGHT

Free Classes Conducted Daily at Sixteenth-Street School

Classes in lip reading for men and women are being offered at the Sixteenth-street elementary school, 220 West Sixteenth street, every day. Beginners' classes are from 1 to 2:30 o'clock, and advanced classes from 2:30 to 4 o'clock.

Evening classes are being held at the part-time high school, 324 West Sixteenth street, every school night from 7 to 9 o'clock. Beginning classes meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and the advanced class Tuesday and Thursday.

These courses are under the direction of experienced teachers, and are free of charge.

The dog is man's best friend, ever loyal and true,
He loves us for ourselves alone and doesn't care whether
We are high or low or rich or poor. We can succeed or Fail, he wags his tail and is our dog just the same,
Whether he be the canny Collie, the noble Great Dane,
The Police Dog, the Saint Bernard or the Pug. Choose a
Chow or an Airedale, a Spaniel, a Bloodhound or a Peke
It will ever be the same; Buy a Bird dog and go hunting,
Take your Hounds and go after deer or walk with your Sporty Fox Terrier, your Pomeranian or just a plain pup,
It makes no difference to me. I care nothing for pedigree,
I make but one stipulation. I want a fresh roll and lots
Of mustard, for of all the breeds there are I like the Hot Dog best.

HALT HANGING OF TWO MEN

Two Stays of Execution Granted by Court

Slayer of "Rose Girl" One to Gain Clemency

Murderer of Woman Faced Death on Friday

Two men convicted of murder received stays of execution at yesterday's session here of the Supreme Court. One of them was Earl J. Clark, asserted Harbor City bootlegger, under sentence to hang for the slaying of Charles Silva, Filipino sailor, in a quarrel over a girl known as the "Rose Girl."

The other was Jacob Suhr, who was to have been hanged Friday for the murder of Mrs. Elsie Currie, Oakland hotel proprietor. Suhr gets a stay of at least two months, as closing briefs in his case are to be filed November 15. The Clark case goes over by consent until the next term of the Supreme Court in Los Angeles.

The case of Thomas Carmichael, convicted of manslaughter for killing Gus Lucas, December 18, in Butte county, was submitted on its merits. The men were miners and are said to have engaged in a drunken quarrel. Carmichael claims self-defense.

The case of Charles F. Dillon, former finance commissioner and purchasing agent of Fresno, likewise was submitted. Dillon was convicted of embezzlement and faces one to ten years' sentence in San Quentin. It is asserted he bought a tire for a friend through the city purchasing department and that the money said to have been paid by the friend failed to show on the city records.

In the matter of the Bank of Italy's appeal for a writ of mandate ordering State Superintendent of Banks Johnson to issue permits for two branch banks in Los Angeles, the court appointed E. Grant Taylor, clerk of the court, to take testimony in San Francisco, October 16 and later in Los Angeles. He is then to submit his findings to the Supreme Court for final decision.

An important decision as to whether any city has the right to establish a pest house anywhere within its limits was not handed down as expected when the attorneys in the case of Jardine versus the City of Pasadena were given thirty days to file briefs.

Today's closing session of the court will be occupied largely with deliberation of friendly suits instituted to determine the status of the Municipal Courts authorized by the last Legislature.

CENTENNIAL PLANS FOR CITY MADE

Local Organization Will Handle Celebration Here Next Fourth of July

Plans for a unified celebration in Los Angeles next Fourth of July to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of American independence have been started by a committee of the Southern California Veterans' Association, it was announced yesterday.

At a meeting of the association at Pacific Palisades recently the organization was started, and the title of the the One Hundred and Fifty League adopted as its name. William A. Sallada was elected president and E. F. Rudeen, secretary.

Rudeen said yesterday it is the intention of the organization to promote a fitting sesquicentennial demonstration through the co-operation of local organizations who otherwise might hold separate smaller celebrations. The secretary said that the Chamber of Commerce has promised its support and has suggested that the event be called the Independence of the United States Sesquicentennial Southern California Celebration, Los Angeles.

The organization will hold its next meeting October 9 at Patriotic Hall, where a free program will be given and more definite plans laid. It is the intention of the organization to start intensive arrangements after the first of the year. Rudeen said that other cities are making similar plans, especially Philadelphia, where an international sesquicentennial exposition is to be held.

Drive to Abolish Death Penalty in California is On

A campaign for the abolition of the death penalty in California has been set under way by Miss Clara Dyar of Detroit, a member of the organizing committee of the League for Abolition of Capital Punishment, with headquarters in New York.

Steps toward the formation of a local committee of the national league will be taken at a meeting at the Biltmore during the afternoon of the 17th inst. Miss Dyar stated that a number of civic, business and professional leaders of the city have been invited to attend the meeting. Miss Dyar is a guest at the Christie Hotel, Hollywood, at the present.

AMAZON FACES COMPLAINT

Woman Convicted of Plying Horse Whip Faces New Charge Growing Out of Bunker Hill Battle

Taking it out physically on persons who she believed "talked about" her again has placed in jeopardy Mrs. Lois Day, San Pedro woman, whose "Battle of Bunker Hill" and horse-whip wielding have given her a place in Police Court history.

Deputy City Prosecutor Concannon yesterday issued a complaint against Mrs. Day and her second arrest was scheduled to take place on a charge of disturbing the peace. Similar complaints were issued against Mrs. Ruth Dougnerty, who is Mrs. Day's sister, and against Mrs. Marie Parks, who is Mrs. Day's sister-in-law.

COMPLAINTS MADE

The complaints followed interviews of Concannon with the three and Mrs. Marjorie Turner, who asserted that Mrs. Day, assisted by Mrs. Dougherty, attacked her after Mrs. Parks lured her into the Parks's apartment on Bunker Hill.

"'You've been talking about me,' Mrs. Day said and I told her I hadn't. She knocked off my hat and began pounding me and I screamed 'bloody murder' and my eye was blacked."

ADMITS SLAPPING

"I did slap her," Mrs. Day admitted, "but not until she had slapped me right in the face. We met in Marie's house by accident and when we heard her coming we jumped into the closet to keep from meeting her. I heard her talking about me and I couldn't help jumping out and asking her about it and when she slapped me we got mixed up."

Mrs. Parks said she locked the door behind Mrs. Turner because she was undressed at the time. Mrs. Parks's and Mrs. Dougherty's stories were similar to that told by Mrs. Day.

Now the row goes to Police Judge Bullock's court.

Mrs. Day is under suspended sentence of thirty days' imprisonment and $100 fine imposed on conviction of having used a black snake whip on a man who she asserted "talked about" her. Possible revocation of the suspension doubly imperils Mrs. Day.

PARTY GIVEN CONVENTION DELEGATES

Methodist Church Meet to Open Officially Here This Morning

Nearly 600 ministerial and lay delegates to the Southern California annual conference of the Methodist Church attended the garden party given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Philp, 676 South Hobart Boulevard.

The convention will officially open at 8:30 a. m. today at the Westlake Methodist Church with Dr. Charles L. Mead, Bishop of the Denver area, presiding. Following Holy Communion the Conference will be organized and memorial services will be conducted.

Another session will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. today at the Westlake Presbyterian Church, the theme of the meeting being "Our Veteran Ministers and How We Can Help Them." Pension plans for Methodist ministers will be discussed and among the speakers will be Dr. W. H. Jeffers, executive secretary of the Conference Claimants' Endowment Fund; Dr. T. A. Stafford, treasurer of the Board of Pensions and Relief, and Dr. W. B. Stevens, Coadjutor Bishop of the Los Angeles Episcopal Diocese.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society will meet at 2:30 p. m. today at the Westlake Methodist Church, with Bishop Mead presiding and with addresses by prominent missionaries from various foreign lands. Speakers at the meeting this evening at the Westlake M. E. Church will include Dr. F. E. Helms, E. A. Hulse and Drs. R. J. Edwards and O. W. Auman.

Five Millions Spent in Shrine Hospital Plan

Five million dollars has been invested in building and operating the chain of Shriners' hospitals for crippled children in the United States and Canada, according to reports received by officers of Al Malaikah Temple here. The hospitals, which are supported by assessments upon the more than 500,000 members of the Mystic Shrine, have given highly skilled surgical treatment to some 5000 crippled children whose parents were unable to pay surgeon fees and hospital bills, since the movement was authorized by the Imperial Council in 1920.

The Shrine is now operating eleven hospital units with a total of 500 beds, at St. Louis, San Francisco, Portland, Or.; the twin cities of Minneapolis-St. Paul; Springfield, Mass., Montreal, Can., Shreveport, La.; Spokane, Wash.; Salt Lake City, Winnipeg, Can., and Honolulu. Hospitals now nearing completion at Philadelphia and Chicago will add more than 100 beds to the total. The Shrine expects to build and operate additional hospitals as funds permit.

DAWES RECEPTION BILL APPROVED BY COUNCIL

The City Council yesterday approved a bill of $100 for decorating the City Hall during the visit to Los Angeles of Vice-President Dawes. "Was any of that $100 spent for presenting the Vice-President with some tobacco for his underslung pipe?" asked Councilman Hall. "No," said President Workman. "I offered the Vice-President a cigar, but he did not smoke it, saying he preferred his pipe. He seemed to be stocked up with tobacco, and there was no need for presenting him with some."

De Mille Yacht Weathers Storm Off Santa Cruz

The schooner yacht Seaward has returned to Los Angeles Harbor after a stormy experience off Santa Cruz island. The yacht, bound on a pleasure and fishing trip, was caught at sea in a heavy windstorm and several pieces of rigging were carried away. Aboard the craft were the owner, Cecil De Mille and his brother, William C. De Mille.

Yachting officers of the California Yacting Club have expressed themselves much interested in the Seaward under storm conditions, as she is one of the first to come to this coast designed after the famous Gloucester fishing boats which have mastered so many trips to the Newfoundland banks.

Cecil De Mille hurried back to his studio to complete the cutting and titling on his first independent production, "The Road to Yesterday," while William C. De Mille will resume his duties as a director at Lasky studio.

Celestials Deny Identities Given in Court Names

The names of Yee Fing Fong and Ah Ching resounded in the court of U. S. Commissioner Turney yesterday and two celestials stared at Commissioner Turney.

"No nam-ee, no nam-ee." said one.

"No nam-ee," echoed his slant-eyed companion.

That was all the Celestials would venture. No interpreter was available so today the court will have the aid of a Chinese to determine what is on the mind of the two Chinese.

Two Chinese were arrested at Santa Barbara Friday by Federal Agents De Spain and Edmonds charged with selling narcotics. The agents are sure they are the same ones who yesterday appeared before the Commissioner.

"That may not be their names," said Agent De Spain, "but they are the ones were pinched."

be conducted at the National Guard Armory, Exposition Park, on the second and fourth Friday evenings of each month, 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock. Capt. Fred M. Logan, Regular Army officer, will be instructor.

"Col. Walter P. Story, commanding the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, California National Guard, has asked me to extend a cordial invitation to all reserve officers to enroll in this school," Col. Hamilton announced.

An advanced school for field and staff officers will be conducted at the armory at the same hours as the basic school, under the direction of Maj. David H. Cowles, Regular Army instructor. This course will cover combat principles of infantry.

A school for finance officers will open in October. The Leavenworth course of instruction, a school similar to that held at the General Service School, Fort Leavenworth, will give instruction in combat principles to include a reinforced brigade.

The winter Plattsburg, a graphic course for Quartermaster Corps officers, initiated here last winter, will open in November under direction of quartermaster officers.

Enrollments are now being taken from reserve officers for the correspondence courses in all branches, and these courses will commence October 1.

THOUSANDS INVITED TO FALL OPENING DINNER

Senator Shortridge and Congressman Lineberger will be guests at the fall opening dinner meeting Friday evening at the City Club of the Los Angeles Sector, Association of the Army of the United States. Several thousand reserve officers, together with regular officers, National Guard and retired officers, have been invited to attend the meeting to welcome Col. Samuel G. Jones, adjutant-general of the Ninth Corps Area, who will be the principal speaker.

The program of military lectures has been arranged by the Reserve Officers' Association. In honor of which the sector set aside the evening. Lieut.-Col. LeRoy F. Smith, reserve officer of Los Angeles, and Maj. Reynold E. Blight, also of Los Angeles, will speak on reserve matters, while Dr. Arthur E. Hoare will tell of the Gallipoli campaign.

Col. Jones, a member of the staff of Maj.-Gen. Menoher, commanding general of the Army forces on the Pacific Slope, will devote his speech to "The Reserve Corps," the civilian component of the national defense army, which Col. Jones was instrumental in upbuilding.

The meeting will be at 6 o'clock. A complimentary luncheon will be extended Col. Jones Friday at the Alexandria.

PIONEER TO LIVE AGAIN IN BRONZE

Statue to be Unveiled Saturday Will Honor Early Day Californians

With many descendants of California pioneers present, and with Ramona Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, in charge, a large statue will be unveiled at Carthay Center Saturday at 2:30 p.m. to the memory of the California pioneers of '49.

Heading a pretentious list of speakers will be United States Senator Shortridge, William Gibbs McAdoo, Lieut.-Gov. Young, Internal Revenue Collector Goodcell, Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt and Grace S. Stoermer.

The statue, which is of bronze and represents a gold miner panning particles of gold, is the realization of a plan long cherished by J. Harvey McCarthy, real estate man, himself a son of a famous pioneer. The statue was sculptured by a native Californian, Henry Lion, and was selected by a jury of artists.

Burrel D. Neighbors, president of Ramona Parlor, N.S.G.W., has arranged an elaborate program for the dedication. Harold Roberts's Golden State Band will play a number of famous old songs of the West.

Chinese Accused of Refusing Pay to Housekeeper

Margaret Dalton, 23 years of age, filed a claim yesterday in the local office of the State Labor Bureau against Cho Long, a Chinese hotel proprietor, for $75 which she asserts is balance due for her services rendered as a housekeeper. She lives at 671 Kern avenue.

The girl asserts, according to Deputy Labor Commissioner Lowy, that she worked for Long at the Anita Hotel, 146 North Spring street, as a housekeeper for seven weeks at a salary of $25 a week but was paid for only one month's services.

Details of the case will be investigated at a hearing at 10 a.m. the 23rd inst., according to Deputy Lowy, who issued a citation ordering Long to appear and state his side of the story.

Angeleno Dies From Injuries in Truck Crash

Emanuel Kallen, 43 years of age, of 507 West First street, was riding a bicycle early yesterday morning when he was struck by a baker's truck driven by Dave Hammock, 928½ West First street, at Broadway and First street. Kallen was taken to the Receiving Hospital and died four hours later at his home, where he had been taken on request of his wife.

Hammock was not held.

KIWANIS TO CELEBRATE

We simply have to get our advertising pool together and do what we should have done long ago, that is, to step out in a big way for the richest business we can command."

DATE OF CLOSE SET

Mr. Cochran announced the close of the campaign for October 6, next, saying that on that date they would take the money collected, turn it over to the All-Year Club and to the Chamber of Commerce in equal shares and let those two organizations supervise the spending.

E. L. Doheny, chairman of the oil group, said that the personnel of the directorates of the Chamber of Commerce and of the All-Year Club was such that it was an absolute guarantee that the money would be expended in the wisest possible manner and most beneficially to all in Southern California.

Bernal Dyas emphasized that Southern California was finding extraordinary hustle necessary because it had permitted its advertising to lag. He dwelt on the necessity of spending an adequate sum of money each year in the interest of getting tourists here and of expanding our agriculture, our industries and our foreign trade.

George Young, publisher of the Los Angeles Examiner, emphasized that none of the money was to be spent in Southern California in the sense that it would be used in the purchase of advertising space here, but that all is to be spent in the interest of bringing new wealth to Southern California, and that in this everyone would benefit, share and share alike.

E. A. Dickson, publisher of the Los Angeles Express, declared that "in the last year and one-half California has hurdled a number of obstacles. The last has been cleared. The East has heard enough hurtful stuff about Southern California. It is now waiting for our answer. We should make it through a smashing big campaign of constructive advertising."

TO REACH QUOTA

Harold Janss, speaking for the real estate group, said that its full quota or more would be assembled and delivered October 6. It is the third largest of the group quotas. Among the other speakers were W. W. Mines, president of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, and James Woods of the Biltmore.

Announcement was made that a huge show would be given at the Olympic Auditorium the night of October 8, next, for the Southern California Forward Movement. It will be put on by the amusement enterprises division.

mous," he said, "and I believe it will be unanimously endorsed by every one of the 350 members of the federation. I think that under the existing situation we should overlook no method of undermining the causes of crime—and there is no better place to begin than with the younger generation. Every member of the committee—and I believe all of us—knows that a certain percentage of crime is undoubtedly traceable to what has been called yellow journalism.

"It has often been averred that newspaper circulation would drop to virtually nothing were it not for stories connected with crime and its accessories upon which great headlines could be written. But it is my understanding that papers which have tried the crime subordination policy have found very little or no drop in circulation as a result—and I have yet to hear of one who made the experiment which has discarded it.

"I confidently expect that this appeal will be taken up by other organizations and that the movement will spread rapidly; and I believe that newspapers which adopt the policy suggested will instead of suffering, reap great benefits from it."

Girl Dies When Brushed From Auto by Truck

Rosiltia Helen Main, 4 years of age, met death yesterday when she was brushed from the seat of a truck by a projecting iron pipe, part of the load of a truck ahead which was turning a corner.

The child was riding with her father, who, it was reported, did not see the pipe projecting from the other truck and drove too close. The child fell head first to the pavement, suffering a skull fracture. The accident took place at Slauson avenue and San Pedro street.

The child was taken to Mission Hospital at Huntington Park, where she succumbed. Her body was sent to the Allardyce & Fix undertaking rooms, Huntington Park.

SANTA BARBARA FUND

The Times will receive, acknowledge by publication and deliver to the authorized agents of the California Development Association any sums sent to this paper as contributions to the $1,100,000 fund to be raised by the association for emergency and charitable work in stricken Santa Barbara.

The Times itself started the fund with a donation of $10,000 and takes this occasion to urge all loyal Californians, individuals, organizations, companies, etc., to give to the extent of their abilities. The need is urgent. Santa Barbara has pluckily refused eastern help in the belief that California will take care of her own. Let her be not disappointed.

Contributions may be made through any bank or newspaper, the Chamber of Commerce or the California Development Association, Garland Building, Los Angeles. If sent to The Times, checks should be made payable to the Santa Barbara Fund.

Up to 4 p.m. yesterday contributions received by The Times were as follows:

Ladies of the Oriental Shrine of North America, forwarded a check for $25 to The Times in behalf of that organization.

The total amount collected up to noon yesterday on the quota of Los Angeles city and county was $177,587, according to the records of Campaign Manager Morris. Of this amount the city had contributed $139,791, and the county outside, $37,796.

The records show further that on Southern California's quota of $556,800, a total of $333,875 has been raised. This represents the contributions from the ten southern counties, including Los Angeles.

Dr. Pritchett's report on receipts in Santa Barbara up to Monday night gave the figure as $366,590 from all parts of the State. The ten southern counties have contributed $102,160 more than all the rest of the State together.

Summer Rates for Excursions to East Ended

The 1925 summer excursion season from Los Angeles and other Pacific Coast cities drew to a close yesterday.

As a result of the last-minute rush of travel by residents desiring to visit relatives and friends in eastern States, all Southern Pacific trains leaving Los Angeles were crowded.

"The summer season just closing has been a most successful one for travel and undoubtedly the many people who have gone east for visits have materially aided in still further spreading the fame of Los Angeles," declared C. L. McFaul, assistant passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific.

"Because of the last-minute rush we have found it necessary to add extra cars on our trains leaving here. Residents making the trip east may visit old homes and relatives until October 31, the final date of return."

KID M'COY TO GET NEW TRIAL

Court of Appeals Reverses Decision on Error

Action, if Won, May Result in Dismissed Charges

Case Reopened on Failure to Instruct Jurors

Victor in more than two-score fierce-fought ring battles, Norman Selby, known in sporting circles as "Kid" McCoy, now serving two and one-half to forty-eight years in San Quentin following convictions of manslaughter and assault, may win his last and hardest battle, his struggle with the law.

The District Court of Appeal reversed the decision of the lower court and granted the former prize fighter a new trial on the charge of having slain his sweetheart, Mrs. Theresa Mors.

Appeals now pending, directed at the two convictions of assault to commit murder and one of assault with a deadly weapon, if won, will result in dismissal of all the charges against McCoy or new trials on all counts of the indictments.

SERVES TERM IF DENIED

If the latest appeals are denied then the fighter will have to serve his full time because the sentences, according to the court, were to run concurrently, the assault charges carrying sentences from two and one-half to forty-eight years and the manslaughter conviction, one to ten years. If the appeals now pending are denied then McCoy will probably not be tried again on the manslaughter charge. If, however, he wins the second round of his fight for freedom then he will probably be forced to stand trial on all of the charges.

However the court actions develop, according to both defense and prosecution attorneys, the former prize fighter cannot be tried for murder, but will go before a jury, if tried again, on a simple manslaughter charge. The other assault charges will remain the same in case of new trials.

The judgment of the lower court was reversed by the District Court of Appeals on the grounds that the trial court made an error of highly prejudicial character in failing to inform the jury that the admission, statements or confessions of the defendant could not be considered for any purpose having to do with proof of the corpus delicti and not until they were satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that the prosecution had established that a crime had been committed.

The error in connection with the instructions was only one of the grounds advanced by Attorney H. L. "Jerry" Geisler, who wrote the brief and who with Attorneys Shreve and F. H. Thompson defended McCoy. The other objections according to the opinion of the court were not of sufficient weight to warrant a reversal.

The admissions referred to in these instructions according to the court records were statements made by McCoy to his sister and which were testified to by her before the grand jury and later denied, that he killed Mrs. Mors. Also statements made by McCoy to the police detectives were admitted into evidence.

REHEARING MAY BE ASKED

From Assistant State's Attorney Widney it was learned yesterday that the State will probably ask for a rehearing before the district court of appeals and if it is denied that it will carry the matter up to the Supreme Court. The State has a total of twenty days to ask for a rehearing and ten days additional to take the matter before the Supreme Court.

McCoy was convicted of manslaughter a few months after he had been arrested on a murder charge on August 13, 1924. He was taken into custody while on a wild rampage on West Seventh street where he entered the antique shop owned by Mrs. Mors, held the establishment up with a revolver and shot one man. Then he rushed into another neighborhood shop and shot down a man and a woman. Following his arrest the body of Mrs. Mors was discovered in an apartment where she had been living as McCoy's wife. She had been shot to death and the room gave evidence of a terrible struggle.

AD CLUB WELCOMES CHIEF

Rousing cheers for their new president, Irving R. Smith, were given by more than 400 members of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles at their first fall meeting conducted at the Biltmore yesterday noon. Responding to the ovation, Mr. Smith spoke of three goals toward which he asked the members to strive this year, the first objective being a membership of 1000, the club already having 800 members on its roster.

"Our second goal should be a home for the club," said Mr. Smith. "The club property, which we purchased for $25,000, and which is now valued at double that sum, carries a mortgage of only $5000, which we should cancel and then proceed to erect a club home that will be an inspiration to us and a credit to Los Angeles. Thirdly, I hope to see an atmosphere of more personal fellowship among the members. Let us take toward one another a first-name attitude and foster a closer spirit of fraternity."

QUITE PLEASANT

The meeting was presided over by Bert Butterworth and the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chandler Christy. A musical program was given by the Orpheus Male Quartet, and community singing was led by Hugo Kirchhofer. A feature of the program was the presentation of a bouquet of flowers from the Broadway florist to every officer and director of the club.

Don Thomas, secretary of the club, announced that the chairman next Tuesday will be Charles Estey, that piano selections will be rendered by Charles Wakefield Cadman, and that the principal speaker will be Dr. Walter B. Dexter, president of Whittier College.

The principal speaker yesterday was Don Gilman, president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs Association, whose subject was "The Task Before Organized Advertising."

GILMAN IS SPEAKER

Mr. Gilman said in part: "The task before organized advertising may be divided into four parts, the fourth and incidental part being the most important contribution which advertising can make to the world, the using of all its talents and opportunities for the development and encouragement of world peace. Even if we regard this merely in a selfish light it will contribute to the prosperity of legitimate industries and commerce of a peacetime world which has been upset and disorganized by great conflicts.

"The three other purposes before the advertising clubs are to improve the practice of advertising, to increase the successful use of advertising and to chart the course of advertising," continued the speaker.

LANGDON IS SIGNED FOR LONG TERM

First National Wins Out in General Competition for Comedian's Services

Harry Langdon, screen comedian, signed a long-term contract yesterday with First National Pictures, Inc., and will begin work under the new contract about November 15. The signing of the contract sets at rest many rumors as to the comedian's intentions upon the expiration of his agreement with Mack Sennett early in November.

Executives of First National stated they considered the contract with Langdon one of the largest individual film agreements of the year.

The negotiations which resulted in the comedian's affiliation with First National have been carried on for several months between John McCormick, general manager of the productions for the company, and Harry Geisler, attorney representing Langdon. R. W. Rowland, general manager of the company, approved the terms a few days ago, and the contract was signed yesterday.

Virtually every producing and distributing organization in the industry has been seeking Langdon's services, it was stated.

Decree Awarded on Comparisons With First Wife

The comparisons adduced by Alden Lynn Moore in his observations concerning his wife, Miriam Moore, were highly odious, she told Judge Gates yesterday, when her suit for divorce was heard.

"He was forever telling me I was far inferior to his first wife," Mrs. Moore complained. "You can see how unpleasant that would be."

Judge Gates agreed that such harking back to previous nuptials must have been extremely unpleasant, and granted Mrs. Moore a divorce on her cruelty charges.

CHURCH DENIED RIGHT TO IGNORE SET-BACK

For hours and hours, it seemed to spectators, the City Council argued and debated and made speeches over the question of permitting the new $200,000 building of St. James's Episcopal Church at Wilshire Boulevard and St. Andrews Place to extend beyond the present fifteen-foot set-back line. Councilman Randall said that he did not object, as, he said, the churches should be out where people could see them. Councilman Jacobson said that the churches should abide by the existing laws, and voted against the removal of the set-back ban. By a vote of nine opposed to granting the request of the church, to five in favor of it the petition of the church was denied.

SUIT TO KEEP VENICE CANALS SUBMITTED

Suit of several Venice property owners to enjoin the beach city authorities from proceeding with plans to change the canals of the city into paved boulevards was taken under advisement yesterday by Judge Hollzer of Superior Court. The plaintiffs stated they purchased their property under the representation that the canals were to be maintained permanently as free public waterways.

DELINQUENCY TRIAL ON

Claire Hutchings, 41 years of age, yesterday went on trial before a jury in Judge Archbald's court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of his 15-year-old niece. Hutchings is accused of persuading the girl to stay away from her home in Huntington Park for six weeks, and with hiding her from probation officers, who were searching for her. The case, which is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Florence Woodhead, is expected to go to the jury this morning.

PUT 'EM TO SLEEP

Six European professors have written a movie scenario around the Einstein theory. That should be a fine thing for insomnia.

DISTANCE AND ENCHANTMENT

At Zion City the male and female bathers must remain at least 500 feet apart. Is that the way to run a paradise? Or is this following the rule of safety?

TIME HEALS

The New York Boxing Commission is preparing articles for a fight between Dempsey and Wills next year. By that time the men may not be mad at one another and not care to fight.

THE OLD TIMER

An Indiana man is still using the auto he bought in 1904. The wooden fenders are still in place and the owner says he can get fifteen miles on a gallon of gasoline when the road is right. Perhaps he means down grade.

A MAN'S JOB

One of the new district leaders of Tammany is a young woman with a pretty face and a clever mind. She is making a hit with the gang, but the Tammany of old would have marveled to find a skirt in command.

KNOCK ON WOOD

It is said that the custom of knocking on wood goes back to the days when there were tree worshipers in the world. The man in the street insists that it was merely a fad started by a couple of crazy red-headed woodpeckers.

THE LOOSE NUT

The paper spoke the other day about a loose nut wrecking a car. That is one trouble we have. There are too many loose nuts running around in cars. Some of them ought to be locked up. When a loose nut gets tight it may be worse, at that.

BLAME THE GIRLS

A leading dancing instructor says that the girls are to blame for 80 per cent of the immodest or indecent dancing that may be seen. That's right; blame it on the women. The idea of the professor is that the use or misuse of the skirt is the barometer of the dance and determines its decency. It is the girl who wears the skirt and, therefore, the sex is responsible.

AIR PROBLEMS

A Congressman says that an investigation of aircraft operation and aviation problems is too complicated for Congressional minds and should be considered by an engineering commission. He had charge of one government inquiry on the subject and knows. Congress might act understandingly on any hot-air proposition, but when it comes to steering a plane through the cool ozone of some of our northern latitudes the politicians are all in a fog. If there must be an investigation or commission in connection with the nation's air service, let it be in the keeping of men who realize that air is something more than conversation.

THE BIGGEST BOOK

The telephone directory is the most important volume in the community and the one oftenest consulted. The new Los Angeles book is the most massive contribution to literature to be found west of the Great Lakes. Among other things there is the list of the 270,000 subscribers to the local exchange. This is an increase of nearly 60,000 names beyond previous volumes. New installations are at such a rate that no directory can ever be complete. The listings to some definite date in the past is the closest possible attempt to perfection. Over 380,000 copies of the new directory have been printed and it would take a fair-sized train of box cars to move them all. There are nearly 1000 tons of weight. In speaking of great books always remember the telephone directory. That is the real goods.

THE BEAUTY SHOW

Some of the entrants for the national beauty tournament at Atlantic City withdrew from the race on the ground that it was becoming a professional affair with commercial bearings. Numbers of actresses and show girls were in the line-up and the victories had become a matter of vamping the judges. These were some of the complaints of those who backed out. They argued that the show should be an amateur affair and not a paint-and-powder exhibit by professional performers. There is merit in the contention. What is really sought is fresh and natural beauty that has not been hauled and mauled in life's parade. The professionals are wonderful. They know how to fix themselves up for the display and they can lay it all over the amateurs in any aisle of the show business, but what the spectators and the artists really crave is a glimpse of the modest violet—the girl who has hitherto been blushing unseen.

UNFAIR TO THE WEST

An issue of vital importance to the West, and particularly to California, is seen in the question of whether the unfair economists of the Eastern States will succeed in forcing the Federal government to discontinue aid for highways. A worse blow could hardly be dealt to the West than this withholding of further support in the construction of those arteries of trade and travel which are so necessary to its future development.

In the eight years ended June 30, 1924, the Federal government contributed $371,356,149 toward the building or completion of about 40,000 miles of highway. Seventy-five million dollars was appropriated by Congress toward this work for the year ended June 30, 1925, of which California's quota was only $2,464,990.78, although nearly one-half of the land in California, or about 40,000,000 acres, including 20,000,000 acres of national forests, are in the public domain—an area far greater than is contained in any other State. Georgia received $1,983,022.99, although its land area is only a little over one-third that of California, while its population is less than three-fourths and its national forests comprise less than 150,000 acres.

According to the estimates of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, California now has about 80,000 miles of roadway, including nearly 15,000 miles of surfaced highway. Due to the pride and enterprise of its people, this State has a far greater proportion of smoothly paved highway than any other in the Union, considering population and area. But people in remote districts are clamoring for new outlets, and the lines of communication from city to city within short distances often are quite inadequate to the needs of traffic. The number of automobiles is great, with a per capita proportion larger than that of any other State in the Union. Our motorists travel far greater distances within the State than do those of most other parts of the country. We need new roads badly, and must have them, and just because the Eastern States are fairly supplied with them is no reason why California and the whole West should suffer. If easterners need the road money for other purposes let them have it, but they should not be permitted to rob the West in this dog-in-the-manger fashion.

It is not logical to attack the constitutionality of Federal aid in road-making, as has been done by the eastern quibblers and false economists. The framers of the Constitution plainly set forth that Congress should have the power to establish post-offices and post roads, and the necessity for military roads has been recognized in subsequent legislation.

What the Federal government has done for California in the matter of highway aid has not been all by way of net outlay. Last year the United States realized a revenue of nearly $1,000,000 from the national forests, only one-fourth of which was returned to the State for schools and other purposes.

Recent statements made at Washington indicate that the opposition of the East to further Federal road appropriations will have sympathetic hearing at the Capitol, if not entire approval. What the people of the West must do immediately is to unite in an efficient and determined defense of government aid for highways. If they do not do this there is every likelihood that these appropriations, which are so necessary to our development and which constitute one of the best investments the government can make to insure the prosperity of this country, will be discontinued by the next Congress.

The Times urges that our leading citizens bestir themselves in making this defense and that no time be lost in uniting the whole West in an alliance whose arguments in support of the continuance of the appropriations shall be invincible, unanswerable and shall secure the necessary results.

DOUBTFUL LOANS

From Berlin comes the report that a syndicate of American bankers has made a loan of $100,000,000 to German agriculturists. It is a private loan in the sense that the governments of the two countries are not involved. A group of bankers makes this advance to a group of farmers and stock raisers to stimulate production in Germany. The security offered is a lien on German farming lands, a better security, perhaps, than one in which the government would be involved.

Private citizens of this country are making loans to individuals and groups in Europe at the rate of $1,000,000,000 a year. This average has been maintained for the last eight years, and the amount of money Europe owes us is mounting at the rate of at least $500,000,000 a year.

It may be good business for us to have our dollars working for us on the other side of the ocean; but one wonders whether our investors are not too free with their loans. Europe cannot continue to live indefinitely on borrowed money; and the time may come when repudiation of private debts will be discussed, just as some of the countries discuss repudiation of public debts.

Investors should remember that they must depend upon the governments of those countries for the collection of their debts, for the foreclosure on securities in case the debtors fail to pay. A government that repudiates its own debts is not likely to use much diligence in forcing its nationals to meet their obligations to the nationals of other countries.

Commenting on the situation the Saturday Evening Post remarks:

> Debt between nations is a much more fragile and delicate matter than debt between individuals and rests wholly upon honor. The individual has recourse to law; he may levy on the debtor's assets. But there is no way in which nations can make one another pay. Force is of no avail, even provided the debtor is willing to use it, except in petty cases between a creditor and debtor of unequal status.

This is plausible enough; but the argument is based on the premise that the foreign government will make the levy on the assets of its nationals to secure payment for the nationals of other nations. That rests on the so-called honor, just as the national obligation rests. Who would think of appealing to the soviet government of Russia to collect a debt owed by one of the Bolsheviks?

The nationals of a country are just as likely to overborrow as the governments; and there is a point beyond which it is not safe for the investors of this country to go. It should always be remembered that there are times when it is cruel to be kind and that lending money sometimes ruins the borrower in place of rescuing him. It is time that the nationals of Europe should, as an Irishman once put it, "stand on their own bottoms." Securing a second mortgage without using the money to pay off the first is to make progress on the road to bankruptcy.

ABOLISH THE COW

"Abolish the dairy cow; scientifically produced synthetic milk can be both richer and cheaper." So says Henry Ford, who has turned his attention toward the problems confronting the farmer.

As an abolisher Henry holds the partial confidence of the world. He abolished the horse. The horse is a specimen of ancient days in almost any community today.

Henry also attempted to abolish war by dispatching a peace ship to pacify Europe in the big war. But the fight went merrily on.

Whether he can abolish the cow is an open question. There may be some room for cow's milk being made richer. The cow herself might improve on her product. But that Ford's synthetic milk will be better will be generally doubted.

Oleomargerine was once proclaimed as the superior to butter. But cow's butter holds its ancient and honorable place in the stomachs of men. Oleomargerine never had quite the taste of real butter.

The world is full of foolers. It is alive with substitutes that are advertised as "just as good." However, they have never been as good. Glass is not as good as pearl. It is only as good as glass. It may fool the unwary and ignorant; but it never fools the expert. Paste is not as good as diamond. It may escape in the parlor; but it never deceives the buyer for the jewelry store.

Henry may be able to make a horse out of a tin can; but he can never make a cow out of a milk can. We do not have to eat his horse. Henry is a great success as an abolisher of horses; but as an abolisher of war and cows he is likely to be out of his element. He ought to confine himself to his specialty.

SINECURES

Samuel Harden Church, president of Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh, voices a crying need in the United States for more education, particularly among the men in public office. Speaking before a body of teachers he recently said:

> While we have made a certain progress in establishing an intelligent civil service in this country, no one seems to think it necessary to require that men who aspire to elective offices of great responsibility shall be in the best sense educated men. In fact, there is perhaps a prejudice among the mass of people against the election of educated men in public life. That is a curious example of the false psychology of the crowd. When we are sick we call in the best physician, when in trouble we retain the best lawyer, when we build a house we get the best architect and when we build a bridge we employ the best engineer. But when it comes to politics, which means government, we seem content all too often to choose the man who is unfitted both by capacity and education for success in any other field of high service and give into his hands those great powers which affect our welfare in matters of law and public order and taxation and, beyond all the rest, of human liberty.

All that Mr. Church says is, unfortunately, a true commentary on present-day conditions. If the masses are prejudiced against the intellectual minority it is because they believe they can best govern themselves by electing their own kind to office. With their superiors in office the people would be more susceptible to the feeling of being governed, though history teaches us that ignorance is the arch-tyrant.

Unfortunately, the average voter has come to believe that citizenship and a tax receipt are the only qualifications necessary for civil service and administration.

WHAT ANSWER?

Public officials, sworn to administer the public's justice, occasionally liberate criminals from the penitentiary on grounds at which a 6-year-old child would smile.

It is the fundamental theory of government that officials exist for the purpose of administering public affairs; and it is the mental and moral poverty of some governing agents that is mostly to blame for illy administered public justice.

Some judges of the ordinary rank fail to appreciate that their courts are the public's agencies of public justice, that juries are responsible to the public and that the judge is a public officer whose business it is to see that both State and defendant get an even break.

The plain facts are that public justice is operated little better than any other public business, and for exactly the same reasons.

Just About It
by James J. Montague

THE COAL STRIKE

Whenever the coal miners order a strike
And the bosses, by way of reply,
Observe: "Stay away for a year, if you like
You have got to come back by and by."
The public peels rapidly bill after bill
From its swiftly diminishing roll,
For winter is coming, the wind will blow chill
And it simply has got to have coal.

It may be the miners are quite in the right,
It also may be they are wrong,
But winter is hurriedly winging its flight
And will be here among us 'ere long.
One side or the other will win in the end,
We may take any side that we choose,
But on one thing alone we may surely depend,
The public is certain to lose.

Every week, every day, while the strikers are out
The price will go up by the run
Till along in the spring it will figure about
Say thirty-five dollars a ton.
This may be all right, and again it may not,
But what is the difference to us,
When all that we know is the fact we have got
To step up and pay for the fuss?

We'll cut out the movies and cut down on food
And tuck all our savings away
Until we are sure that enough have accrued
To keep us in coal until May.
For whether the strikers declare it a strike
Or the bosses declare it a lockout,
We are sure in advance that the public's one chance
Is to put up its chin for the knockout!

Insect Harem?

Clark Turner, who lives in the State of Washington, is conducting a unique industry—he supplies ladybugs to orchardists. According to a news dispatch, Turner has sold nearly 3,000,000 of the insects this year. He gathers them from the crevices in the Cascade Mountains, where they are numerous. They are distributed in the orchard about 100 to an acre. Since they breed several times a year they multiply rapidly and soon destroy many enemies to fruit trees such as the green and woolly aphids, peach-tree lice and other pests.—[Exchange.

LETTERS TO The Times

Our Fire Hazards

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A sinister influence appears to be at work in the fire department of the city of Los Angeles. Buildings in an extra hazardous condition, against which complaints have been filed, remain unmolested, and are permitted to continue as a menace to human life. The Fire Prevention Bureau appears to be run in a slipshod manner and persons attempting to bring to the officials of the fire department these dangerous conditions meet with little encouragement and are informed that the matter is entirely in the hands of the chief officer of the fire department, who appears to be vested with sufficient authority to remedy many, if not all, of the dangers. One theater building, which also accommodates several dance halls and other places of public assemblage, accommodating over 3000 people, has had over twenty complaints issued against it by the fire department itself since July.

Some of the complaints referred to conditions that have existed for years in this building to the knowledge of the fire department. If the trouble is with the law, then the law should be corrected, but the law does not appear to be at fault. If the trouble is with the fire department, the Fire Prevention Bureau or other branches of the fire service, the public has the right to know why such hazards are permitted to exist.

The public has confidence in the rank and file of the members of the fire department, but it is known that the ugly head of political interference has been seen in fire-department circles in many cities. The very nature and duty of fire-department work invites such interference. Selfish and greedy and ignorant people have been responsible for the deaths of hundreds of people throughout this land, many of them children—many of them old, infirm and crippled—some of them blind. But this seems to make no difference to the persons whose greed is sufficient excuse for ignoring the common laws of safety and public consideration.

It is a fire trap. In the event of fire or panic the victims would be crushed and trampled upon—perhaps roasted alive—due to inadequate exit facilities and numerous other conditions existing with the full knowledge of the fire department and those who are vested with authority to correct these conditions. Surely the functions of a fire department are as great in preventing disaster as they are in rushing to the scene with expensive, glittering apparatus to save what they can after the event. Some day we will be intelligent enough to realize that the prevention of fire is far more important than extinguishing fire. When you have a fire to fight and extinguish you know what you are fighting—but when prevention is neglected you have an unknown enemy lurking in the dark, ready to blast and destroy a city.

Beans and—

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Through press dispatches we learn that a group of Colorado capitalists have staked a number of intelligent and experienced prospectors, with the object of stimulating the search for precious metals. Encouraging results are already reported. Utah and Nevada likewise are in the throes of a mining revival, while California haggles and hews at existing mining regulations to the disgust and despair of ambitious prospectors.

The situation recalls to mind the slams directed at prospectors by two of your gifted writers, i.e.: McGroarty and Carr. Both of them recently made the statement that prospectors never had discovered any mines and were merely lazy down-and-outers, or words to that effect. We wonder if the writers were simply playing up to the leisurely reading class or attempting to display a vaunted sagacity possessed only by these reputable authors.

Let us remember that great mining camps were and are the results of discoveries made by prospectors; that every mine was once a prospect hole, just as every oil field was once dominated by a wildcat.

Puzzled

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Here is a problem that has puzzled me for some time. Perhaps some mathematician, philosopher, evolutionist, doctor of divinity or some ordinary citizen can give me and other readers of The Times a correct and lucid explanation. If so, let him amble down to the footlights, as it were, and enlighten a "large and appreciative" audience.

Every human now living has, or has had, two parents, four grandparents, eight great-grandparents, sixteen great-great-grandparents and so on. Follow this thing back for 6000, 6,000,000 or any old number of years and get two, or a first pair, as a result and you are worthy to stand up and be counted with the best of 'em while the orchestra plays the biggest notes in the book.

WALKING THE FLOOR

Jinx owed nine dollars at the store for cans of shrimp and herring; "I'll let the merchant walk the floor," he said, not greatly caring. The country's full of men like Jinx, who owe all kinds of money; their fame grows worse, their credit shrinks and still they think it funny. Collectors do not make them sore, duns don't disturb their slumbers; they let the merchant walk the floor in sad and wordless numbers. The grocer grimly works his books, where Jinx's name is written and says, with sickly smile, "Gadsooks! Again I have been smitten. Oh, once again a chump beat has worked me for a meal; I'll soon be driven to the street to pawn my bib and tucker. And when I'll spread the news around to all my brother dealers, that Jinx is but a bilking hound who ought to be pinched by peelers." He puts the merchant princes wise throughout the bustling city, and now when Jinx goes forth and buys he's up against a thing to pity. He finds it hard to demand, to promise or to wheedle; unless he has the coin he needs he cannot buy a needle. There comes a time to men like Jinx when they're by hard luck rewarded, and then how dolefully they rave and then how dolefully they rant; the credit that's unspotted! They look back on the days of yore when they with mirth decided to let the merchants walk the floor and crow it they derided. They realize that they were blind, their scruples was shocking; and now it's up to them, they find, to do the walking.

HELD IN THREAT TO KILL PASTOR

Woman Lodged in Hospital for Sanity Test

Said to Have Menaced Life of Aimee McPherson

Police Persecution Charge Formerly Made

For asserted threats against the life of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple, Mrs. Mercie Stannard of 119 North Avenue 54 was yesterday committed to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital, and will have a hearing before the lunacy commission Monday.

Mrs. Stannard yesterday appeared at the District Attorney's office to lodge a complaint against Mrs. McPherson. She declared the latter had installed secretly a radio broadcasting set in Mrs. Stannard's home, and that all the Stannard family secrets were being broadcast to the neighborhood so that anyone who had a receiving set could hear them. Mrs. Stannard insisted that such a practice is in violation of the Interstate Commerce Commission's regulations, it was said.

While efforts were being made to get in touch with the lunacy commission, Mrs. Stannard, it was said, rushed out of the building and disappeared. There, it was declared, she obtained a revolver and told police she intended to go to Mrs. McPherson's tabernacle and redress her wrongs herself. The police restrained the woman and Alexander Whitney, a teacher in the city schools and friend of the family, went before the lunacy commission and made a complaint. Mrs. Stannard was arrested and taken to the hospital.

At the District Attorney's office, as a reason for not putting the woman under restraint at once, it was said that she did not appear to be violent and that such a course was not deemed necessary.

Mrs. McPherson, when informed of the woman's actions, declared that she never has seen Mrs. Stannard, and said that she is not a member of Angelus Temple. The asserted statement of Mrs. Stannard declaring that the evangelist has installed a radio broadcasting set in the Stannard home is ridiculous on its face, Mrs. McPherson said, and entirely without foundation.

Mrs. M. Kennedy, the evangelist's mother, said she believes Mrs. Stannard to be the same woman who called on her several months ago. She said Mrs. Stannard was suffering from hallucinations at that time, complaining about persecutions local newspapers were carrying on against her.

ONE HUNDREDTH CASH DIVIDEND

DIRECTORS of the Security Trust & Savings Bank, at their meeting yesterday, ordered the payment to the Stockholders of the One Hundredth Cash Dividend, payable October 1.

Security Bank paid its first dividend to its stockholders at the end of the year (1889) when it was established. Dividends were paid semi-annually until 1912, and thereafter quarterly without interruption. In addition, there have been a number of stock dividends.

The total amount paid to Security stockholders in cash to and including this dividend is $10,651,275.50.

The unbroken record of dividends for nearly 37 years is evidence of capable and safe management.

QUAKE LIABILITY DISPUTED

Whether or not State compensation insurance is due victims of the Santa Barbara earthquake who were injured while on duty will be determined at a hearing to be held by John Carrigan, State industrial accident commissioner, Friday. There are six applications for compensation insurance and one for a death benefit to be acted upon.

Thus far Commissioner Carrigan has no precedent available, it is said. Insurance companies handling State industrial compensation do not want to pay the claims, saying that the death and injuries were caused by an "act of God" and had nothing to do with actual employment conditions.

The contention of the claimants, it is forecast, will be that the buildings in which the earthquake victims were employed were in poor condition, that if they had been properly constructed the injuries and fatality would have been avoided. This, it is believed, will supplement the assertion that if those hurt while on duty had not been at their work they probably would have escaped injury.

REPORT ON PARALYSIS CASES GIVEN

Statement of City Health Department Shows Steady Falling Off in Illness

Only two cases of infantile paralysis have been reported in the last twelve days, making a total of ten for the month so far, it was declared yesterday in a statement by the City Department of Health. The statement follows:

Since the first day of September there have been reported in the city of Los Angeles but ten cases of infantile paralysis. Last month there were fifty-one cases while in July there were sixty-four cases. This shows a steady decrease. However, this decrease must not be construed by the public that the outbreak of infantile paralysis has passed. It is almost invariably the rule that when schools open there is for the first couple of weeks a slight increase of every communicable disease. Knowing this to be a fact the Department of Health will not be surprised if the next fourteen days show a slight increase over the past two weeks. However, every indication is that the situation is well in hand and that there is no cause for alarm. This does not mean that the people who have been so careful during the past two months must become careless of their habits or of the management of their children.

During the past twelve days there have been reported but two cases in the entire city. These facts are published in order to assure anxious mothers of this community who have been the victims of considerable vicious and unfounded propaganda. These reports, emanating as they did from people who do not know the facts, have done much to frighten many people in this community. The actual story of the local situation is told in the first few paragraphs of this article.

The Department of Health again urges all persons to give the same attention to the following rules as it has done in the past. If this is done, we feel that within a short time the infantile paralysis outbreak will be a thing of the past.

If a child or adult in your family appears to be sick or complains of not feeling well, immediately separate that person from the rest of the family, and allow no visitors to enter the house.

Keep your children off the streets.

Do not let them play with any child or adult who is not entirely well.

Keep sick persons who do not belong in your family out of your house.

Transportation Club to Attend Unique Luncheon

A large number of business men and traffic experts are expected to attend a novel luncheon Friday noon at the plant of the Los Angeles Warehouse Company, 216 Commercial street, under auspices of the Los Angeles Transportation Club.

President J. E. Light of the Transportation Club, who is district freight agent of the Southern Pacific, stated the visit to the warehouse company plant is in line with the educational policy of the club to bring to the fore industrial activities of Los Angeles.

Merle E. Turner, general manager of the company, will act as host.

WILL PLAN FOR BAZAAR

An all-day meeting, for the purpose of preparing for their annual charity bazaar on October 24, will be conducted next Friday at Patriotic Hall by the Loyal Women's Sewing Society of the Stanton Post, Women's Relief Corps. Luncheon will be served at noon. All women wishing to help are invited. Proceeds from the sales of Christmas gifts at the bazaar will be used to aid veterans of all wars and their families.

TRIO HELD IN ACCESSORY STRIPPINGS

A youthful gang of asserted automobile strippers was rounded up, police reported yesterday, with the arrest late Monday night of Elmer Rowe and Cecil A. Patton, both 20 years of age, and Orville C. Howell, 18.

They were surprised by Officers Burch and Rankin, the police report states, in the act of stripping an automobile belonging to H. W. Kennedy, 4713 South Vermont avenue, at Twenty-first and Hill streets.

WOMAN LOST NEARLY DAY ON GLACIER

Mrs. P. C. Thompson of Los Angeles Has Narrow Escape in Alaska

Mrs. P. C. Thompson of 2229 West Twenty-fifth street was lost for nineteen and one-half hours on the Llewellyn glacier in Alaska, the 2nd inst. according to word received in Los Angeles yesterday. Mrs. Thompson was badly bruised by falls on the ice, and had suffered greatly from exposure, but has been able to resume her homeward journey with her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson went on a trip to Alaska following the wedding of their son, Dr. Vernon T. Thompson of Boston, at Portland, Or. While exploring the Llewellyn glacier, which is the largest on the continent, with an area of 2000 square miles, Mrs. Thompson became separated from the rest of the party.

She wandered alone, hopelessly lost, from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 10:30 o'clock the next morning without food. Searching parties were despairing of locating her when she was finally discovered in an extreme stage of exhaustion.

Realty Dealer Fails to Appear as Trial Opens

Charged with false advertising, in connection with the sale of cabin sites in the vicinity of Big Bear Lake, Harry and A. Rouda, brothers, of the Rouda Realty Company, were to appear before Police Judge Richardson yesterday. A. Rouda appeared and entered a plea of not guilty. Harry Rouda was absent, and a bench warrant carrying $5000 bail was issued for him. He had previously put up bond of $50, which was forfeited.

Complaint had been made by Marie Farrel and others, following statements by the Forestry Department that the cabin sites offered by the company were in the national forest reserves, and clear titles could not be given.

The case was continued until the afternoon of the 25th inst.

FAIRY QUEEN IS HONORED BY KHJ

Studio Celebrates Titania's Second Anniversary

Broadway Department Store Sponsors Program

Mexican Holiday Observance Set for Tonight

BY PAUL SHEEDY

KHJ had another big fiesta last evening in the tower studio. The children's hour program marked the second anniversary and the 104th consecutive appearance before the microphone of Queen Titania, ruler of the radio fairies. Charles Leslie Hill, the ever-popular little reader; Lenore Killian, favorite contralto soloist, and Louis F. Klein, himself, court musician to her majesty, were on the party.

As Uncle John was telling the lads and lassies about how Queen Titania had been coming to KHJ every Tuesday evening for two years, a large bubble floated into the studio through the window. Uncle John recognized it as the same kind of a bubble he had seen while standing on the top of the Castle O' Dreams last week. Floating closer and closer, the bubble finally enveloped Uncle John. Then it rose and floated through the window once more, carrying Uncle John with it.

REACHES FAIRYLAND

Through the Fairy Microphone which he always carries in his hand on Tuesday evenings, Uncle John's words of amazement and surprise could be heard by Radioland. In a short time, however, the bubble settled downyard again and faded away, leaving Uncle John standing in Fairyland at the edge of a wonderful forest where the leaves on the trees were golden and silver. Under one of the trees stood little Queen Titania, her arms outstretched in welcome to her beloved "Voice of KHJ," and beside her stood the Sandman. She explained that the golden and silver leaves symbolized friendship and affection.

Passing through this forest the three friends reached a garden where the flowers were all planted in formal rows. As they passed down these rows of blossoms, birds of all colors and hues flitted above their heads. Remarking on the formal aspect of this garden, Uncle John was told by the Fairy Queen to observe the flowers more closely and upon doing so, he discovered that what he had thought were blossoms, were in reality countless number of Queen Titania's fairy subjects drawn up in lines of welcome.

As they approached a high hedge, Uncle John noticed in it an arched entrance which was covered with myriads of roses. Passing through, they entered into what Titania told him was called the "Crystal Garden of Fairyland." It was well-named, for everywhere could be seen objects of purest crystal. Here were trees, flowers, fruit, statues and other works of art, each of beautiful crystal and each one bathed in soft lights which seemed to come from within the object itself. The Fairy Queen explained that these were crystal replicas of works of art accomplished on earth by those who have the Fairy Heart. In the center of the Crystal Garden there was a beautiful fountain of the same material, from which rose constantly the same bubbles, like the one which had carried Uncle John to Fairyland and which Queen Titania said were Bubbles of Happiness.

INSPIRATION ROAD

Upon being questioned as to the reason of this wonderful garden, the Fairy Queen said that it was the very heart of the Fairyland of the Heart and that she often came here so that she might receive the inspiration from the pureness and clearness of the crystal which would enable her to keep her thoughts and heart pure and clear.

After the children's hour, H. M. Robertson gave his weekly talk on dogs. Patrons of the station have recognized him as a real authority, and many problems have been submitted to him.

The splendid evening program given from 8 until 10 o'clock in the tower studio was through the courtesy of the Broadway Department Store, featuring "Favorites of Comic Opera." The big success of the evening was the playing of the Broadway Little Symphony Orchestra, directed by Edward Fitzpatrick.

The outstanding renditions by the ensemble of musicians were "No, No, Nannette!" "Indian Love Call" and "Mlle. Modiste." Mona Content, accomplished concert pianist, received much applause for her solo selections from "High Jinks," by Primi. Marjorie Dodge, talented soprano of the station, sang "If I Were on the Stage" as her big number of the evening, with Edward Novis, baritone, scoring a success with the "Gypsy Love Song" from the "Fortune Teller."

MATINEE PROGRAM

The matinee program of the Pacific States Electric Company was given by a group of unusually talented artists, including Gladys Bureh Dale, violinist; Grace Currey, harpist; Nicholas Ochi-Albi, 'cellist, and Wilfred Fletcher, tenor. The Majestic Eight orchestra, led by Arthur Mace, gave the noon hour of dance music.

This evening from 8 until 10 o'clock, Mexican Independence Day will be commemorated from the studio by a unique program of the national airs and selections of the neighboring country. Prominent Mexicans are to be present in the studio to participate in the elaborate program.

The disabled veterans of the World War at Sawtelle are hearing some of the favorite artists of KHJ who volunteer their talents for the entertainment of these confined heroes. Yesterday afternoon the Leighton's Arcade Cafeteria orchestra directed by Jack Cronshaw, went to the main hospital and played for an hour in Ward 10, with the Piggly Wiggly Hawaiian Trio and Ray Hartman, ukulele and singer, going out tonight.

The new station of the transcontinental group operated across Canada by the Canadian National Railways, CNRV, located at Vancouver, which was opened recently, this afternoon will broadcast a special program coincident with the unveiling of a memorial monument to the late President Harding, which was built by the International Kiwanis clubs, to commemorate the national Executive's speech there when he was returning from the ill-fated trip to Alaska. Set owners here in Los Angeles have been logging this station recently.

The Klerulff & Ravenscroft Company, builders of the original Times station, KHJ, have completed the construction of a fine broadcast studio, located at 1630 South Los Angeles street, which has been given KNRC as call letters. Their initial program is to be put on the air next Tuesday, the 22nd inst. The unit is equipped for 500-watt power, but will operate as 250 watts on a 268-meter wave length. Starting at 7 o'clock in the evening, they will present the following artists: Patrick & Marsh's orchestra, Gladys Terrell, lyric soprano; Park's Entertainers, Allan Fairchild, accompanist; Farley Palmer, pianist; Dot Street, mezzo-soprano; Cowles brothers, duets, Howard Coy, lyric tenor, and Jack Lawton's Syncopaters.

STUDENT AVIATOR DIES FROM CRASH INJURIES

William Gullette, 27 years of age, student aviator and night watchman at the Eagles Airport, Ninety-second street and Western avenue, died yesterday in the General Hospital from injuries received Sunday night. Gullette, according to the police report, took a plane out for a moonlight trip and ran into a barbed-wire fence, suffering a skull fracture and other hurts. His body was sent to the undertaking rooms of John R. Paul.

Bill for Power at City Jail Sent to Police Board

The Municipal Water Bureau having sent the fire department a bill for $380,000 for water for this fiscal year, the Bureau of Power and Light yesterday presented the Board of Police Commissioners with a bill for $15,998 for electric current used at the City Jail and Police Headquarters Building on First street. This bill, the letter said, covers the charge for current since the city took over the Los Angeles distributing system of the Edison company more than two years ago and up to this fiscal year. Under the Edison company's franchise, that company supplied all city departments with electric current free of charge.

The Board of Police Commissioners ordered the Power Bureau's bill sent to the Council, and similar action was taken by the fire board with the Water Bureau's bill.

Woman Blamed For Criminal Carelessness

Greenville, Ill.—A farmer's wife living near here was reprimanded today for keeping dynamite carelessly about the house. Her 4-year-old son was found playing with the explosive while his mother went on a chore to the neighbor's.

Dynamite left about the house is listed as criminal carelessness. Yet, using gasoline at home for cleaning is just as dangerous.

Fire authorities in every city in the United States admit that a gallon of gasoline properly vaporized and mixed with air is equal to 83 pounds of dynamite.

ABSENT AS ALIMONY AGAIN

Charles Parmelee ... This Time as Wife ... $2000 Arrears

Something about [illegible] keep Charles R. Parmelee paying alimony to Mrs. [illegible] ales. Yesterday, when he failed to appear before Judge [illegible] field to explain all, he was in Havana, Cuba.

So many things have happened to postpone his payment of the total due now is around $2000, according to Mrs. Parmelee's attorney. The hearing was put over until October, after Parmelee failed to appear again.

The Parmelee suit is one of the most unusual ever engaged in between husband and wife, when the husband was in love with the sister of his wife's people, and Mrs. Parmelee knew it. She tried to break up the affair, and those who were there said that when the Mentone couple left for Los Angeles, Parmelee went to get the child and followed them to Los Angeles. Parmelee went to Mexico, until reports that he returned to Los Angeles were announced he was going to begin proceedings against Mrs. Parmelee for the arrears in alimony that had accumulated during his absence.

His uncle was in court to-day and explained that he had employed Parmelee out of kindness and had called him to Cuba whence he will return in October. So that the [illegible] of the court might be satisfied, Harry G. Sidlicoff, attorney for Parmelee, insisted that a bench warrant be issued for Parmelee, which was ordered.

CITY STORE ROBBED OF RARE GEMS

Stones Valued at $[illegible] Mysteriously Lost by Jewelry Designing Firm

Activities of a daring burglar gang were revealed yesterday when it was learned that gems stones valued at more than $[illegible] were mysteriously stolen from the designing room of Brock & Co., West Seventh street.

The theft was discovered by C. Brock, head of the firm, on the 11th inst. as Chief [illegible] and Hamrus began a close investigation. Efforts to trace the thieves have been unsuccessful so far, and clews are lacking.

According to the police, a safe in the [illegible] was combined in the theft. Gems were taken from the safe in the room, while two [illegible] temporarily closed. The empty box was found after it had been cast away by the thieves.

The theft had been carefully planned, police believe, by someone who was familiar with the routine of the designing room. The missing jewelry consisted of a large star sapphire, set in platinum, a ruby of five carats, a number of sapphire and emerald rings containing ten diamonds, and a quantity of [illegible] weight from one to two carats each.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the loveliest weddings of the week was that on Monday evening, when Miss Bernice Violet [illegible], attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Inglewood, became the bride of Alexander Lindsay Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Thompson of Long Beach, the ceremony taking place in the Hollywood Christian Church, Rev. S. J. Mathieson officiating. The church was transformed into a bower of ferns, palms and potted plants, while an arch was formed by twenty little girls who carried a chain of asters in pastel shades, through which the bridal party passed to the altar.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a gown of white crepe, cut in straight simple lines with trimming of Chantilly lace embroidered in seed pearls. A veil was caught with pearls to a cap, and fastened at the back by orange blossoms. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Mrs. Thomas C. [illegible] (Mildred Smith,) a bride of two weeks ago, assisted as matron of honor, wearing a gown of rose colored taffeta, with bands of passementerie, and she carried gold [illegible] and ferns. The bridesmaids were Miss Mabel Colburn and Miss Frances Colburn, cousins of the bride, Miss Mildred Pringle and Miss Heloise Moser. They wore frocks of changeable taffeta in blue, orchid, peach and green shades, and carried white satin [illegible] crooks, topped with [illegible] of sweet peas and tied with broad satin ribbons. Silver [illegible] in their hair completed the [illegible] costumes. Ruth Thompson [illegible] the wedding ring, while [illegible] Smith and Mildred Colgrove, sister and cousin of the bride, were flower girls, and Donald Marvin was train bearer. [illegible] R. Gowan was best man, and the groomsmen were Ernest [illegible], Harry Moore and [illegible] C. Sharp. Floyd Lutz and [illegible] Tandy and William Lewis [illegible] ushers. A reception and wedding supper for the relatives and a [illegible] friends followed the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson [illegible] to Estes Park in the Rocky Mountains for their honeymoon. After their return they will be at their home in Hollywood, coming back by way of San Francisco.

[illegible] Club

The Encino Country Club will be hostess this afternoon of a [illegible] daintily appointed luncheon [illegible] which Mrs. Peter De Roos is [illegible] assisting the members of her [illegible] club, bridge being the feature of the afternoon's entertainment. Those included will be Mrs. Frank [illegible] Tuch, Mrs. Farroll Simmons, Mrs. Robert Hillar, Mrs. Sidney [illegible], Mrs. Robert Curdie, Mrs. [illegible] Teddy, Mrs. Joseph Clark [illegible] hostess.

ABSENT AS ALIMONY AGAIN DUE

Charles Parmalee in Court This Time as Wife Charges $2000 Arrears

Something always happens to keep Charles R. Parmalee from paying alimony to Esther B. Parmalee. Yesterday, when he was ordered to appear before Judge Summerfield to explain all, he had gone to Havana, Cuba.

So many things have happened to postpone his payments that the total due now is around $1600, according to Mrs. Parmalee's attorney. The hearing was set backward until October, after Parmalee failed to appear yesterday.

The Parmalee suit at one time engaged international attention when the husband fled to Mexico with the minor child of the couple, and Mrs. Parmalee followed him. She tried to kidnap the child there, and thus the case got into the Mexican courts. Parmalee went to Los Angeles, Parmalee stayed in Mexico, until recently, when he returned to Los Angeles and announced he was going to end proceedings against him by paying arrears in alimony they had accumulated during his absence.

His uncle was in court yesterday and explained that he had employed Parmalee and that business had called him to Mexico, whence he will return to Los Angeles. Superior Judge Harry G. Sadicoff, counsel for Mrs. Parmalee, insisted that a bench warrant be issued for Parmalee, which was ordered.

CITY STORE ROBBED OF RARE GEMS

Stones Valued at $20,000 Mysteriously Lost From Jewelry Designing Room

Activities of a daring woman burglar gang were revealed yesterday when it was learned that precious stones valued at more than $20,000 were mysteriously missing from the designing room of Brock & Co., 530 West Seventh street.

The theft was reported by Guy C. Brock, head of the firm, on the 11th inst., and Detectives Bowen and Hamren began a quiet investigation. Efforts to trace the thieves have been without avail, so far, and clews are lacking.

According to the report the jewelry was contained in a box which was taken from the designing room, while two employes were temporarily absent from the room. The empty box was found, but it had been cast away by the thieves.

The theft had been carefully planned, police believe, by someone who was familiar with the routine of the designing room. The missing jewelry consists of one large star sapphire, one large ruby of five carats, an oriental sapphire and an unusual setting ten diamonds ranging in weight from two and one-half carats.

SOCIETY

By DIANA NEAL LEVY

One of the loveliest weddings of the month was that on Monday evening, when Miss Bernice Violet Smith, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Hollywood, became the bride of Mr. Lindsay Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Thompson of Beach. The ceremony took place in the Hollywood Christian Church, Rev. S. J. Matheson officiating. The church was transformed into a bower of ferns, and palms and potted plants, while an aisle was formed by twenty little girls, who carried a chain of asters through which the bride, given away by her father, passed to the altar. She wore a gown of white satin, cut in straight simple lines, trimmed with Chantilly lace and embroidered in seed pearls. Her veil was caught with pearls and fastened at the back with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Mrs. Thomas C. Mitchell Smith, (Mildred Smith,) a bride of two years, assisted as matron of honor, wearing a gown of rose georgette, with bands of passementerie, and she carried gold roses and ferns. The bridesmaids were Miss Mabel Colburn and Miss Frances Colburn, cousins of the bride, Miss Mildred Pringle and Miss Bonnie Moser. They wore gowns of changeable taffeta in shades of orchid, peach and green and carried white satin parasols crocks, topped with bouquets of sweet peas and tied with satin ribbons. Silver doves in their hair completed the costumes. Ruth Thompson, sister of the bridegroom, was the wedding ring, while little Miss Betty Smith and Mildred Colburn, sister and cousin of the bride, were flower girls, and Donald Duval was train bearer. Lindsay Thompson was best man, and the ushers were Ernest Moore and Henry Moore and Barry, Floyd Lutz and Harry and William Lewis Thompson. A reception and wedding supper for the relatives and a few intimate friends followed the ceremony, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson on Rose Park in the Hollywood hills, where for their honeymoon trip to Santa Barbara and Del Monte. On their return they will be at home in Hollywood, after which by way of San Francisco.

Any scratch marks or bruises may become infected and a new sore appear there. The sores may appear singly or in crops from day to day and gradually the system manufactures an immunity to them and they cease to form. The crusts drop off, leaving reddish spots which fade sooner or later. They may or may not itch. The whole course of the disease takes about ten days to two or three weeks. "Occasionally they may come upon the mucous membrane of the nose and mouth.

Treatment: The object of the treatment is to kill the germs which cause the infection. The parts are scrubbed with warm water and soap, continued long enough to soften the crusts until they can be gently pulled off. After removing them, a germicidal ointment is applied. Wherever possible, the sores should be kept covered with a piece of gauze. The ointment which seems most effective is one made of equal parts of ammoniate of mercury ointment and petrolatum or cold cream or lanoline. A 3 to 5 per cent salicylic acid ointment or Lassar's paste, or five carbolized petrolatum, may be used. If the crusts will not come off, after fifteen to twenty-five minutes of the hot water and soap treatment, then they may be covered with oil and allowed to soften in that.

Remember that it is a highly contagious disease, so the patient must not use other's towels or clothing, nor sleep with others.

Tomorrow: Answers to Correspondents.

My dear Fellowes: When sending for material which I offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelop bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose ten cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you request me to send you the information I have offered.

Fresno Home of Bekins Van Line to be Dedicated

Indicative of the growth of California, the Bekins Van and Storage Company of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Fresno, has within two years completed new, modern fireproof depositories for household goods in both Los Angeles and San Francisco, and just a few days ago completed a similar facility in Fresno.

Milo Bekins, president and general manager, left yesterday to attend the dedication ceremony of the Fresno depository. He said "we find that proper warehousing facilities in any city tend a great deal toward aiding the police and fire authorities in their work of preventing property loss."

Mr. Bekins said that as Fresno is the dispatching point for the Bekins van lines household goods transportation service, it will greatly facilitate service to Californians desirous of moving between cities on the highways from Sacramento to San Diego and San Bernardino.

WIFE TELLS OF THREAT

"I'll cut your heart out and throw the chunks around the room," exclaimed Charles Lozier in his annoyance at being discovered with another woman by his wife, Bee Lozier, according to her complaint for divorce, filed yesterday. They were married last January and separated July 11, Mrs. Lozier recited.

EGGS AUX CROUTONS

Rub a frying pan with a clove of garlic crushed, remove the garlic, pour into the pan four tablespoonfuls of olive oil and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, heat and add one finely chopped onion, stir and cook three minutes, remove the onion and add half a cupful of stale bread cut in small dice; stir and cook until golden brown, do not burn. Remove the croutons and keep hot. Heat two tablespoonfuls of butter in an omelet pan, add six slightly beaten eggs and stir and cook until nearly set; add two tablespoonfuls of cream, a seasoning of salt and paprika, and the croutons. Stir and cook until the eggs are soft, not hard. Turn on to a hot platter and garnish with six strips of broiled bacon.

SPAGHETTI, MILANAISE

Boil half a pound of spaghetti in boiling water for five minutes, add a teaspoonful of salt and boil until tender; drain, place in a deep saucepan, add one cupful of chopped boiled ham, one can of French mushrooms cut in slices, a seasoning of salt and pepper and one small can of Italian tomato paste. Simmer five minutes, turn out on a hot platter and sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese.

PEACH SHORTCAKE

Cover three cupfuls of sliced peaches with half a cupful of sugar and let stand thirty minutes. Sift two and a half cupfuls of sifted flour with one tablespoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt and five level teaspoonfuls of baking powder; rub into the flour mixture three tablespoonfuls of butter and when like coarse meal mix to a smooth dough with one and a quarter cupfuls of milk. Divide into two even pieces, place in two buttered layer cake tins, pat out smooth, brush with melted butter and bake in a hot oven fifteen minutes. Spread half of the prepared peaches over one layer, cover with the other layer, cover with the balance of the peaches and serve with cream or orange custard.

PUREE OF GREEN PEAS

Place in a saucepan three cupfuls of green peas, shelled, add two cupfuls of meat stock, three cupfuls of water, one stalk of celery, one small sliced onion, one sliced turnip, one sprig of mint and half a blade of mace; bring to a boil and simmer until the vegetables are soft; rub through a sieve into a clean saucepan, add one cupful of stock and stir in two teaspoonfuls of butter rubbed to a smooth paste with two teaspoonfuls of flour. Stir and cook ten minutes, season with salt and pepper and serve.

ASK MAYOR FOR HELP IN PHONE QUIZ

Cryer Urged to Appoint Committee for Survey of Local Situation

Presenting a letter from the Municipal League asking that the Mayor appoint a Citizens' Committee of twenty-five to make a thorough investigation of the telephone rate question in Los Angeles, a committee headed by Secretary Anthony Pratt of the league waited upon Mayor Cryer yesterday.

The league proposed that the Citizens' Committee "make or have made a thorough survey of the whole telephone situation so that the people may know what is a fair and just rate and that this rate may be urged before the rate-fixing body, the California Railroad Commission." The members of the committee which waited upon the Mayor were: Secretary Pratt, S. C. Graham, Dr. Laura M. Locke, member of the Board of Public Utilities; J. R. Richards, M. O. Graves, F. M. Buck and A. Nordskog. The committee submitted as suggestions for membership on the committee a list of thirty-five well known Los Angeles men and women.

Mayor Cryer told the committee that he is in sympathy with their efforts to reduce telephone rates and will give the suggestions careful consideration.

Board Orders Sweeping Quiz of Dance Halls

The Board of Police Commissioners yesterday ordered a complete investigation of conditions in the public dance halls of the city.

These investigations are ordered from time to time, when police commissioners receive reports that proprietors are becoming lax in obeying the commission's regulations.

Commissioner Foss said that he had reports that in dance halls frequented by Asiatics there was being permitted an undesirable mingling of races.

TRAFFIC CLUB OF WOMEN TO MEET

The Women's Traffic Club of Los Angeles will hold an educational meeting in the Alexandria at 6:30 p.m. today. J. M. Ford, general agent, Salt Lake and Utah Railroad, will talk on "Traffic Management," and will explain the workings of a traffic department of an industrial house. Roger Marchetti will deliver a lecture on the Harter Act, which has to do with steamship transportation. Misses Gertrude B. Sears and Esther M. Brady will furnish the musical numbers of the evening.

THIRTEEN TRIED ON BURGLARY CHARGES

Thirteen asserted burglars appeared before Superior Judge Hahn yesterday, but it was a lucky experience for only one of them, James B. Hall, who was granted probation. Of the remainder, C. H. Brim, Harry Slater, Louis Falbo, Harris McKelvie and S. A. Kennedy were sentenced to San Quentin and five gained continuances.

WIFE HIT WHEN OTHER GIRL DECLINES KISS

When another woman objected to his kissing her, Eugene Rowath "took it out" on his wife, Mrs. Belle Rowath told Judge Gates yesterday. She was seeking a divorce on cruelty charges.

"It was at a party," she related. "He tried to kiss another girl there and she got mad. So he took it out on me."

"Do you mean he kissed you?" asked Judge Gates.

"No, I mean he hit me," replied Mrs. Rowath.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Safety First

Be sure to test every egg for a crack by tapping before putting it down in water glass for preserving.

Removes Blood Stains

If working on a fine white fabric and a pricked finger causes a few blood stains, they will come out immediately if dabbed with peroxide with a clean cloth.

The Housewife's Day Off

Plan your dinners in accordance with your engagements. If you are going to be out all afternoon on Wednesday, have a roast on Tuesday so that you will have your meat all cooked beforehand. The vegetables can be prepared in the morning and the table set before leaving. Fresh or canned fruit will make an easy dessert and dinner will be readily accomplished in a half-hour after your return and you won't be teased about the usual ham and potato salad meal, either

Doubtful Eggs

So-called "cooking eggs" are sometimes poor economy. A musty egg will ruin a cake or pudding even though thoroughly cooked, and one egg out of the dozen proving no good will take the economy out of the purchase. Good, sure dairy eggs are the best buy in the long run, as there is absolutely no loss to them and you have such a nice feeling concerning the flavor of the dishes containing them.

About the House

Cold tea is a good fertilizer for house plants.

Lard is better to grease muffin and cake pans than butter.

Hard water may be softened with lemon juice, borax or an oatmeal bag.

To straighten the bent whalebones, soak them a few minutes in boiling water and then iron them.

The Family Friend

Dip the broom in a bucket of boiling water at least once a week. This will keep it clean and make it last longer.

A Little Kerosene

When the windows are very soiled and particularly hopeless looking, add a little kerosene to the water for washing. It will cut the dirt and clean them in very short order.

Remove the Stains

When the glass oven door becomes blackened and you are unable to see the food in the oven, use baking soda, as you would a soap powder and the door will become bright and clean.

Cut, But Don't Chop

Never chop chicken, meat or celery with a regular meat chopper. Cut them as fine as you desire with a small sharp knife. Chopping is apt to make the article stringy.

COTTON MEN TO CONVENE FRIDAY

Important Conference on in Bakersfield

Topics Vital to Industry Up for Discussion

Compress Dedication Feature of Convention

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 15.—Representatives of the cotton industry from all parts of the State will assemble in this city next Friday for one of the most important cotton conferences ever held in California and to participate in the official dedication of Bakersfield's new $150,000 cotton compress.

The cotton conference will be an all-day session, held in the Kern county Courthouse under the auspices of the San Joaquin Valley Regional Advisory Council of the California Development Association, in co-operation with the council's special cotton committee and the Bakersfield Civic Commercial Association.

Members of the special cotton committee are H. I. Tupman, chairman, Bakersfield; J. W. Guiberson, Corcoran; O. J. Robertson, Chowchilla; H. N. Carroll, Fresno; and Stanley Pratt, Bakersfield.

DEDICATE COMPRESS

The cotton compress will be dedicated at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon with a program arranged by the Civic Association. The first bale of Kern county cotton will be compressed for the occasion and a brief program of speeches is planned.

From 9 until 10:30 o'clock Friday morning the visitors will register at the Courthouse and obtain luncheon cards. The meeting will be called to order at 10:30 o'clock by A. Emory Wishon, chairman of the advisory council.

Speakers at the morning session will be W. B. Camp, of the government experimental farm, who will have for his subject, "The Cotton Supply;" Stanley Pratt of the San Joaquin Cotton Oil Company, "Transportation Problems of the Cotton Industry in the San Joaquin Valley;" M. H. Merrill, "Textile Manufacturing."

Among the speakers at the afternoon session will be N. H. Carroll of Fresno, "One Variety and Pure Seed;" W. H. Hughes, government cotton classer, "Government Classing of Cotton;" C. C. Selden of Los Angeles, "Private Sales Agencies;" Hugh Jewett of this city, "Growers Co-operative Sales Agencies;" S. Parker Frisselle of Fresno, "Labor." All of the speakers in this group represent the agricultural phase of cotton industry.

Speakers on the industrial phase of the subject will be Robert Hulme, of Fresno, "Transportation;" Charles Fowler of Bakersfield, "Gins, Compressors, Oil Mills;" Gerald F. Thomas of Fresno, "Textile Manufacturing," and H. C. Carr of Porterville, "Finance Distribution."

The following recommendations will be discussed: "State-wide conference to be held;" "Delegates to attend;" "Local Problems," and "State-wide problems."

At the close of the conference cars will be waiting outside the Courthouse to take the visitors to the compress, where the official dedication will be made. H. J. Brandt, president of the Bakersfield Civic Commercial Association, will preside as chairman of the program at the compress and speakers will be F. F. Borton of this city; "William H. Thompson, Los Angeles; A. Emory Wishon, Fresno, and T. J. West of the Bakersfield Compress Company.

Santa Monica Dahlia Exhibit Starts Today

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 15.—The first annual California Dahlia Show, which opens tomorrow in the Santa Monica Bay Woman's clubhouse, is attracting a country-wide interest, according to reports received this morning. The long entry list, which will fill the large building with the choicest California blooms, was closed yesterday. The numerous cups which have been offered for prizes are now on display in the club building.

The show, which has been sponsored by the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce, in addition to the many different social and service clubs, is the first of its kind to be staged in the bay district, but, according to plans, it will be made an annual event. It promises to compare favorably with the San Bernardino Orange Show, Pasadena Tournament of Roses and many other events staged yearly in Southern California cities.

Entrance to the building will be granted at 8 o'clock in the evening and the show will be continued for three days.

GAS-RATE FIGHT PLANNED

Verdugo Hills Organizations Will Oppose Plea of Two Companies for Increase

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

GLENDALE, Sept. 15.—Active opposition to the request of the Southern California Gas Company and the Midway Gas Company for an increase in rates will be voiced by representatives of the Verdugo Hills Associated Chambers of Commerce when the petition of the two companies is presented to the State Railroad Commission for hearing on the 28th inst.

The public service committee of the association, in joint meeting with members of the legislative committee, last night formulated a request to the Glendale City Council that City Attorney Ray L. Morrow be instructed to attend the hearing and participate actively in behalf of Glendale.

Charles R. Dyer of the legislative committee declared that the gas companies, in petitioning for an increase, are simply stealing a march on the people whom they serve by anticipating a demand for a reduction in the gas rate on the part of the consumers.

◆ J. O. Marsh, chief engineer of the Los Angeles Public Utilities Department, stated that his department is now compiling data to be used to offset the claims of the gas companies for higher rates and that the department will welcome the co-operation of other communities in fighting the proposed advance.

The claim for higher rates, it was stated, is based on the claim that a shortage of natural gas is imminent and that the cost of manufacturing artificial gas is advancing. The Glendale rate is now 85 cents per 100 cubic feet and that of Los Angeles is 68 cents.

BANDIT TAKES PARKING TOLL

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

PASADENA, Sept. 15.—Pasadena detectives today redoubled their efforts toward the capture of a foothill bandit who returned to the scene of former hold-ups late last night and held up and robbed S. M. Quinby of 2035 North Raymond avenue, Pasadena, and his young woman companion, Miss Mary Donaldson of Paso Robles. The robbery occurred on Foothill Boulevard near the Mt. Wilson toll house.

The unmasked bandit approached the car in which the couple were sitting, forced them, at the point of a gun, to leave the machine, and then demanded Quinby's watch and money. Deciding this loot was too meager, the robber stepped into Quinby's expensive car and drove away, first instructing his victims to stand in the middle of the road for ten minutes.

"If you dare to move before the time is up, my partner, who is hidden in the brush at the side of the road, will shoot you both," declared the bandit, adding courteously, "I hope you enjoy the walk home."

The couple immediately made their way to a telephone, but the "partner" failed to appear. Quinby furnished the police with an excellent description of the robber, as well as of the car. The man was still at large today.

INGLEWOOD COMPANY TO QUIT FIELD

Liquidation Notice Sent to Stockholders of Loan Corporation

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 15.—Declaring that the $500,000 W. G. Brown Corporation has fulfilled its purpose in the upbuilding of Inglewood, and hence should be liquidated, notice of such liquidation was mailed to stockholders today. It has paid $160,000 in dividends since its founding in 1921.

The letter reads in part as follows:

"A corporation is organized for a purpose, and when it cannot function as it should, it should be liquidated.

"W. G. Brown Corporation was organized to aid building in Inglewood and make a profit for its stockholders at the rate of 2½ per cent per quarter dividend.

"There are now many loan companies that will aid in Inglewood building and their rates of interest are very reasonable. W. G. Brown Corporation is not needed as it was when it was organized.

"If the W. G. Brown Corporation should maintain its dividend rate of 8 per cent per annum, it would be necessary to loan at a higher rate than 9 per cent, namely, 8 per cent plus a bonus. It is not possible to get this rate on good mortgages at the present time."

In closing, the letter points out that the corporation does not sell enough mortgages to pay its office expenses and the large income tax that corporations must pay, in addition to State and capital stock taxes.

MISSING GIRL SOUGHT

Mother In Kansas Asks Aid of Fresno Officials, Fearing Foul Play

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, Sept. 15.—The whereabouts of Mrs. George Pedrino, Jr., girl wife of a Fresno youth, was the subject today of an exhaustive investigation by the District Attorney's office, following the receipt of a letter from the girl's mother, Mrs. Lulu Whitney of Osowatomie, Kan., in which the mother said she feared the girl may have been the victim of foul play.

Failing to hear from the daughter since about the middle of August, Mrs. Whitney wrote the local authorities that she had received a letter from Pedrino in which it was stated that she would never see her daughter again. Pedrino returned her letters to the girl with the suggestion that she had better forget her daughter, Mrs. Whitney said.

Pedrino was sought by the District Attorney's investigators for questioning. The boy's father, George Pedrino, Sr., told Dep. Dist.-Atty. Walling that soon after young Pedrino married the girl she eloped with another man and that his son's search for her over a period of about six months had been unavailing.

Pedrino, Sr., said the marriage of his son to the Whitney girl had occurred before the boy was of age and that court action to annul the marriage is contemplated.

PRISONER MISSING BUT JURY TRIAL IS GIVEN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

Youthful Driver in Auto Accident Freed From Jail

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 15.—While surgeons and attaches of the Martin Hospital here worked to save the life of Preston Rasmussen, 11-year-old automobile accident victim, Harry Crouch, youthful driver who ran down the lad Saturday afternoon, was this morning released to the custody of his parents. His case will be heard in the Los Angeles Juvenile Court, authorities state.

The accident occurred when young Rasmussed, 28 Avenue 19, Venice, alighted from a Del Rey car at Avenue 29. Crouch is asserted to have been driving at a rapid rate of speed and was unable to bring his machine to a stop in time to prevent the accident.

A critical operation in an endeavor to save the life of the boy was to have been performed today. He is believed to be suffering from internal injuries in addition to severe lacerations and bruises about the body.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS TO SHOW CALVES AT FAIR

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Sept. 15.—The Van Nuys High School Calf Club today announced that it will exhibit its eight heifers at the Los Angeles county fair to be held this month at Pomona, and members are hard at work grooming up their entries to get them in prize-winning shape. Among the members of the club are Venario Del Fants, Lena Della Anna, Fred Della Anna, Moulton Edmonds and Ferdinand Kiefhaber. These students were members of the club that exhibited prize heifers at the county fair in 1923, winning the silver cup that was offered as first premium. Two of the boys are regarded as such experts with cattle that their advice often is sought by dairymen and other cattle owners in this part of San Fernando Valley.

NEW OCEAN STREET AT VENICE TO BE OPENED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 15.—Information received from members of the Board of Trustees this morning is to the effect that resolutions of intention to proceed with the North Trolleyway opening and widening project, one of the largest and most sought projects in this city will be passed at the next regular meeting. Work will undoubtedly be started in the course of the next few weeks, they stated.

The Trolleyway improvement will consist of opening the artery through to Santa Monica, affording a direct thoroughfare between the two cities. The Speedway, the only direct route along the ocean front section of the city has long since grown inadequate to handle traffic, it is pointed out.

VAN NUYS PLANS HUGE AUTO SHOW

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Sept. 15.—Van Nuys auto dealers are planning a big auto show which will take place here in a large tent on one of the vacant lots in the downtown district. All the new 1926 models will be shown by the fifteen dealers here, and it is stated that about seventy-five machines will be in the exhibit. Fifteen accessories dealers also will participate in the show. Promoters state that so far as is known, the exhibit, which will be held October 8 to 10, will be the first auto show of any proportion that has been held in San Fernando Valley. Several thousand auto owners are expected to visit Van Nuys from various parts of the valley while the display of new cars is on.

CHILD FALLS IN CANAL, BROUGHT BACK TO LIFE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Sept. 15.—Taken from the Cabrillo Canal, where she was discovered floating after she had slipped and fallen into the water, Ruth Thumb, 3 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Thumb, 1854 Cabrillo Canal, was this morning resuscitated at Police Emergency Hospital. The young girl was brought to shore by a man who refused to reveal his identity, police said. When discovered the little girl was floating unconscious upon her back. She was taken to the hospital by Mrs. L. Clingeman, 551 Rialto avenue. Physicians stated the child would recover.

BEAN GROWERS ESTIMATE CROP

County Will Raise 149,500 Bags of Baby Limas

Believed State Will Show Increase Over 1924

Yield Shortage Expected in San Fernando Valley

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, Sept. 15.—Under a new report just made, the California Lima Bean Growers' Association, affiliated with the Van Nuys and Owensmouth Bean Growing Association, which embraces all of San Fernando Valley, makes an estimate of the total California crop production of lima and baby lima beans for 1925.

In the estimate is included Ventura county, 228,220 bags of limas and 8248 bags of baby limas.

San Diego county, 12,300 bags of limas and 270 bags of baby limas.

ESTIMATE IN COUNTY

Los Angeles county, 2925 bags of limas and 149,500 bags of baby limas. Total bags for all bean growing counties are 538,620 in limas and 246,965 in baby limas.

The report closes with the following:

"The above estimates, made just as the harvesting is commencing, were obtained as result of estimates furnished by several hundred growers and personal inspections in all districts by the field men of the association. As compared with the actual production of the 1924 crops the estimates for the 1925 crop totals would indicate an increase of about 65,000 bags of regular limas and about 7000 bags of baby limas, field run. If the estimates prove to be fairly accurate, the differences in tonnage as compared with last year will probably not be sufficient to have any depressing effect upon the market.

PROSPECTS CITED

"Prospects are that of the total crop of regular limas, Ventura county will produce over 60 per cent and Orange county about 28 per cent; also that San Fernando Valley in Los Angeles county will produce about 65 per cent of the total 1925 crop of baby limas.

"High prices are indicated for early shipments, on account of the extremely bare markets and exhaustion of last season's stocks."

No reference is made in detail to the expected shortage this season in the San Fernando Valley baby lima bean crop, because of the adverse growing and irrigation conditions that have existed within the last two months.

Five Named to Planning Body for Alhambra

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 15.—Five Alhambrans were appointed today by President W. W. Benedict of the City Commission to comprise Alhambra's first Municipal Planning Commission, as provided for in an ordinance which went into effect yesterday and which has been under consideration for several months. The appointees are A. L. Boyden, Dr. G. S. Archer, Clayton I. Ward, Clyde Forsythe and A. G. Sharp. Mr. Boyden is president of the A. I. Root Company whose new manufacturing plant is being erected in this city. Dr. Archer, who will represent the City Commission on the planning body, is a well-known nurseryman and is president of the Southern California Dahlia Association.

Mr. Sharp is a real estate man and is prominent in community work in the Granada Park district of Alhambra. Mr. Forsythe is a nationally-known artist and as "Vic," is the author of a popular comic strip. In addition to the five members who will vote, there will be three ex-officio members of the Planning Commission.

SANTA MONICA SCHOOL BARS SECRET SOCIETY

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 15.—High school students in this city will meet with stiff opposition should they endeavor to become associated with any sorority or fraternity, according to an edict issued by W. F. Barnum, principal, who states the laws approved in 1909 governing such organizations will be upheld to the letter. According to the law elementary and secondary pupils are not allowed to become associated with any such societies. Such law may be enforced by school boards and authorities.

Students are being supplied with blank forms to be filled out and filed; in which they must state they will refrain from becoming associated with any fraternity or sorority organizations. The form must be signed by parents or guardians of the students.

THREE AUTOISTS PAY INTOXICATION FINES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 15.—Charles A. Barnhart, 44 years of age, Los Angeles attorney, and M. A. Chittenden, 36, an oil worker of 2694 Lime avenue, Long Beach, driver of Barnhart's machine, paid fines of $25 each when they appeared before City Recorder Stewart today. Both pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness. Barnhart and Chittenden were arrested when police were called to investigate a wreck at Seventeenth street and Ocean avenue. While investigating the crash the police car was struck by a machine driven by E. B. Malles of Orange, Malles proved to be intoxicated, police charged, when they investigated the second crash. He paid a fine of $100 on a charge of reckless driving when he appeared before the City Recorder.

VENTURA FAIR OPENS TODAY

Spanish Fiesta to Feature Day's Celebration

Every Department Filled to Overflowing

Show Horses of National Reputation Entered

BY BURTON D. SMITH

VENTURA, Sept. 15.—Aladdin with his magic lamp never worked a more wonderful transformation than that enacted at the Ventura county fair grounds today. Supplementing the preparations of yesterday, an army of workers today practically completed all the many displays, placed a multitude of concession tents, arranged prize stock in decorated stalls and in other ways made the big fair ready for the opening crowds that will flock through the gate tomorrow when the big show really opens. A great Spanish fiesta has been arranged to extend throughout the day, which, coupled with the opening ceremonies in which Senator Shortridge will play a prominent part, the race program and the horse show at night, will crowd into one day more amusement and high-class entertainment than is usual at the opening day of a county fair.

While all of the departments on the ground are full to overflowing with exhibits of real merit, the display of live stock of all kinds overshadows all other exhibits. Last year the foot-and-mouth disease closed all departments in this division except the horses and the return of great arrays of sheep, cattle and swine are welcomed by fair visitors who are interested in domestic animals. There are three distinct divisions of the horse display and each is crowded to capacity. Show horses which have attracted national attention fill every available space and will all participate in the evening shows where competition is unusually keen. Lovers of harness racing are delighted with the prospects for the four-day meet and say that the class of events will rank favorably with those of the early '90's when harness racing reached its height of popularity.

CATTLE STABLES

In the cattle stables are found an array of specimens which speaks well for western breeders who are fast bringing their herds to perfecton. Displays of high-bred Holsteins are given larger representation than other breeds and seem to be accepted as the best in dairy herds. The La Lomita ranch of Palms is showing a prize-winning line of Jerseys; H. G. Gantz of Buellton, Ayrshires; A. B. Humphreys, Stockton, Guernseys; while owners from Santa Rosa and Rogue River, Or., are exhibiting fine specimens of Herefords.

The sheep and hog departments have filled all available space and the poultry and pet stock, has a large tent all its own. All these displays, coupled with one of the largest dog shows to be given on the Coast this year, make the live stock part of Ventura's fair far beyond anything they have have ever shown and among the notable exhibitions of the West.

The women's department, filled to overflowing with handicraft and potted plants, is sure to be a center of attention. Among the interesting displays in this department is a collection of old-time photographs gathered under the direction of Mrs. H. M. Walker, which illustrate many of the early events of Ventura county, and show many of the pioneers who have made possible this now great agricultural region. Fronting the industrial tent are practically all of the business houses of Ventura and surrounding cities have displays there is much to excite interest. Various displays of radio are favorites with the crowds. Programs from KHJ and other Los Angeles stations are received daily. Perhaps the most interesting display in this department is made by the Ventura Daily Plain-Dealer. The management of the newspaper has just purchased the newest type of a Mergenthaler Linotype and before installing it in their office have taken it to a booth at the fair. Beside it is an old Simplex, one of the first and now obsolete type-setting machines. The contrast shows the great progress of printing in the last decade when the Simplex was considered a wonder.

SPECIAL FEATURES

The fair will continue through next Sunday with special features each day. Wednesday is Spanish day, with special attention being paid to features of the opening. Thursday is Santa Barbara day; Friday is Ventura county and school children's day; Saturday is dedicated to the pioneers of the county and is known as homecoming day when many who have not visited Ventura in many years will mix with the crowds and renew old acquaintances. Sunday is California day and will be marked with many features, including a pageant presented by the Santa Barbara lodge Knights of Pythias.

The speed program for the week announces for Wednesday, a pacing and trotting and two running races; Thursday the same. On Friday there will be a pacing race, a two-year-old trot and two-year-old pace, with two running races. Saturday events include stake trotting and pacing races with the usual program of "jumpers." Sunday two free-for-all races feature the bill, with a Roman chariot race as an added attraction.

Every evening, beginning at 7:30, the horse show will be staged and from ten to fifteen events will be offered.

FIGHT OVER SENORITA

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 15.—Complaints of neighbors that several Mexicans were staging a fight in the street over a dark-haired senorita took the flying squad to Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue early this morning, only to discover that the participants had fled. When police arrived they found a heavy touring car stuck in the mud. The license number was obtained and the investigation will be continued.

SCIENTIST'S VISIT ENDS

President Merriam of Carnegie Institute Leaves After Three Months on Coast

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 15.—Dr. John Campbell Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institute of Washington and one of the world's foremost paleontologists and historical geologists, left Pasadena for Washington today, after a three months' stay on the Coast, during which time he has been conferring with Carnegie Institute heads in Washington, Oregon and California.

Dr. Merriam outlined briefly the research work of the institute in California. The three departments are the Mt. Wilson Observatory here, the department of plant physiology at Carmel, and the development of ecology, units of which are established in several sections of the State.

One of the most important experiments ever conducted in the history of plant life, Dr. Merriam said, is now taking place at Carmel under the direction of Dr. H. A. Spoehr, world-famous chemist and member of the botanical research department of the Carnegie Institute. The experiment is known as "photosynthesis," and its purpose is to determine the chemical processes in plant leaves brought about by light.

Dr. Merriam spent last night at the Mt. Wilson Observatory, and returned this morning to the Maryland Hotel. During his stay in Pasadena he conferred with Dr. Albert A. Michelson, eminent University of Chicago physicist, concerning the progress of the latter's experiments at Mt. Wilson, and concerning the plant research now in process at Carmel.

Dr. Merriam was accompanied on his return trip today by Mrs. Merriam and their son, M. L. Merriam.

DEADLOCK STILL HOLDS

Pasadena Directors Unable to Agree on Member for Position Holding Balance of Power

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 15.—The deadlock which has prevailed in the Board of City Directors here for the last month remained unbroken today when the Directors met and again failed to select a seventh member of the board as a successor to John H. Simpson, resigned.

Chairman Franklin B. Cole declared today that he could see no relief in the situation, and said that he has given up attempts at predicting when the Directors will be able to act. All discussion of candidates for the position, which is obviously that of the balance of power on the city's executive body, has been carried on by the Directors in private sessions. Several special meetings have been called in addition to the regular weekly meetings.

At the City Hall it is reported that Directors William Easterbrook, Carl Newcomer and A. N. Cole are holding out for the appointment of Kenneth Fraser, the plumber and president of the Washington-street Improvement Association. While Directors F. B. Cole, Franklin Thomas and Hiram Wadsworth are opposed to Fraser's selection, they are said to have suggested nearly a score of Pasadenans as satisfactory to them, but without avail.

The expected demand for a vote on the question in public meeting, which would require a definite and reasonable stand on the part of the Directors, still appears to be a possibility of the distant future.

PASSENGERS IN COLLISION SUE DRIVERS

Nearly $10,000 Damages Asked as Man and Woman File Lawsuits

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 15.—In two complaints filed at the office of the County Clerk, Roy Eaken and Gordon Metcalf are named as defendants in two civil damage suits aggregating $9673.50.

The first of the two complaints, filed by M. C. Finch against Eaken and Metcalf as co-defendants, alleges that due to negligence on the part of the two defendants their automobiles collided near Hotel Lebec July 2, 1925 at which time, according to the complaint, Finch was riding in the rear seat of Metcalf's machine and received severe injuries. As compensation for alleged injuries, pain, hampered business activity and other counts, Finch asks judgment of $4941.75.

In the other suit, filed with the County Clerk, Lula Wagner alleges in her complaint that she was in the same collision and suffered concussion of the brain and other serious injuries and asks judgment of $4731.75 of the two defendants.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 15.—Officials of the Hurah Refinery, Nineteenth street and Ross avenue, were served today with summons in a criminal complaint made by city officials and charging violations of the city ordinance prohibiting the operation of refineries in certain districts.

The action of the police is the culmination of a fight launched against the refinery several months ago to oust it from a residential district. A series of fires and explosions brought about charges that the plant is a menace to the district.

The summons was served upon E. L. Cragen, manager, by Detective Sergeants Lebarron and McDonald. The case is to be heard in Municipal Court here on the 21st inst. The action is of the type brought against corporations and no individuals were named in the complaint.

OXNARD WILL STRESS AVOCADO AS PRODUCT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, Sept. 15.—Oxnard's next year's lemon show will be known as the California Lemon and Avocado Show, it was announced today by the executive committee. The first show, held here with great success this year, was called the California Lemon and Products Show. As this section is one of the coming avocado sections of the State, the word avocado was included in the title. H. Elmo Labreque, who managed the show this year, has been engaged for the 1926 event. Labreque is an experience manager and says he will make a better showing next year. Manager Rose of the Oxnard Citrus Association is president of the 1926 show.

GROUND FOR SEWER BROKEN

The first shovel of dirt from Los Angeles county's new $12,500,000 metropolitan sewer system flew yesterday when work was started on the sanitation program. R. F. McClellan, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, wielded the spade, gilded in honor of the occasion, and A. K. Warren, chief engineer of the county sanitation districts, together with Hugh Pomeroy, secretary of the Regional Planning Commission, aided in the ceremonies.

Work was begun on the project in District No. 1 at a point on Atlantic avenue, Maywood, following a luncheon under auspices of the Harbor District Chambers of Commerce, held in the District Club of the Central Manufacturing District. Other officials of the county present included Chief Deputy Surveyor Alfred Jones and A. M. Rawn, first assistant to Engineer Warren. Representatives of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce also were present.

District No. 1 will serve Maywood, Huntington Park and other communities.

Prospects Lost for Long Beach Anglers to Land Stewed Cod, Pickled Mackerel or Boiled Barracuda, When Ruling Gives Hospitals Seized Wine

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Sept. 15.—The poor fish! The liquor party planned by Messrs. Barracuda, Spotfin, Mackerel, Tomcod, et al. for some night this week is positively off and invitations to the jamboree have been canceled. Some 204 cases of the choicest wines and liquors that France can produce, taken in a raid at Naples a few weeks ago and consigned to the deep waters of the Pacific, are to go to local hospitals instead.

This was the announcement today of Police Chief Yancy, following receipt of word from the Federal authorities in Los Angeles that the liquor need not be destroyed, providing it is turned over to hospitals for medicinal purposes.

"The stuff will not be given to the hospitals except in small quantities on requisition, and before it is doled out it will put in kegs, since it is more difficult to slip a keg in the hip pocket than it is to carry a pint flash there," Chief Yancy announced.

YOUTH DIES ON ELECTRIC POWER LINE

Boulder Canyon Project Surveyor Killed When He Climbs on Pole

Entangled in high-power wires on an eighty-foot pole, James Costello, 18 years of age, 222 East Forty-third street, was electrocuted before the eyes of a surveying crew of the Bureau of Public Works at San Bernardino yesterday afternoon.

Costello climbed the pole to nail a marker on it, a part of the work of the surveying crew conducting a topographical survey as a preliminary step of the Boulder Canyon project. He slipped and fell against a high-power line. An arc of blue flame shot up and Costello, with unbelievable strength, pulled himself free from the arc and slumped back on a cross-arm.

Unconscious, he clung on the cross-arm. His aides called the fire department to raise a ladder to free the youth. As the firemen arrived Costello again fell onto the wires. Another blue flame arose and the youth fell heavily to the ground, his clothing aflame.

Clothing was virtually burned off before the men reached the body. He was rushed to the Ramona Hospital, where physicians stated life was extinct. Costello's body is at the Mark B. Shaw mortuary in San Bernardino, where an inquest probably will be conducted tomorrow.

SUSPECT IN SHOOTING TO FACE TRIAL

Prisoner Held to Answer in Case Declares Victim Had Threatened Him

Harry Alpine was held to answer yesterday by Justice Baird on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Barney Blum, who was shot to death the 2nd inst. Alpine's defense is that Blum held him up and robbed him of a watch and money and theatened him with death when he sought to recover the property later.

Witnesses at the hearing were Detective Lieutenant Craig, who investigated the slaying, and Mrs. A. Vanderpault, an eyewitness to the shooting, which took place in front of 820 West Temple street.

According to Mrs. Vanderpault, she was standing across the street from Blum's store on Temple street when Alpine drove up in a car and engaged Blum in conversation. Blum got in Alpine's car and the conversation became heated, Alpine cursing and shouting: "You held me up," she said. A brief struggle ensued and a shot was fired. Blum, mortally wounded, died two days later.

With the consent of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Schsineman, bail was set at $25,000, in default of which Alpine was remanded to jail.

MOTHER MISSING, SON ASKS SEARCH

Police were asked yesterday to look for Mrs. Catherine Stubbs, 65 years of age, who left her home at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning and has not been seen since, according to her son, R. G. Burgess, of 2509 Ocean View avenue. She had about $20 when she disappeared, he said. Mrs. Stubbs is five feet seven inches in height, weight about 145 pounds, gray eyes, gray hair, and fore a black silk dress. Her condition is feeble, according to her son.

DIVORCE QUIZ NETS ATTORNEY

Mexican Counselor Enters Not Guilty Plea

Trial of Accused Set for Next Saturday

Mrs. Wylie Demands Jury Trial at Hearing

A. D. Melgarejo Randolph, describing himself as an attorney and counselor at Mexican law, late yesterday afternoon was taken into custody by Detective-Lieutenants Canto and Hermans in connection with a campaing under way by the police against operators of so-called "divorce mills."

The first arrest in connection with this campaign was made Monday when Canto and Hermans arrested Miss Reba Wylie at her office at the Byrne Building, 258 South Broadway. Randolph was arrested at his office at 228 California Building, Second and Broadway.

COMPLAINTS ISSUED

Complaints charging both Miss Wylie and Randolph with violating Section 159A of the penal code, controlling advertising to procure divorce, a misdemeanor, were issued at the City Prosecutor's office yesterday.

Miss Wylie was taken before Police Judge Georgia Bullock for arraignment. She pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. Her case was transferred to Judge Frederickson's court to be set today. She is at liberty under $250 bail.

Randolph was arraigned before Judge Richardson. He, too, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. His bail was fixed at $100.

While the arresting officers charge that Miss Wylie inserted an advertisement in an afternoon newspaper to attract clients to obtain a divorce through the Mexican system, Randolph is accused by them of circulating pamphlets telling of the comparatively easy, but costly method, of getting a divorce in one of the four States of old Mexico.

A number of these pamphlets were seized by Canto to be used as evidence at Randolph's trial.

In defense of his client, Randolph's attorney made a statement in Police Judge Richardson's court that Randolph deals only with practicing attorneys, furnishing them information, and that he does not himself solicit or advertise for divorce business.

Following the arrest of Miss Wylie, Canto and Hermans said they saw at her office a lengthy list of Angelenos awaiting their turn to go through the "divorce mill." Inasmuch as this list is not needed as evidence it was not taken by the officers. They say they recognized on the list many prominent names.

At her home, 2436 3-4 Raymond avenue, Miss Wylie last night denied there was at her office a long list of aplicants for divorces by the Mexican system, among them many prominent Angelenos.

THREE GET DIVORCES

"I have only been engaged in this service for five months and but three persons have got divorces in Mexico through information and assistance given by me," she said. "In all, about twenty persons have applied at my office for information about Mexican divorces.

"Many of them did not return after I explained to them what they had to do and that it would be necessary for them to go to Mexico personally. First of all I inform them I am not an attorney and do not give legal advice and lastly that they must make the trip to Mexico before they can get a divorce."

Miss Wylie said she also conducts a Mexican land service in connection with H. E. Grace, a practicing attorney of Mexico, who is now in that country. She said that her only charge to Mexican divorce applicants is $50 for her services and for the information she gives. She did say, however, that it does take about $700 to get a divorce in Mexico counting traveling expenses, attorney fees and the high court costs.

RAIL RATE HEARING FOR CITY

District Conference on Hoch-Smith Investigation Forecast by Commissioner Squires

Los Angeles will be the seat of a district hearing on freight rates, which will be held in about two months, in the opinion of George D. Squires, California State Railroad Commissioner, who arrived here yesterday from attending the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing at Chicago.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has been taking evidence in connection with the Hoch-Smith resolution asking for an investigation of rates west of the Mississippi with a view to reduction. The railroads have asked for a 5 per cent increase on agricultural products and live stock.

Following the taking of testimony and cross-examination at the Chicago hearing, Squires said, it was decided to hold the matter in abeyance pending the holding of district hearings at various railroad centers, such as Kansas City and Seattle. One of these hearings undoubtedly will be held at Los Angeles, he said.

RULING IN YEAR

The findings of the district hearings will be considered by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and a decision is expected in about a year. The matter is of especial importance to California fruit-growing interests.

Commissioner Squires left for San Francisco last night.

MASONIC CLUB HAS FIRST FALL SESSION

Masters, wardens, inspectors and other officers of most of the Masonic lodges of Los Angeles gathered last night at the Alexandria for the opening fall meeting of the Los Angeles Masonic Club. Dinner was served at 6 p.m. to about 2000 members and guests. Plans were discussed for a membership campaign for the club. President Irving Mitchell presided. Following the business session, an entertainment with thirteen vaudeville acts was presented.

CONSTITUTION TO BE HONORED

Programs Will Celebrate Anniversary of Signing

Schools, Lodges and Clubs Will Participate

Students Get Chance to Hear Noted Speakers

One of the most important anniversaries of our nation is the 138th anniversary, tomorrow, of the framing and signing of the Constitution of the United States. During this week, throughout the country, citizens are observing the anniversary in schools, lodges, churches, clubs and fraternities.

To commemorate the day, the Americanization committee of the American Bar Association, through its chairman, James L. Irwin, and secretary, George W. Rochester, and Better America Federation, co-operating with the Board of Education of Los Angeles, are having appropriate programs at all the grade schools and special speakers of note to address each of the twenty-two high-school assemblies in the city.

The public is invited to attend any of the commemoration exercises given at the following designated high schools, the speakers for which are:

11:30 Friday—Rae D. Goodell, Polytechnic High School.
9:30 and 10:15 Wednesday—Former Judge B. F. Bledsoe, Los Angeles High School.
11:30 Thursday—Dr. Harry J. McClung, Lincoln High School.
10:00 and 11:00 Thursday—Frank G. Tyrrell, Manual Arts High School.
8:30 Tuesday—George W. Rochester, Part-Time High School.
11:30 Thursday—Prof. C. B. Moore, Franklin High School.

11:30 Thursday—Address under the supervision of Prof. I. W. Barnet, Torrance High School.

Boy Loses Life When Motorbus Strikes Bicycle

Gillard Hunt, 12 years of age of 1033 Longwood avenue, was killed almost instantly yesterday when he was struck by a Los Angeles Railway motorbus on La Brea avenue, between Eighth and Ninth streets. The youth was riding a bicycle and swerved in front of the motorbus, according to the report of Detective Lieutenants Dryden and Stevens, who exonerated the driver, Homer Bainey. Hunt's body was sent to the undertaking rooms of Reed Brothers.

UNITED BUSY

ENGLISH ACTOR WILL PLAY OPPOSITE STAR

By Grace Kingsley

Doings around the United Studios would seem to indicate that there is going to be no let-up in First National production out there. Items of news reaching us yesterday were unusually interesting.

For one thing, Corinne Griffith is to have a brand new leading man. He is Walter Pidgeon, that handsome, sleek-looking Englishman whom Joseph M. Schenck brought West. Through arrangements between E. M. Asher and Schenck, Pidgeon will be loaned to Miss Griffith for her next picture. And by the way, "Ashes" will be the story which Miss Griffith will make following "Caesar's Wife."

Speaking of this star, Martha Mattox and Bertram Johns have joined her "Caesar's Wife" cast. Warner Oland is exceptionally well cast, while Percy Marmont and Malcolm MacGregor bid fair to outdo themselves in the two leading male roles. Irving Cummings, if you happen to remember, is directing.

They are casting already for Colleen Moore's new picture, "Irene." Colleen is away on a short vacation, but will return the first of next week. As yet Colleen's leading man has not been announced.

Dolores del Rio, the Mexican beauty and social leader whom Edwin Carewe found in Mexico City, is progressing with great strides in her first photoplay, "Joanna." According to Carewe, Senorita del Rio will be a shining light in the film firmament.

EDMUND BURNS WILL PLAY OPPOSITE STAR

Word from the De Mille Studio is to the effect that Edmund Burns will be featured opposite Leatrice Joy in "Made for Love," a starring vehicle written for Miss Joy by Garrett Fort.

Miss Joy and Burns made an entertaining combination in "Hell's Highroad," the first picture filmed at the De Mille Studio, following Burns's successful appearance opposite Gloria Swanson in "The Humming Bird." Te has just completed "Simon the Jester," for which De Mille loaned him to Metropolitan Pictures. Miss Joy has just finished "The Wedding Song." Paul Sloane is to direct "Made for Love," which, by the way, would seem to be a fitting title for a story laid, as is this one, in Egypt.

Another interesting bit of news from the De Mille Studios is that Rosa Rudami, the Italian beauty now under contract with Cecil B. De Mille, has been selected as a patroness for the Festi del Venti di Septembre, which, if you please, is an Italian festival held annually on the 20th inst., wherever two or three faithful Italian souls are gathered together. The Italian Consul in Los Angeles will also be a patron of this affair, the receipts of which will go to the Italian Hospital fund.

And if you have happened to forget what Miss Rudami's professional activities have been let me freshen your memory by telling you she played a nice part in support of Miss Joy in "The Wedding Song."

Bear Breaks Loose

Bears will be bears, but after all, bears are easier to direct than are leopards, thinks Clarence Brown, whose labors in the vineyard of art have recently required that he direct a wild animal in Rudolph Valentino's current picture, so though he had discarded the bear in favor of a leopard, he switched back, and after an evening of intensive research on bears, Mr. Brown went ahead and shot the bear scenes at United Studios last Monday night.

But, as we said before, bears will be bears, and one thing a bear likes to do is to go about on voyages of discovery. The one in the Valentino picture, finding that he could break his chain, very reasonably did so on Monday night, but took the inopportune time when some hundred extras were about the set. Mr. Brown had not burned the midnight oil for nothing, however, and the bear's keeper knew his stuff too; so both cried in unison to the frightened actors—"Keep perfectly quiet until we capture the animal!" Then they threw him some bread.

You could have heard a pin drop except for the comment of Valentino himself, uttered in a stage whisper, "He's going to make up his mind whether to eat the bread or the hams!"

Finally the creature was captured, and led back on the chain. There were some rather exciting scenes taken, in which Valentino, Wilma Banker and Grace Gordon came altogether too close for comfort to the uprearing animal.

Virginia Valli Home

After sojourning for three months about Munich, Paris, Berlin, London and other foreign points of interest, Virginia Valli arrived in Los Angeles on Monday, looking as bright and chipper as though she had just run into town for the week-end.

Virginia Valli

Miss Valli went to Europe about three months ago to play the star role in "The Pleasure Garden," produced by Gainsborough Pictures, Ltd., in Munich, Germany. After the completion of the picture, she took a hurried trip about the country, flying, incidentally, from Paris to London. The star is not to have much of a rest, however, for she is scheduled to leave the last of this week for Portland, where she will be starred in a Moomaw production.

Paramount in Full Swing

A record-breaking production schedule is being arranged at Paramount's West Coast studios, according to instructions received from Jesse L. Lasky, who is now in New York. Within the next thirty days seven feature productions will be in the making, and the momentum of filming pictures is counted upon to increase from now on.

"The Tattooed Countess," starring Pola Negri, will be commenced on the 21st. inst. under direction of Malcolm St. Clair. The story is by Carl Van Vechten. James Cruze will start filming "The Manikin," an adaptation of Fannie Hurst's $50,000 prize contest novel, on the same day. Next week Raymond Griffith goes into action on his new starring feature, "Stage Door Johnny."

Other productions shortly to go into work are "The Enchanted Hill," with Irvin Willat directing; "Hassan," with Raoul Walsh directing; "Polly of the Ballet," with Bebe Daniels starred and William De Mille directing; "Two Soldiers," marking the return to the screen of Mildred Davis, with Victor Fleming as director.

Gilda Grey will probably come west on October 5 for the filming of "Aloma of the South Seas."

During the month of October at least seven companies will be actually shooting at the Famous Players-Lasky studio in Hollywood or on location, while Paramount's east coast studio at Long Island is already in full swing.

Hobart Henley Begins

"Free Lips," the new Hobart Henley production starring Norma Shearer and featuring Lew Cody, went into production at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios yesterday.

—o—

Warners Buy "The Sap"

Final arrangements were made yesterday whereby Warner Brothers secure the picture rights of "The Sap," the play that is now scoring a hit at the Majestic Theater.

The part that Edward Everett Horton is now portraying will be played by Matt Moore. In fact the play was bought for his specific use and will be started as soon as he finishes "The First Year" for Fox, to which company he has been loaned. At the present time he is just finishing the leading male role opposite Marie Prevost in "The Jazz Bride."

—o—

Mario Carillo in It

Mario Carillo, who has registered so successfully in two Elinor Glyn productions, has signed to play an important role in the new Barbara La Marr picture.

Carillo came to California a few years ago from Washington, where he was stationed in the Italian Embassy. Since coming into pictures his rise has been slow but sure, each part topping his previous one in importance. His scenes with Pola Negri in "Bella Donna" have never been forgotten, just as the role he portrayed in Mme. Glyn's "His Hour" was distinctive. He will be seen as a dashing Italian officer opposite Barbara La Marr.

PAUL BERN TO DIRECT "PARIS" AS FIRST FILM

"Paris," a brilliant story of the French capital today, set amid a gorgeous series of spectacles, exotic settings, sensational ballets and glittering costumes, is to be Paul Bern's initial production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

This was announced with the choice of the new story, an original play by Carey Wilson, adapted by Jessie Burns. Effe, the designer, will work with the director on the spectacular details of the production, and has under way preliminary sketches.

The story is one of modern Paris, laid among the folk of the theater and the boulevards.

CORINNE GRIFFITH TO PLAY "ANNA KARENINA"

E. M. Asher, head of Corinne Griffith Productions, announced yesterday that Count Leo Tolstoi's "Anna Karenina" has gone into preparation for Miss Griffith.

"Anna Karenina" is a stirring tale laid in Russia, and offers Miss Griffith opportunities that she has never before had on the screen. It has heavy drama and heart interest, and is expected to present the beautiful screen star in an entirely new light.

AN 'ACCIDENTAL' LUMINARY

Not so very many weeks ago several hopeful young girls presented themselves at the United Studios for a series of tests. One of the most piquant-faced girls stood back on the side lines, and it was noticed that she had not put any make-up on. An assistant director strolled up to her and said:

"What's your name, girlie?"

"Joyce Compton," she quaveringly replied, in anticipation of being sent from the studio.

"Why don't you put on your make-up?"

"Oh, I'm not here for tests. I just came along with Fluffy to—to—to sort of give her courage," the girl replied.

"Well, if I were you I'd take a test myself, you never can tell."

No, you certainly can't, for when the tests were completed little Joyce was given not only a small part in that particular production, but also a long-term contract by First National, under the terms of which she is to be groomed for starring honors.

Joyce has one of those natural peaches and cream complexions which is the instant envy of every girl who meets her; yet she maintains she has never been inside a beauty parlor, even cutting her own hair with a pair of blunt old scissors.

So far her parts have been small, yet her eyes dance in delight and pride at the mere mention of any one of them. This very buoyancy of spirit and boundless enthusiasm ought to carry her far.

Fans Wish to See Horton in 'Clarence' Again

Majestic Theater patrons who have been closely following the career of Edward Everett Horton would prefer seeing him again in "Clarence" to a revival of any other of his past successes, judging by the letters reaching Michael Corper, Majestic producer.

Mr. Corper recently offered a pair of Majestic season tickets as a prize for the best reason, told in 100 words, why he should bring back one of the following plays with Horton in the stellar role: "Never Say Die," "Clarence," "I Love You," "The Professor's Love Story," and "Smilin' Through."

The Majestic policy under Mr. Corper is to present the latest Broadway successes, such as "The Sap," now galloping along merrily in its third week, but a large number of letters asking for revivals of former Horton successes caused him to put the question up to the theatergoing public.

The offer of a pair of season tickets is still open, he says, to whoever gives him a convincing reason for staging one of the above-named five plays.

Call Play at Egan's 'White Hope of Comedy'

"White Collars," the sensationally successful comedy, is on the threshold of its eighty-seventh week at the Egan Theater, where the hearty laughter of the audiences reigns during the entire action of the play, and might, without fear of contradiction, be termed "the comedy white hope of the theater."

"White Collars" seems to prove, in a whimsical way, that the true aristocrat is more democratic than the democrat.

The playing of the piece is most noteworthy. Craig Ward as the millionaire husband, humorously tolerant of his wife's family, has appeal as well as true humor, while Dian Esmonde is still the beautiful young wife. Blanche Douglas, Zellah Covington, Betty Sinclair, Marvel Quivey, Stuart Erwin, Gordon White and Paul Kruger complete the worthy cast.

'Lady' Continues 'Good' Record at Mason Theater

Like "No, No, Nanette," it is proving a great repeater and many Los Angeles playgoers have seen the "Lady" four and five times. The dancing of the chorus still continues to be one of the most popular features of the entainment.

T. Roy Barnes, Kitty and Ted Doner, Ernest Wood, Hal Van Rensalaer Edith Griffith, Margaret Cullen Landis, Rose Doner, Bernice Hough are the principals. The music offered by Arthur Kay's syncopaters is also a big feature. Matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

RUSSIAN CONDUCTOR TO APPEAR

Altschuler to Present Great Works of His Nation in Concert Series

'Los Angeles is at last to take advantage of the Russian talent within its gates and produce a series of all-Russian concerts. Under the banner of the Russian Arts Club of which Dr. Alexis Kall is president, Modest Altschuler, internationally famous orchestral conductor, will give three concerts, January 4th, March 6th, and April 17th, in the Philharmonic Auditorium with the men of the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Altschuler for years conducted the famous Russian Symphony Orchestra which thrived in New York and prospered on tours across the country. He was an associate in the Moscow Conservatory with most of the modern composers who have made Russian music take a foremost place in the world, and his desire to present many of these great works to Western America for the first time prompted the unique season.

Having been a close friend of the late Scriabin, and the first to play his extremely interesting combination of colored light and orchestral music, "Prometheus," Mr. Altschuler has interested himself in the perfection of the colored light keyboard during his quiet sojourn in Southern California. The Edison Company has co-operated with him in working out the suggestions which he acquired from the composer to build the "Luce" which is the name of the new color instrument. The effect is said by Mr. Altschuler to be that of "color-chords" quite different from Wilfred's "Clavilux," exhibited here without music several years ago.

The proposed programs will consist of compositions by many composers only known by name to musicians of America and never heard in this country before. A partial list includes: Entr' Act from the opera, "Oriateas," (Tanyeiew;) "Ilia Mourmets," (Gliere;) "Three Palms," (Spendiarov;) "The Phantotms," (Jurassovsky;) "Hyrcus Nocturnus" and Suite "In the Sun," (Vassilenko;) "Child Life Suite," (Konyus;) "The Enchanted Realm," (Tscherepnin;) vocal quartette, "Night," (Tschaikowsky;) dance from the opera, "A Life for the Czar," (Glinka;) Humoresque for four bassoons, (Prokofieff;) Symphony No. 1, (Stravinsky); "Prometheus," or "Hymn of Fire," with a colored light keyboard, known as the "Cliaviere a lumiere," or "Tastieri per luce."

Richmond Plays Role in Picture at Alhambra

Lack of funds while attending college placed Warner Richmond on the stage and eventually landed him in the motion pictures. He had planned to become a teacher of English and was pursuing that course at the University of Virginia when his money ran out. He had acted in college dramatics, so turned to the stage for a livelihood. Today he is a noted figure on the screen. He plays an important part in "The Making of O'Malley," in which Milton Sills is starred, at the Alhambra.

"The Making of O'Malley" is the screen adaptation of Gerald Beaumont's recent magazine story of the same title. Dorothy Mackaill is Sills's leading woman.

'Keep Fit,' Says Harold Lloyd of 'Freshman' Fame

This is the opinion of Harold Lloyd, whose hilarious comedy, "The Freshman," is now showing at the Million Dollar Theater. The be-spectacled comedian adheres to no special rules for keeping in condition, for he declares that what might seem rules to others, are habits to him—all in the natural order of the day.

In filming "The Freshman" Lloyd was tackled by twenty football players in succession, and, as the tackles will indicate on the screen, each was performed in a manner typical of any big football game. He was thrown by numerous players and trampled upon by eleven men, only to arise and withstand the many knocks and bruises he might have had.

"Our Gang" to Stage Act at Metropolitan

"Our Gang" is once more on tour!

The famous Hal Roach kids will climb into their train today and journey down to the Metropolitan Theater, where they will appear personally tonight on the stage in a surprise act. They will be escorted by Robert McGowan, their director.

WILL BROWN STARTS ON "PAPER FACES" SCRIPT

Saturday morning saw the first scene of "Poker Faces" set down on paper in Mel Brown's office at Universal City. Brown, known as one of the best scenarists of humorous subjects in the business, was given this coveted novel of Edgar Franklin's because of his splendid work in connection with "The Goose Woman," at the Forum this week, and his script of "Where Was I?" which is receiving favorable comment in the East. Brown's last script was "What Happened to Jones," from the George Broadhurst play, and has just been completed with Reginald Denny starring.

Brown assured Director Harry Pollard that the script of "Poker Faces" would be ready in a week, and from Brown's past reputation shooting will begin just at that time. An all-star cast will be seen in "Poker Faces."

YIDDISH THEATER TO OPEN NEXT SUNDAY

The Capitol Theater, 334 South Spring street, will open as a first-class legitimate Yiddish playhouse on Sunday evening. The premiere attraction will be "The Rabbi's Homestead," an operetta in three acts.

The entire Capitol cast will participate in this production, scheduled to show also on Wednesday and Friday evenings, Saturday matinee and evening, and Monday evening, the 28th inst.

A special chorus and ballet will appear in "The Rabbi's Homestead." It is expected that the Mayor of Los Angeles will attend the opening.

F.B.O. PLAYERS START ON "MIDNIGHT FLYER"

F.B.O. celebrated Admission Day by sending out one of the largest companies in many months to shoot the first location scenes for "The Midnight Flyer," a railroad melodrama by Arthur Guy Empey. Director Tom Forman took a group of more than 100 players and extras into the high Sierras, behind Big Bear.

The cast for "The Midnight Flyer," which has just been completed, includes among the principals Dorothy Devore, Cullen Landis, Guddy Post, Charles Malles, Barbara Tennant, Claire McDowell, Elmo Billings, Alphons Ethier and Frankie Darro. Sam Nelson has been engaged to assist Mr. Forman, while Harry Perry will grind first camera.

MONTY BRICE PREPARES

After several years as gagman and comedy scenarist, Monty Brice has been signed by Clarence Badger, Paramount director, to assist him in the comedy construction of the Raymond Griffith picture which is now being made. Brice is learning much in this association to prepare him for his own debut as a director in the next two months. He will then direct a story of his own.

FINISH "NORTH STAR" WITH STRONGHEART

Under the supervision of Howard Estabrook the finishing touches have been filmed on "North Star," the novel by Rufus King, in which Strongheart, the screen's wonder dog, is the star performer. This story is the first of a new series in which the intelligent canine will appear for Mr. Estabrook. It was directed by Paul Powell, with Virginia Lee Corbin and Stuart Holmes in prominent roles. Most of the picture was made on location at Arrowhead Lake.

"North Star" is the fifth production to star Strongheart, as it has been the policy of Miss Jane Murfin, owner of the animal, to limit his appearances to one picture a year. However, under the new arrangements he will make three pictures annually, all of which will be distributed through Associated Exhibitors.

CLEVER ARTISTS

Florence Lewis and Adele Kellogg, prologue dancers, who have been contributing their vivacious numbers to several of the local motion-picture houses, are skilled in the art of batik. With them, as art director, is Barbara Nouner a graduate of the local high schools, who is assisting them with some striking new costume and stage effects soon to be introduced at Loew's State Theater.

SAM ALLEN BUSY

Sam Allen is busy at Waldorf studios this week, playing a station master's role in "The Midnight Limited," a railroad story being picturized by Gerson Productions Company of San Francisco. Between times Sam is rehearsing with Ford West for Orpheum time in a headline act of yesteryear.

EDITH ELLIS TO LONDON

Edith Ellis, author of "White Collars," now showing at the Egan Theater, leaves today for London, where she will attend the opening of Somerset Maughn's "Moon and Sixpence."

HAVE YOU WATCHED
THE LEMON MARKET LATELY

Within the past few days lemons have sold for prices, that with an average crop, would pay the entire cost of the grove in a couple of years. The lemon situation is now in the best shape it has been in many years. Some owners of lemon groves have not yet awakened to this situation.

Over a period of years lemon growing has been one of California's most profitable occupation. Some lemon groves that three or four years ago were considered choice, then $3000 an acre, can be bought today for from $800 to $1200, and on extremely easy terms. These properties should double in value in a short time and pay for themselves out of the crop.

For particulars see HUGH D. COOK CO., 612 Pershing Square Building. Los Angeles.

Last Thursday, thirty-three carloads of lemons sold in over twenty cities at from seven to eleven rooms. Friday, twenty-nine cars sold in twenty cities at from eight to twelve dollars a box.

With such prices lemon groves will no longer be on the market at the low figures we are offering them. This is one of the soundest investments we have offered.

FOR SALE—WALNUT ORCHARD AT PUENTE

"TEN-FOR-ONE" STORIES TODAY

Testimony Will be Started in Purported Swindle

Jury Selected Quickly for Rail "Merger" Trial

Two Promoters Accused on Forty-six Counts

Testimony will start today in the "ten-for-one" railroad merger scheme, for which Harry D. Hibbs and Thomas Hennessey have been indicted, before Superior Judge Hahn, a jury and two alternates having been chosen yesterday in record time.

The jury itself was sworn by 3:30 p.m., after little more than two hours of questioning. Only the first of the forty-six counts in the indictment was read by Court Clerk Williams, as they are all similar and would have meant a tedious hour.

The two promoters are accused in an indictment returned last May after a long investigation of forty-six felony counts, charging larceny by trick and device. The penalty, in the event of conviction, is one to ten years in prison. Chief Trial Deputy District Attorney Fricke and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hamner are prosecuting, and the promoters are being defended by Paul Schenck and Leo Silverstein.

DEFENSE TELLS PLAN

The defense will ask for an instructed verdict of acquittal upon the completion of the prosecution's testimony, Mr. Schenck said yesterday.

"The merger is still going on, so they tell me," said Mr. Schenck, in explanation of his plans.

As sketched by Mr. Fricke the people's case is built on the following assertions: That Hibbs and Hennessey represented to a number of people that for several years they had been working toward the merger of a number of large western railways, under a contract with the Western Pacific Railway of Delaware, parent corporation of the operating company of the same name of California; the deal, they said, had the sanction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and their commission would be 3 1-2 per cent of the total amount involved in the merger, and would amount to more than $200,000,000; thus they promised, for a little money to put it through, to return ten for one, in the event of its consummation, and signed such a contract, termed the "Dickiebird."

"They have been working this scheme for ten years and have collected about $1,000,000," said Mr. Fricke. "We shall place witnesses on the stand, or present depositions obtained from officials of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Western Pacific Company of Delaware, to the effect that no such contract or deal had been sanctioned by them."

JURY PERSONNEL

The jury is as follows: Mrs. W. J. Brizius, 1806 Camden avenue, South Pasadena; Mrs. A. F. Armstrong, 3416 Winslow Drive; Clarence F. Fabrick, Covina; Mrs. Ada G. Lawrence, Lankershim; Daniel U. Huyck, 3359 Kelton avenue, Sawtelle; Edward Franklin Burrell, 11718 Goshen avenue, West Los Angeles; Mrs. Ollie Jane Barragar, Burbank; Mrs. Laura M. Hyatt, 223 May avenue, Monrovia; Miss Helen Elizabeth Symons, 4275 South Harvard Boulevard; Mrs. Elizabeth N. Bond, 542 North Manhattan Place; Richard H. Eliot, 936 West Eighty-first street, and Mrs. Alice M. Ames, 1631 Opeche Way.

Alternates are Ben E. Furlow, 1115 Hope street, South Pasadena, and Mrs. Margaret I. Tomlinson, 984 Fourth avenue.

The prosecution exercised but one peremptory challenge and the defense three.

Judge Hahn sought to shorten the interrogation of the prospective jurors by asking the customary preliminary questions. Mr. Fricke, a radio fan, requested that the court add to the question concerning the reading of newspapers, a phrase devoted to hearing the case discussed on the air.

Mr. Schenck also read a list of the witnesses who appeared before the grand jury last May, and who are expected to testify during the trial. The names included Lawrence McCord, special agent for the Interstate Commerce Commission, former Congressman James McLachlan, who gave the promoters $10,000, but got it back, George L. Eastman, wealthy contractor, J. A. Fraters, merchant, Supervisor Frank Woodley and Ray Chesebro, former Police Court justice.

During the afternoon an air hammer, cutting stone on the new Hall of Justice, practically interrupted questioning of the jury, and at the instance of Judge Hahn Bailiff Hammon put a stop to it, whereupon the trial proceeded in peace.

FORCED TO WAIT ON IMPROVED INCOME

Mrs. Maria J. Dunnigan

PAIR AGREE ON DESIRING PROSPERITY

Wife, With Alimony Cut Because Husband is Poor, Wishes Him Success

Although Mrs. Maria J. Dunnigan and William K. Dunnigan have differed radically on certain details of the home life, with the result that they are facing each other from opposite sides of a divorce suit, they are at one on one proposition. They join in the hope that the afflicted of Los Angeles will wear a deeply grooved path to the door of Dr. Dunnigan.

Dr. Dunnigan, late ignition expert, is preparing to embark upon a career as a chiropractor. Mrs. Dunnigan was in Judge Gates's court yesterday to get an order for alimony pending trial of her divorce suit. Judge Gates said:

"A young professional man, just starting out, is not the best of alimony prospects. For the time being Mrs. Dunnigan will have to get along on $14 a week. When and if the husband realizes on his new work, we will look into the matter of a different allowance, if it is desired."

Dunnigan had just testified that so far his practice of chiropractic had netted him exactly $2.

SINGER FILES CLAIM

Two Weeks Playing in "Pinafore" Declared Unprofitable

George Kunkel, 1124 Tamarind avenue, yesterday filed a claim for $125 wages before State Deputy Labor Commissioner Lowy for appearing in the opera "H. M. S. Pinafore."

In his complaint, Kunkel named the Coast Opera Company and Frank O. Stetzler as its manager and Joseph Rose as a director.

That he sang in "Pinafore" at the Ambassador plunge for two weeks and in return for his services received only a check for $50 which he could not cash, is Kunkel's contention, according to Deputy Lowy.

Citations were issued yesterday for all parties on both sides to appear before Deputy Lowy for a hearing on the 24th inst. at 1 p. m.

BITES OF CAT SEND BOYS TO HOSPITAL

Three boys were taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday suffering from lacerations inflicted by a savage cat nine days ago. Their parents, it was stated, had applied home remedies, but the wounds had failed to heal. The children had been attacked by the animal, believed to have been suffering from distemper, and were badly scratched and bitten. Health Department officers are looking for the cat. The boys are Elvin Himelhoch, 13 years of age, of 6427 Brynhurst avenue; James Moore, 12, 6521 Brynhurst; and Jack Walters, 8, 6426 Brynhurst.

SON SEEKS MRS. FISHER

Mrs. Katherine Fisher, formerly Mrs. Katherine Hanaman, is being sought by her son, Charles Hanaman, 3537 West Twenty-second street, Chicago, according to a letter received yesterday by The Times. Mrs. Fisher recently was married a second time and is believed to be living on Hollywood Boulevard.

ART EXPERT FOUND DEAD

Baron E. R. Von Gersdorff, Agent for Weinschenck, Robbery Victim, Succumbs in Hollywood

Baron E. R. Von Gersdorff, art expert and former German army officer, was found dead in a bathroom in the home of Martin Weinschenck, art collector, at 1632 Martel avenue, Hollywood, yesterday afternoon. Death was caused by a rupture of the main blood vessel leading to the heart, according to Dr. D. M. Walker, who was called to the Weinschenck home.

Von Gersdorff was found lying on the bloodstained bathroom floor by Weinschenck's son, H. G. Weinschency. The Hollywood Police station and the General Hospital were called. All indications point to Von Gersdorff having died a natural death but the Coroner's office has ordered a post-mortem examination.

SCENE OF ART ROBBERY

The Weinschenck home, where Von Gersdorff lived, was the scene of a $485,000 art robbedy last February. Von Gersdorff, among the others, was questioned in this connection but could throw no light on the theft. The Weinschenck home had been looted while the owner, his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Weinschenck, and Von Gersdorff were on a vacation at Catalina.

Seventeen oil paintings, old laces, silver, rugs and statuary to the value of nearly half a million dollars had been carted away. Von Gersdorff was Weinschenck's agent for the sale of art objects, and had been in charge of an exhibition of the Weinschenck collection two months before the robbery.

INTERNED DURING WAR

The baron, who was 58 years of age, had been interned in Canada for a while during the war. He made his escape and came to the United States, which entered the war shortly afterward. Von Gersdorff then was interned at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Coming to Los Angeles, he had acted as sales agent for Germans who wished to dispose of art objects in this country.

Von Gersdorff is said to have relatives in Germany. His body is at the Bagley Undertaking Company, Hollywood Boulevard and Western avenue.

DEATH WINS OVER LOVE AND JUSTICE

Harbaugh Brothers, Who With Grace Jones Were Up on Slave Charge, Are Dead

Death has cheated justice of its plan to press a white slave charge against two youths, and if love was the motive which prompted one of them to violate the law death also robbed him of his aim.

Yesterday United States District Judge Henning closed the case against Amos and Wesley Harbaugh and Grace Jones, who jointly were charged with violating the Mann Act.

The action was on recommendation of Asst. U. S. Atty. Ohanneslan.

"Amos and Wesley Harbaugh are dead," he said, "and we must recommend that the case be dismissed, as it would be virtually an impossibility to convict the Jones woman without the presence of the two men."

The Federal attorney explained to the court that a grand jury indicted the Harbaughs and Grace Jones on July 14, 1923, for transporting Velda Bennell from Pueblo, Colo., to Long Beach.

The files of the United States Attorney's office show that Amos Harbaugh died at Topeka, Kan., March 19, last, of heart trouble, while his brother, Wesley, was killed in a motorcycle accident near Tujunga, May 11, 1924. Wesley is said to have been riding the machine at an excessive rate of speed when a tire burst throwing him into a ditch, almost instantly killing him.

That love might have been the motive which prompted Wesley to violate the law in helping to bring Velda Bennell to California is to be found in a letter the boy wrote to his parents after arriving here. Velda Bennell is 15 years of age, and Wesley was 18. They had known each other three years and evidently planned on marrying when they reached the Coast.

"Well, Velda went back on me," Wesley wrote home a few days before his death. "It wasn't her fault . . . her brother-in-law didn't like me. But . . . I know she still loves me. She cried the night I left her.

"I went down on the beach the other day and met another girl. This one is a society girl. Some girl, but you know how it is to go with one you loved so long."

Wesley's mother might explain the tragedy. She lives in Denver. The father is said to be a member of the Pueblo (Colo.) police force.

LEGION CUP DONATED IN AIR EVENTS

Trophy Worth $10,000 to be Prize in Santa Monica World Flight Contest

Insuring Santa Monica's permanent identification with the start and finish of the 'round-the-world flight, the Santa Monica Post of the American Legion yesterday donated the $10,000 silver trophy that will be the chief incentive of the aerial contest at Clover Field a week from Sunday commemorating the finish of the memorable dash around the world by army planes.

Through the commander of the Santa Monica Legion post, Clifford Henderson, the announcement was made that that organization had accepted the privilege extended by the newly-formed chapter of the National Aeronautic Association, under the auspices of which this and other events of an aeronautic nature will be conducted, to donate the cup.

The trophy is probably the most elaborate and expensive ever offered for an air contest in America, double in value that of the Pulitzer trophy. It is of silver, weighs in excess of thirty-two pounds and stands three and one-half feet high. The trophy will remain in the possession of the local N.A.A. chapter, although replicas of it will go to each year's winner and each year's winner will have his name engraved on the trophy.

The first contest will have fifty to sixty entries, according to John Lyle, head of the contest committee.

SEEK RICH NEWPORT GEM HERE

Detective Gets Word Ring Worth Thousands Brought to City by Thieves

Acting on information received from the East, detectives began a search in Los Angeles last night for a cabuchon emerald ring reputed to be worth $25,000 and at the same time believed they might be able to apprehend the thieves who stole the large stone from its owner.

Detective P. W. Mohan, head of the private detective agency bearing his name, headed the search for the ring, which was described as being set with a fourteen and a half carat emerald, surrounded with more than sixty diamonds.

According to information received by Mohan, the ring was stolen in Newport, R. I., on July 29, last, and investigators there later found clews leading them to believe that the thieves intended to bring their loot to Los Angeles for disposal. A reward of $1000 has been offered for the return of the gem.

INQUEST SET IN FIRE DEATH

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Sept. 15.—An inquest will be conducted at 11 a.m. at the Ives & Warren mortuary into the death of Casterline, painting contractor, who was fatally burned and fire that destroyed his home here early today. It is believed to have been due to ignition of gas in the home in which a heater was located when Casterline tried to light the pilot flame with a match.

Casterline's clothing was burned completely away and not a spot on his body was left unburned by the flaming gas.

The fire in the basement of the house was quickly extinguished, and the property loss was slight.

The dead man leaves his wife, Gertrude; two children, Hayden and George; two brothers, Ben and Casterline, of Los Angeles, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Hall and Mrs. Eva Hewett, also of Los Angeles, Clyde Bowers, Pasadena, and one brother, Ben Casterline, all of Los Angeles, and 50 years of age, was well known in Pasadena, where he had been for many years.
